

DELTA CHI

FRATERNITY

International Week of Service 2021

Service During COVID-19

Delta Chi observes the International Week of Service each year during the week leading up to Founder's Day. More than ever, our mission to advance justice within our communities through giving back is needed. Below are some ideas to help you think about ways to serve your community. As always, all efforts should be in line with campus, local, and state guidelines regarding COVID-19.

- Donate to a local food bank or pantry
  - Local food banks and pantries are always in need. Find one near you at foodpantries.org
- Give blood
  - If your members are willing and able to donate blood, contact your local Red Cross or health commission to find out where to donate.
- Volunteer from home
  - All For Good has developed a list of "volunteer for home" opportunities including literacy support, youth mentorship opportunities and virtual event planning.
- Help a local school
  - Reach out to your local school board to find out how you can support local schools.
- Deliver food to vulnerable populations.
  - Contact your local Meals on Wheels to learn about volunteering to deliver food to those who need it.
- Locate and contact your State Service Commission
  - Your State Service Commission can provide you with a number of different opportunities

Tell us about your service

Highlight your efforts on social media using #DeltaChiServes or by tagging @deltachihq on Instagram (during or after Week of Service) and you may be featured on Delta Chi's social media outlets! Check out deltachi.org/giving-back for info on reporting your service.