Correction —
Concerning the plane on the cover of the March issue of the Quarterly. Using the information sent us by Lt. Blanco's mother, we called the plane a P-51. Her letter notifying us of the error was not received. Two members of the Fraternity, Lt. Livingston Ackert, U.S.N., Union '35, and Pvt. Thomas Graham, U.S.A., Iowa State '46, have advised that the plane is a P-40. Our apologies!

THIS MONTH'S COVER

MONROE MARSH SWEETLAND

Monroe Marsh Sweetland

ON FEBRUARY 12, 1944, occurred the death of Founder Monroe Marsh Sweetland at his home in Ithaca, N. Y. Founder Sweetland was very active in the actual founding of the Fraternity. During the 1889-90 school year, he was a post-graduate student at Cornell, and there was much discussion among the students as to the advisability of organizing a new fraternal organization on the campus. Founder Sweetland had had some fraternal experience in his undergraduate days and was urged to undertake the organization of a new fraternity, but the college year closed without anything definite being done.

In Founder Sweetland's own words: "During the summer months, the agitation for a new fraternity continued and in July it was decided to establish at Cornell a Greek Letter Fraternity having in view a conservative plan of extension among other institutions of good and approved standing. The organization was gradually perfected, but it was not until October 13, 1890, that Delta Chi was formally founded."

The first Delta Chi badge was made by an Ithaca jeweler from a design and drawing furnished by Monroe Sweetland, and that design has never been changed. When the governing body of the new fraternity was organized, Sweetland was placed on the Supreme Council and with Founders Potter and Crandall was authorized to proceed with expansion plans.

In an article on The Founding of the Delta Chi Fraternity which appeared in the first issue of the QUARTERLY, in April, 1903, Founder Sweetland stated:

"As I look back over the early history of our Fraternity I am impressed with the recollection of the remarkable unity and true Fraternal spirit which then prevailed and has always been maintained in the parent Chapter of Delta Chi. We builded better than we knew, and the results have justified our brightest anticipations. Delta Chi has been a force for good and that good has not been confined to its members alone."

Monroe Marsh Sweetland was born in Dryden, N. Y., in 1862. He graduated from Union College at Schenectady with an A. B. degree, from the Albany Law School with the degree LL.B., and from Cornell University with the degree LL.M. He practiced law in Ithaca and was elected city judge in 1908, and county judge and surrogate in 1909. In 1916 he was named U. S. Commissioner for Tompkins County.

Founder Sweetland was a tireless worker for good government and civic ideals. His interest in the Fraternity which he helped organize back in 1890 never flagged and he did not forget his chapter in his will. He attended the 50th Anniversary Convention held at Ithaca in 1940 and was greeted with a rising ovation at the Founders' Banquet at which time the "AA" presented him with a memorial from the Fraternity. Founder Sweetland responded with an account of some of the events surrounding the birth of Delta Chi 50 years before.

At the time of the 50th Anniversary Convention each of the then living founders wrote a message for the QUARTERLY. Founder Sweetland's read as follows:

"It is fitting that at the fiftieth milestone in the history of our Fraternity we stop and consider what has been accomplished and what service we have rendered. We have 34 active chapters in leading colleges and universities in America. More than 10,000 men have come under the benign influence of Delta Chi.

"The teachings of Delta Chi are elevating, its ideals are exalted. The more than 10,000 members of Delta Chi occupying positions of prominence and usefulness in the nation's life, encouraged and enthused by the lofty ideals of our Fraternity, have been and will continue to be enlightened leaders in their communities. They will lead the way to the better life, to the ultimate ideals of Delta Chi. The Fraternity's wonderful success in the past is prophetic of great usefulness

Iowa Fraternity Program

BY C. WOODY THOMPSON

*Illinois '22, Director of Scholarship
Director of Student Affairs, University of Iowa*

A new day is dawning for fraternity men at Iowa at a time when a majority of its chapters are dormant because of the war. The President of the University, Virgil M. Hancher, an alumnus of Iowa and a member of Sigma Nu, has approved a new fraternity program that ought to become a model to be followed by other institutions.

This fraternity bill of rights is an outgrowth of many years of feeling that something ought to be done about the fraternities, and more specifically, it is the work of a Special Committee created by President Hancher to plan for the reactivation of the fraternities in the postwar period. Brother O. K. Patton, Iowa '12, has been its chairman from the beginning.

In its deliberations, the Committee has attempted to study all phases of the fraternity situation. Before long, several facts began to stand out as obvious. First, the majority of the sixteen social fraternities were dormant. Until recently, no chapter was occupying its own house because the University had rented all of them for use by the ASTP students. Second, no active chapter was particularly strong, and the usual mature leadership was entirely lacking. During the school year in the near as well as the distant future. Delta Chi by service has accomplished success, its future is assured.

"I was touched and strengthened by the numerous communications I received from chapters and members of the Delta Chi Fraternity on our October Anniversary. It shows a splendid fraternal feeling and loyalty to the Fraternity and its purposes. It indicates an active interest on the part of our members as well as a realization of the purposes and ideals of Delta Chi. I am profoundly grateful."

1943-44, several groups had rented temporary quarters, but by the close of the second semester, all but one of them had closed. Thus, the most obvious move would have been to suspend all further pledging and initiation. The Special Committee was ready to do this, but did not because of the suspicions that might have been aroused as to its fundamental motives. Let it be clearly understood that such a closure order would be justified at Iowa, and would have been a logical step in carrying out the committee assignment.

Omitting the closure order as a logical initial step, the first announcement looking towards the reactivation of fraternities came on April 15, 1944. On that day, by approval of President Hancher, the Committee issued a comprehensive statement on fraternities in which were set forth:

1. The conditions under which a chapter would be permitted to operate after the close of the spring semester on April 22, 1944;
2. The new relationship that fraternities would have in the university educational pattern and the advantages that would accrue therefrom; and,
3. The fundamentals of the re-affirmed university-fraternity relationship.

Examining these in order, any fraternity is to be allowed to operate a chapter house (1) if it has the written approval of its alumni advisers and house corporation officers, (2) if it agrees to abide by all university regulations including the employment of a house-mother and (3) if it can show financial data that "reasonably warrant the assumption that the chapter can operate successfully as a student housing unit and living group." (4) The final and most important stipulation requires the group to agree to use the accounting and bookkeeping services of the Fraternity Business Service (established in 1934 and supported voluntarily by a majority of the Iowa groups), and to agree to the collection of its house bills by the University Business Office.

In exchange for the assumption of these obligations, the University "reaffirms its recognition of the fraternity living groups and their houses not only as an essential part of the housing facilities of the University but also as an integral part of the University academic and social life." Thus, the University pledges itself to assist in the maintenance of an adequate membership in each of the chapters and to cooperate in the carrying out of the purposes of the local interfraternity council. To accomplish this reaffirmation and pledge, the University commits itself to the following policies:

First, it agrees to give publicity to fraternity housing facilities on the same basis as that given its dormitories and cooperative dormitories, and to show fraternity house bills and dormitory bills on a comparable basis.

Second, the University agrees to "permit transfer of pledges from dormitory and cooperative groups to chapter houses without penalty." This feature becomes effective after the war when the University dormitories are once more operated as student residences.

Third, the University agrees to administer all forms of student aid — loans, scholarships, and employment — without regard to fraternity membership.

Fourth, the University pledges itself to confer with fraternity leaders and alumni before adopting changes in fraternity policies and regulations. Specifically, an Alumni Interfraternity Committee is to be created for the purpose of soliciting the advice and judgment of mature fraternity leaders.

The statement of the fundamentals upon which this program is based deserves full quotation.

The above regulations are based upon the policy of the University:

(1) To integrate the fraternity system into the general University student housing and group living program. University dormitories, cooperatives, and fraternity houses are each to be considered as constituting an integral part of the general plan of University housing and group living and every effort will be expended to insure full occupancy of all group living and quarters whether University or fraternity owned.

(2) To assure, in so far as is possible, solvent, successful and effective operation on the part of each individual fraternity chapter as a housing unit and living group.

(3) To maintain different types of living groups so that each student after the War may have a choice of dormitory, cooperative, or fraternity group living as a part of his educational program in order that he may utilize non-classroom time in such a way as to supplement the work of the classroom in his individual development.

Two significant facts stand out in this fraternity program. First, most of the real and imaginary grievances of the fraternity men against the University have been removed. No longer can it be said that the chapter facilities have been ignored and that fraternity members are discriminated against solely because of that membership.

From now on, the University catalogue and all bulletins describing University housing facilities will give adequate space to chapter house facilities and show their costs on a basis comparable to dormitory costs. No longer will there be printed the statement: "This form of aid is not available to pledges or members of a fraternity." Most important to the maintenance of adequate membership is the feature permitting transfer of men from dormitory to chapter house without penalty. This definitely favors those groups with available space. Heretofore, a dormitory resident was held to his contract for the school year unless he could find an acceptable replacement.

The second fact behind this announcement is of a positive nature. The University recognizes the essential role of the small living group. In support of this recognition the president of the University has directed his administrative associates to do certain things. In short, the doors of these organizations have been in effect opened to a "poor man's son as well as a rich man's son." The former "if he is able to finance it and so desires" may now have the opportunity to fraternity living as a part of his educational experience.

In exchange for these advantages, the fraternities have surrendered nothing of value. Each group is free to choose its pledges as it sees fit and to induct them after proper apprenticeship into life-long membership. Each group as before will build its own organization, including the selection of a housemother. The same regulations will apply now as applied formerly. If there be any difference, it will be in the expectation of their better observance.

In exchange, the University demands only that each group participate in a long-established business service that each pledge and member pay his housebill at the same office and in the same way as the dormitory resident. One thing is certain. No man is entitled to acquire the poor financial habits that have too often characterized the fraternity man. To the dormitory man, the board and room bill comes first, and that experience should be shared without exception by all University students.

In summary, the fraternity alumni members on and around the Iowa campus endorse enthusiastically the Iowa fraternity bill of rights. They are looking forward to a new day when the war ends. They believe that there is now a basis whereby every one of our sixteen national social groups can survive and prosper. Finally, most of them hope that this is but a first step in the direction of the complete integration within the University educational program of every phase of fraternity life. The step already taken concerns principally chapter business management. The next step or steps must encompass the social and educational aspects of fraternity life and living.

Vraciu Makes Headlines

Reprinted, by permission, DePauw Alumnus, April, 1944

ALEX VRACIU, '41, is still doing things in a big way. Latest reports are that Lt. (j.g.) Alexander Vraciu, Jr. has nine Jap planes to his credit. The row of miniature rising suns makes a nice border to the sill of the cockpit cover of his Grumman "Hellcat" fighter.

Vraciu is as much of a surprise to his fellow pilots as he was to his fellow students at DePauw. His squadron mates relate with amazement his prowess as a fighter and his ability to return home with not a scratch on his plane. But the Japs who got in his gun sights can't say the same. He got four in one day and three in another, and turned down a chance to return to the United States with his carrier teammates because he would rather fight than go on leave.

He was one of the first students to enroll in the DePauw Flying Club, but it was flying of a different sort that catapulted him to fame on the DePauw campus and provided copy for the newspapers. During one of Professor Paul J. Fay's final examinations in adolescent psychology, Vraciu "cracked" under the strain and leaped out a second story window. Coeds screamed and the shaken professor and the class rushed to the window. They found Vraciu sitting in a tarpaulin held by his Delta Chi fraternity brothers. He had pulled the fake suicide in retaliation to Fay for some of the fake fights the professor had staged in the classroom to test the observatory powers of his students.

While an ensign in flight training in California, his ship collided with another plane in midair and he and his companion became members of the "Caterpillar Club" when they parachuted to safety.

Vraciu reports that Mark Bright, an old DePauw friend, is in the same outfit. Lt. Bright is credited with seven Jap ships. Lt. Commander "Butch" O'Hare, missing since November 27, 1943, was Vraciu's superior officer, and he writes his mother that he is getting these Japs for "Butch."

He has been in the Southern Pacific since June 15, 1943, having received his training at Corpus Christi, Texas, San Diego, California, and Melbourne, Florida.

At DePauw Vraciu was a Rector scholar and a letterman on the football, track, and tennis teams. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Vraciu, Sr., 3553 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Chicago, Indiana.

Reporters are already spotting Vraciu as a name to watch for. He was O'Hare's wing man for five months, and the old master taught him lots of tricks.

He got his first Zero at Marcus Island on August 31, 1943, while he and O'Hare and two other pilots were strafing and sinking a Jap tanker. He was scoreless at Rabaul, but at Tarawa he shot down a two motored bomber. At Roi and Namur, the northern islands of Kwajalein atoll, Vraciu shot down three more. Then came Truk.

Lieut. Fitzpatrick, managing editor on leave of the New Orleans States, who has just returned to the United States after several months duty in the Pacific, wrote a feature article on Vraciu in which he reports him as saying, "Truk was a little different. They were waiting upstairs for us. We all went in in one group and circled at about 13,500 feet looking for planes. Anti-aircraft fire had our level right on, but not our course. Most of the rest started down to strafe the field, but before I nosed over I looked over my shoulder to see if anything was on my tail, and it was lucky I did. Two of five Zeros were making a run on me. I played loop-the-loop with them till finally there were only two — the others had gone off — and I got on one's tail and rode him down to the water and blew him up at about 100 feet. I climbed back up and there were parachutes all over the sky. Next I saw a seaplane and he started diving for the water, and he made it, all right, but he made it in flames.

"I started climbing and saw a Zero skirting a cloud. I waited outside until he thought I had gone, and when he couldn't see me in the sun I hit him and he went down.

"My last one that day was another Zero. I chased him down to 25 feet and one of his wings hit the water and he skidded along." That made four victories in twenty minutes.

Vraciu likes Bettys, the Jap plane which is either a bomber or torpedo plane.

"Why? Because they told me it was a Betty that got Butch O'Hare. I'm after Bettys, I'll tell the world that. I'd go after a Betty any day in preference to any other plane because of Butch. You see, Butch taught me how. I'd give up anything just to fly wing on Butch again. He taught me plenty."

It's a far cry from the campus at DePauw to the air in the South Pacific, and there's a big difference between collecting rising suns to decorate his cockpit cover and collecting autographs on the plaster cast of his broken leg — the broken leg that was Gaumy Neal's first thought when he heard that Alex had dived out the window. But Alex is still in the Pacific, still hunting Japs. If we know Alex Vraciu, the reporters will have plenty of copy.

Alumni Dues

BECAUSE of the small number of undergraduate members of the Fraternity in active chapters this year, a special appeal was made to all members of the Fraternity not in active chapters to pay their Alumni Dues. The response was excellent. Over 1,700 members paid their annual dues, and 19 paid their Alumni Dues for life. The new "lifers" are:

EDWARD W. ALLEN, Washington '09
C. EDWARD ANDERSON, Michigan State
JULES BILLARD, Texas '38
R. G. BOYD, Syracuse '10
F. E. CAMPBELL, Oregon State '24

F. D. GRAHAM, Kansas '25
ED KAUFMANN, Cornell '42
WILBUR KLAPP, JR., Penn State '24
GLEN LERCH, Wisconsin '26
WILLARD LEVAN, JR., Washington '46
ROBERT LUTHI, Purdue '41
MARSHALL MCCOMB, Stanford '17
RICE W. MILLER, Wisconsin '26
J. R. PARTEN, Texas '17
BERNHARD SHAFFER, Penn State '25
R. A. SHEPHERD, Texas '19
J. P. STRODE, Oklahoma '45
FREDERICK WEYBRET, Stanford '44
G. M. WILLIAMS, Iowa State '29

Of the above, Robert Luthi and Ed Kaufmann are serving with the army overseas. Three others, G. M. Williams, Frederick Weybret, and Willard LeVan, Jr., are in the armed forces in this country. Bernhard Shaffer is in New Guinea.

Several members have already paid their dues for next year. July 1st — the beginning of the 1944-45 fiscal year — is not far away. Your dues will be welcome at any time.

In the Service

COMMANDER RAYMOND E. DANIELS, Stanford '19, who has had charge of mine-sweeping from Pearl Harbor to Midway for nearly three years, is having his first home leave in that time. He expects soon to return to a more advanced base in the Pacific theatre. While in Los Angeles he was guest at a University Club luncheon given by Sloan Flack, Stanford '15, at which other Stanford Deltas present were Sam Lindauer '10, Ed Pugh '11, James E. Shelton '12, George W. Dryer '02, Gail Larkin '12, Art Daniels '15, Judge Marshall McComb '17, and Ted Reeve '13.

LT. COMMANDER JIM KEEFER, California '34, who commanded a mine sweeper in Ray Daniels' mine force at Pearl Harbor, is now in command of a large and more important naval vessel in the Pacific area. Both Jim and Ray had thrilling experiences in the Jap blitz of Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941.

ROBERT L. (BOB) DENNIS, first "A" of the U.C.L.A. Chapter, has recently completed the course of the Command School, Fort Leavenworth, and has been promoted to major. He will be with the Adjutant General's Office in Washington, D. C.

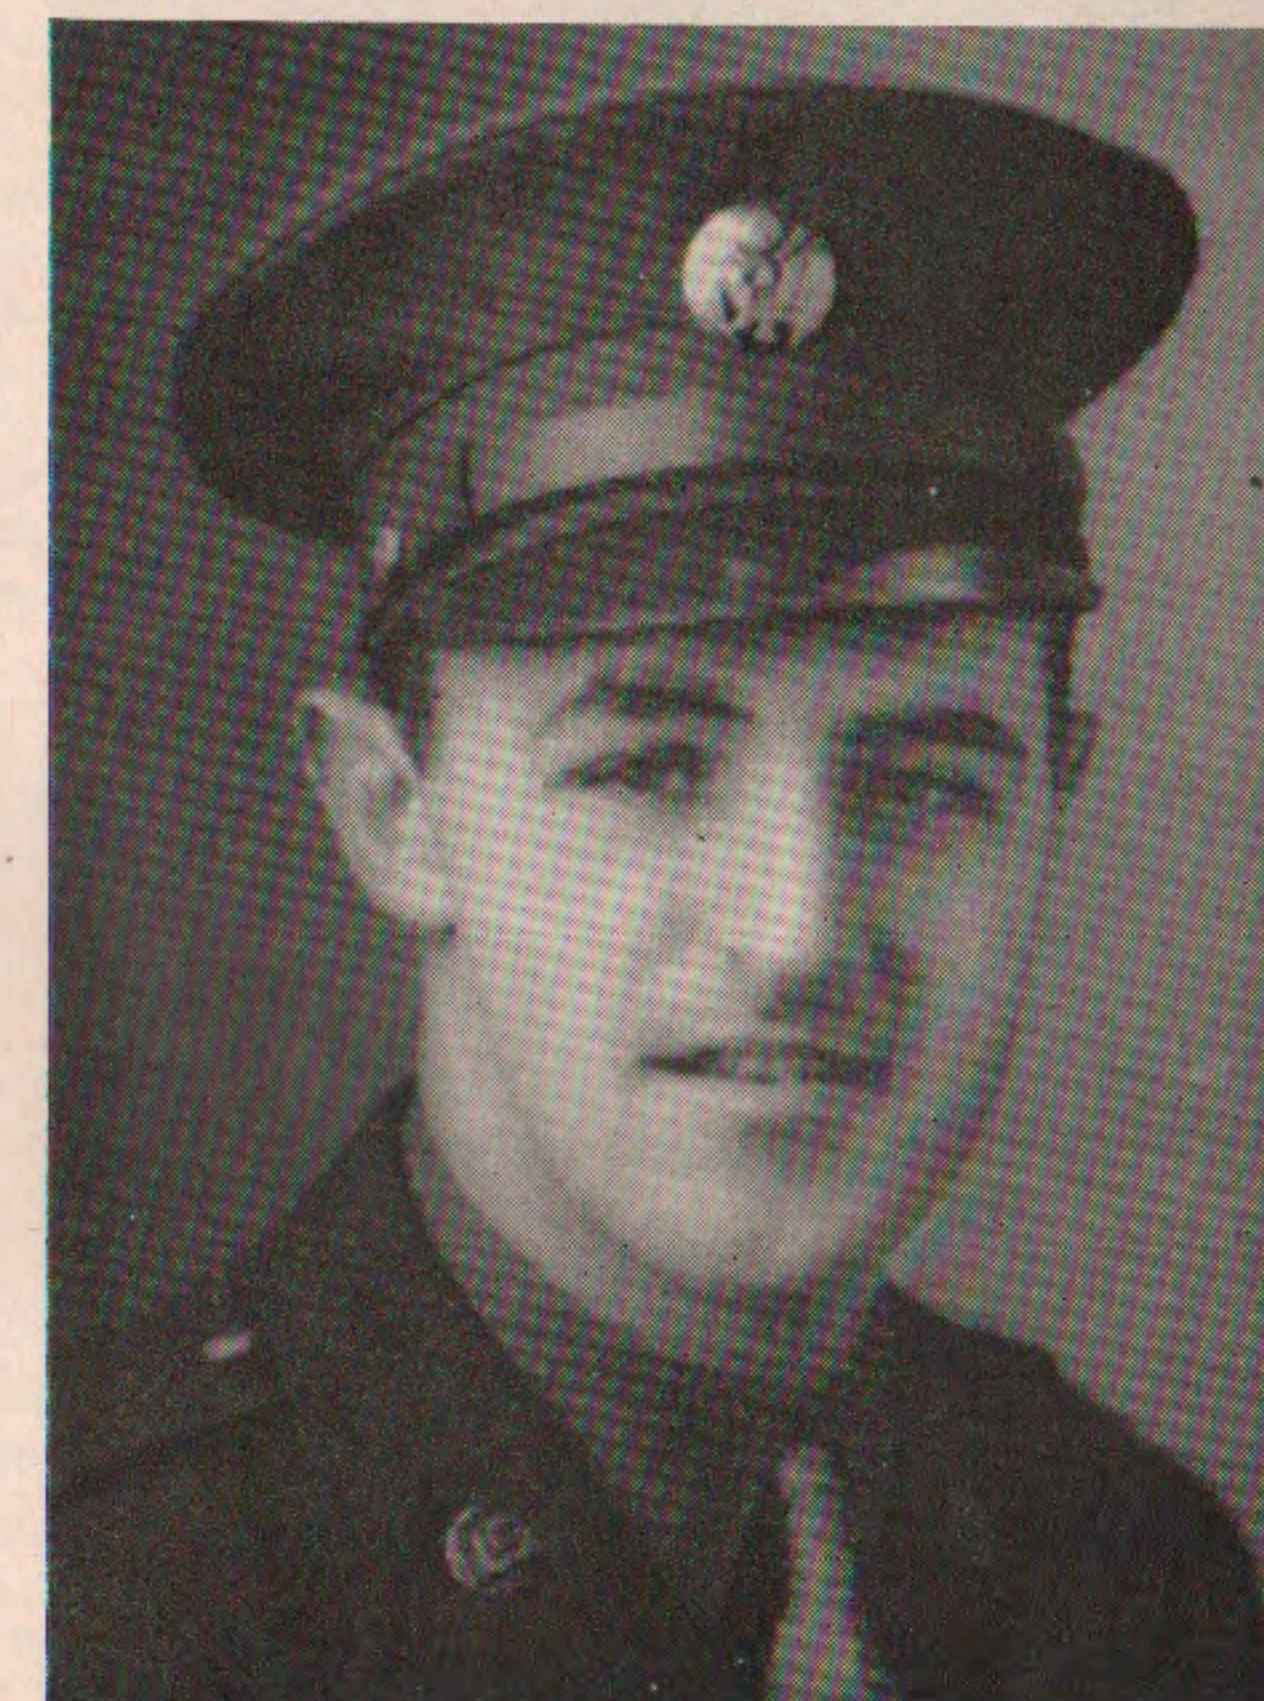

LT. ROBERT C. RANDALL, Cornell '41, pilot of a B-17, stationed in England, was shot down over Germany in January, and is now a prisoner of the German Government. The only direct word his parents have had with Bob was sent January 14th, three days after he was shot down, but did not reach them until March 23rd. On it he said he was "well, comfortable, and very lucky."

LT. JOHN H. GASKILL, Oklahoma '42, is engineering officer with a heavy bombardment squadron somewhere in Italy.

A recent article in Air Force, the official magazine of the Army Air Forces, entitled "That First Mission" read, "Flyers who are wondering about their first taste of combat may be interested to know that LT. WALTER SCHOLL, JR., Cornell '41, on his first combat mission, shot down a thirty-five year old veteran who had been decorated seven times. The action took place in North Africa. The German flew a ME 109G, Scholl a P-40."

From the Des Moines Sunday Register for March 12, 1944: "LT. DALE C. ALLEN, Iowa '27, of Newton, Iowa, stationed in the Middle East, frightened the natives when he popped a shipment of corn received from home."

With the Chapters

DePauw. Since last spring, the DePauw chapter has maintained a news-letter by which we keep in touch with one another. All of the brothers write to George Bedell, '44, who is living at home while in the Army unit attached to the medical college at the University of Cincinnati. About every two months George edits this correspondence and mails to us the mimeographed news-letter with news and addresses of the brothers.

We have elected new officers, pro tem. These will be elected officially at the next chapter meeting: Jim Baldwin, "A"; Ben Crue, "B"; Tom Magsino, "C" and "E"; John Smith, "D"; and Bill Thompson, "F".

After fraternity rush we took six pledges, which is now an average number here at DePauw; Jim Barber, Washington, Indiana; Dan Cloud, Carroll, Illinois; Ken Etcheson, Bainbridge, Indiana; Ernie Hepp, Mounds, Illinois; George Nesheim, Jefferson, Iowa, and Lee Wood, Fresno, California. They were pledged in a formal ceremony attended by two brothers attached to the University faculty, H. S. Myers, instructor in the naval pre-flight school here, and E. R. Bartlett, dean of the university; the ceremony was followed by a banquet.

Last semester, the Delta Chis had the highest scholarship average on campus. It was 2.02 (2.0 is B, 3.0 is A), and the highest in the history of DePauw. (This, with all our civilian members carrying part-time jobs, and all the V-12 members carrying 18 academic hours or more.)

Social activities are somewhat curtailed since all but four of our actives and pledges are in the V-12 unit here, but we have had several bowling parties and picnics. April 22 we had a formal dance with the Kappas, at their house.—Tom Magsino, "E".

Idaho. Although the Idaho Chapter is inactive this year, a number of the members suggested that the "BB" write up the chapter news to keep the boys posted. The Idaho chapter house is vacant, the doors are locked and shades drawn. There are no Delta Chis in school at this time.

Earl Chandler, the last "A" at Idaho, was on the campus for a few months during midwinter. He was stationed here in the Army Unit so he lived with the other soldiers in Forney Hall. Earl got married just before he left. He married Kathleen Jones, of Malad, Idaho. She remained in school after Earl left.

Russell Stark, former house manager, was in town three weeks ago. He came here on a vacation. We wandered thru the empty house and it was amusing to see how he enjoyed it, even though it was vacant.

Keith Parks, now Lt. Parks, dropped in also while on a furlough. He looked swell with his new wings. He had seen a number of the fellows in California, looking up the boys whose addresses he had.

A number of the Delta Chis have written to the chapter. V-mail letters arrived from Lt. Bob McLaughlin, Lt. Gerald Price, and Lt. Fremstad. A number of letters have come from Ensign Gridley-Rowles.

To all of you, thanks a lot for your continued interest in our affairs. Some of you have been sending money to apply on your accounts. For that we are doubly thankful. We will keep the organization running until you fellows get back. We are keeping bills paid up. Mr. Kenworthy and Dean Howard are here to help when things get tough. The house looks very much the same. I go thru it once a week to inspect everything, and when you fellows come back we will have a big welcome sign over our door.—H. Walter Steffens, "BB".

Miami. It's spring again, and the Miami Chapter of Delta Chi is still on the campus. At the end of the last semester there was speculation as to whether this was even a possibility, but the return of many actives in the V-12 unit stationed here insured us of an active chapter. The following new officers were elected: Walter Troutman, "A"; Norman Rowe, "B"; William Sowers, "C"; Albert C. Foreman, "D"; Harry Kettlewell, "F". The former "A", Robert Strauss, has been transferred from the V-12 program here to an advanced unit at Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Lafayette, Louisiana.

Jack Davis, who is in the V-12 unit here was pledged at the last meeting. Jack is from Marion, Ohio, and was a student here at Miami last year.

Last month there were a few of those balmy days that remind former Miamians of those week-end picnics that are so much fun even now that the manpower shortage has hit us so hard. We may be few in number, but we still have the old get-up and go, so the actives and pledges and their dates went on one of those outings. Plans are being made for more of them since this first one was such a success.

With the closing of the Army's training program most of the brothers have been sent back to camp to await overseas duty. Bill Fletcher, '45 is now in Camp Gruber, Oklahoma. Bruce Brainard, '45 has left the University of Connecticut to return to Camp Picket, Va. Bob Warrick, '45 was one of those lucky fellows who was in advanced engineering, and is still at the University of Kentucky. On the Navy side Bob Ross, '44 will receive his commission as Ensign on April 19 at Wellesley, Mass. Jay Wise, '44, will soon receive his bars and wings at Turner Field, Georgia.

As the present school year draws to a close we can only speculate on next year's plans. We know that Delta Chi is strong enough to weather the storm that now covers all campuses, so we have high hopes. — William H. Sowers, "C".

Michigan State. The Michigan State College Chapter is carrying on and keeping up the Fraternity standing. At the end of last term James Norman Sitar, Grayden Forrer and Robert Earl Price were initiated into the Fraternity. The Chapter is still pledging and will continue to do so even under the wartime conditions. In general we of the Michigan State College Chapter are doing everything possible to keep the Fraternity going so that the Delta Chi Fraternity will always maintain its standing as one of the leading fraternities on this campus.

Letters addressed to Joseph F. Lacchia, 532 Glenmoor Rd., Lansing, Michigan, will always reach the fraternity. — William B. Thielicke, "C".

Penn State. "Calling Delta Chi, calling Delta Chi!" — and there are still some Delta Chis left at Penn State to answer that call. We may not be large in number, but we are still in there punching. We have been depleted somewhat by having our prexy, Art Christman, leave for naval training, and Dick Bernhard, a pledge, leave for service in the army. But their places have been filled by pledges Bill Clark and John Sloan, both sophomores and eligible for initiation in a few weeks, along with Don Sorber, the only remaining pledge from the previous semester.

We have been well represented in sports by Bob Shadley and Phil Schumacher. Bob was a varsity wrestler and saw action in all of Penn State's meets. Phil was a member of the ice hockey team, and although the team only played two games, he made a good showing. On the managing side of sports, Don Sorber was a basketball manager, and John Sloan was a boxing manager.

"Chick" Bounds visited the old homestead recently and looked very handsome in his second lieutenant's uniform. He has just received his commission in the Air Corps, and is now awaiting his orders. Floyd Eberts is now one of Uncle Sam's famous infantrymen.

On the romantic side: Caroline Fisher and George Peyton were married last December.

On April Fool's Day we rolled back the rugs and held a "vic" dance. Guests were surprised to find a crew of coat checkers consisting of Mssrs. Dereich, Emery, and McCloskey. Although there were only twenty couples present, everyone had a swell time.

Another novelty that has started this semester is the "Delta Chi Productions". Bill Clark, a movie camera fiend, has taken several reels of the house and members. Bill plans to have a huge premier and show the movies to a few selected guests.

Elections were held and out of them came the following new officers: John Dereich, "A"; Bob Shadley, "C"; Bob McCloskey, "E"; Alden Emery, "B" and "F".

We are still in high hopes of pledging several more fellows and really getting our chapter back on its feet. — Bob McCloskey, "E".

Rollins. I shall try to give you what news I have at hand about the boys from our chapter — either in the service or in civilian jobs. Carl Fowler, with an excellent fellowship in a dramatic school in Chicago, decided to give it up and return to his old alma mater where faculty Brother Cartwright offered him a job back stage in the famous Annie Russell Theatre here. Carl is in good hopes of securing a permanent position on the faculty of the dramatic department next fall.

Ivor Groves dropped in for an afternoon. He is now stationed in Miami, Okla., as an air cadet. He is one of the few United States air cadets picked to train with the RCAF.

Manny Ehrlich, our first "A", is now on the Pacific coast awaiting those orders that will carry him out to fight the Japs first hand.

Clay Grimstad is stationed but a few miles from here, but for some reason or other we have not been able to see him as yet. I have been made to understand through the "grape vine" system that there is a girl connected with his lack of interest in his old college and so have decided to forgive him.

Lamar Simmons, connected with the medical corps and stationed in Springfield, Mo., is at the present moment home visiting both his parents and Rollins. Last Sunday, he took over his old job as leader of the college choir in place of the new leader, Dick Potter, our present "A". Even with months of no practice he did a very good job.

Dick Potter is studying into the early hours of the morning in an attempt to graduate before his deferment is up. By the way, he is engaged to Marnie Shrewsbury, Brother Rankin's sister. As for me, I am still continuing to plug along working for my diploma in General Human Relations. Although I am still officially manager of the varsity swimming team, there is no team so I only am manager in name alone. Fortunately, when the administration decided to make all fraternities inactive, they gave us the right to retain our seats on student council as long as we have a person eligible to hold it. For the past year, I have been Delta Chi member and am to continue to be next year.

Faculty Brother Vestal was quite sick this past winter from a stomach ailment, but after weeks in the hospital, is now back on the job teaching biology here.

Hoping for the continued good service of all Delta Chi men in the service and for the rapid expansion of our fraternity after this conflict is victoriously ours. — Frank Sussler, "C".

Luther L. Boger, Ohio State '14, is an attorney with offices at 8 Broad St., Columbus, Ohio; Howard B. Lape, Ohio State '28, is a shoe manufacturer connected with the Julian-Kokenge Co. in Columbus, Ohio; C. M. Gibson, Ohio State '24, is an attorney with the firm of Gibson & Clienn at 9 E. Long St., Columbus, Ohio.

This and That About Alumni

» On Tuesday, April 25, 1944, the Ohio Society of New York held a banquet in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City, at which Governor John W. Bricker, Ohio State '16, was the honored guest and speaker.

Governor Bricker, one of the non-resident Vice-Presidents of the Society, voiced his views on foreign policy and was roundly applauded by some 600 cheering members of the Society and their friends.

Delta Chi was represented by Roger Steffan, a former roommate of Governor Bricker, Harry A. Carr and R. L. Fuller from Ohio State; John Kuhn and Victor Borst from Cornell; Reynolds Pomeroy from Chicago-Kent; Reuben T. Carlson from Georgetown; George Shiya from Columbia; and John A. Lyon and Fred G. Weisser from N. Y. U.

All the Delts were introduced to Brother Bricker by Harry A. Carr, a resident Vice-President of the Club, and one of the ardent Bricker backers of New York. Harry is not one of the boys who frequents the "smoke-filled room" and comes out with a candidate but he is working hard for Bricker.

» Hugh V. Bodine, Cornell '10, was sworn in on January 7th as Chautauqua County, N. Y., judge and surrogate by his brother, former judge George F. Bodine.

» Elden McFarland, California '17, left Washington, D. C., May 1st to practice law in Boston. He is now associated with the firm of Nutter, McClennen & Fish and specializes in taxes.

» Leonard Brueckner, Purdue '44, and Edw. Carpenter, Purdue '44, are with Bell Aircraft Corp. in Buffalo, N. Y. Harrison Simon, Purdue '39, is with John D. Adams Machinery Const. Co. in Indianapolis.

» Clark Cypher, Stanford '26, is now at Jedda, Saudi-Arabia. Much to his surprise on February 22nd on a visit to Cairo he met Harvey Lytel, Stanford '24. Harvey was on his way to this country.

» Richard L. Harkness, Kansas '28, broadcasts over N.B.C. five nights a week to discuss and interpret the behind-the-scenes moves in wartime Washington and on the home front. One of the few real news analysts, he has become known as the commentator's commentator.

» Since his discharge from the Army, William Flener, Washington '45, has entered the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

» Charles A. Barker, Jr., Stanford '15, Vice-President and Treasurer of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, is justifiably proud of the production record of that company, and particularly of the performance of the famed Lightning fighter.

» Edward A. Miller, Cornell '37, was recently elected a member of the Cornell Chapter of the Society of Sigma Xi, national research honorary in science.

» Dr. Wilbur H. Nistrath, Arizona '25, at present is an engineer at Douglas Aircraft in Santa Monica, California.

» Charles B. Hardy, DePauw '40, for three years has been employed by the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., now 100% engaged in war production, holder of the Army-Navy "E", doing statistical and contractual work in the War Products Division.

» Stephen H. Spurr, Florida '38, is acting director of Harvard Forest, Harvard University, Petersham, Mass., which specializes in camouflage research for the army.

» Irvin W. Schoeninger, Illinois '28, is a ceramic engineer engaged in research and development of ceramic radio parts for the Signal Corps of the Navy.

» Glenn Saha, Iowa State '40, is layout aircraft controls engineer at Glenn L. Martin Co. in Baltimore.

» R. Joseph Kee, Kentucky '32, is with the "H" Plant Personnel Dept. of the Aluminum Co. of America in Cleveland, Ohio.

» Bill Faxon, Stanford '40, has recently become associated with the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. in San Francisco under George Stratton, Stanford '22. Bill was previously with the Montana Power Co. at Billings, Montana.

» Thos. Ed Kee, Kentucky '35, is an industrial sales engineer with Owens-Corning Fiberglas, 100% manufacturers of Army, Navy, and Air Force materials.

» Jack E. Orr, Michigan '28, is manager of accounts payable and reimbursements of the Sangamon Ordnance Plant at Illiopolis, Illinois.

» George H. Rowe, Jr., N.Y.U. '21, is in charge of employee services at the Fairchild Aircraft Corp., Hagerstown, Maryland. He is on leave of absence from his government position of administrative officer of the Social Security Board.

» Albert Von Wiegen, N.Y.U. '11, is vice-president of Gundlach Mfg. Corp., which manufactures binoculars and lenses for the armed forces. The corporation received the Army-Navy "E" flag in November 1942.

» Albert T. Pitman, Ohio State '41, is a metallurgist with the Weatherhead Co. in Cleveland.

» John T. Dunn, Penn State '37, is a research and development chemist for the Calco Chemical Division of the American Cyamid Co. in Bound Brook, N. J.

On ACTIVE DUTY

NEW IDENTIFICATION BRACELETS for Men and Women in Service

Men in active fields of service — whether in India, Italy, the E. T. O., or in the islands of the South Pacific — wear Balfour identification bands mounted with their fraternity crest or service insignia, and engraved with name, serial number, and blood type.

Both of the crash tags shown above are made of rugged, soldered links which will stand up under strenuous use on active duty. The panels are heavy and a generous size for engraving.
