In the Bond

by Larry Audlehelm

In recent weeks, several events have caused me to think in some detail about the function of symbols in our lives. Perhaps the single most important event in developing this focus was a telephone call from a chapter president who informed me that several disgruntled brothers wanted to know if the Fraternity was worth the money it was costing them. The standard answer to that question is that, "You get out of it what you put into it. The money simply gives you access to a great group of people you would not otherwise know; it gives you a chance to do something unique with your college career." While all that is undeniably true, the response has always had a hollow ring to me. So his questions gave me pause.

The first problem is that it is impossible to come to college, or to enter the business world, without meeting at least some great people. Dormitories are arranged to facilitate interaction and communication. Discussions groups organized through classes, people in the next apartment or just chance acquaintances can all provide important personal interaction. So, while fraternities and sororities certainly get a fair share of bright and interesting people, they cannot lay a claim to a complete corner on that market. Secondly, getting a return on your efforts is not unique to Greek organizations. Nearly everyone who gives a high evaluation to his/her college experience relates that a large part of that evaluation revolves around deep involvement in extra-curriculars. There can be no question that certain rewards accrue to anyone who plunges him/herself with vigor into organizational experiences.

So what is it that makes Greek life different? Is it, in fact, unique in any way, or is it simply an "alternative life-style" as its apologists are fond of saying? In my mind, the Fraternity experience is a great deal more than an alternative. And that "more" has to do with the symbols of the organization and what those symbols represent in the lives of its members. In our particular case, the primary symbols are two Greek letters, a delta and a chi, which have a significance far beyond what is apparent to the outside observer. Our secondary symbols are a coat-of-arms, badges and pledge buttons. Again, while they may be only "attractive" to the outside observer, these symbols open the doorway to a world of understanding and experience which can be known only by a selected few.

While the people in the organization and their interaction with one another is important, that is something quite aside from this value of fraternal living. There are good people everywhere, but there are only certain people who have been given the opportunity to interact in a very specific way. And that way is symbolized in our name and our outward signs of existence. In this respect, those who are truly aware of the Fraternity realize that its impact on their lives is only partly involved in the people they have met. A second, invaluable, effect of the Fraternity is that it has caused its members to look at life in a way that would not have previously been possible to them — at least it has that effect on those who have the capacity for introspection and thought.

To say that the Fraternity puts one in contact with people is fatuous. All of life's activity does that. The value of the Fraternity lies in its ability to cause its members to think about larger aims and to have grander thoughts than they would have otherwise found possible. The value of the Fraternity is that it causes people to measure themselves against aims and ideals which are nobler than everyday discourse. The value of the Fraternity, like the value of a symphony or the value of a poem, is that it brings the participant face-to-face with himself, not complacently, but energetically, with questions and with aspirations to be a better person after the examination. And our Fraternity does that in a very specific and unique way which simply does not happen elsewhere.

In this age of the "Incessant Me," it is virtual heresy to suggest that anything supercedes the importance of the individual. That is not exactly what I am suggesting. More accurately, it is my contention that the Fraternity transcends the individual and carries him to levels of meaning and self-understanding which otherwise would not have been possible. To only say that friends are made in the process is a partial understanding of what Delta Chi is all about. Quite aside from that is a process which can take one to the most ecstatic limits of self-analysis and social discourse, which can enable one to interact with noble ideals, which can allow one to understand that he is important only insofar as he serves ends which are greater than himself. The symbols for that understanding, in our case, are two specific Greek letters. To misuse those symbols is tantamount to proudly proclaiming one's own ignorance or to willfully walk across one of life's beautiful tapestries with muddled feet. Both are pitiful acts.

Okoboji University Charters Delta Chi

Bill Kooistra, "A"

On Saturday, July 29, 1978, Delta Chi became the first, original, legitimate, official, genuine, honest to goodness, real fraternity recognized by the University of Okoboji. Bill Kooistra, Iowa State chapter "A" presented the charter to Herman Richter, Director of Student Affairs at the U of O. Other faculty members taking part in the presentation were Roger Stolley, Director of Admissions, and Patrick MacLane, Treasurer.

What is the University of Okoboji? Some call it a college for every one. Others say it is a bona fide party school. But all agree the University of Okoboji's major curriculum is fun. There are those who say that the U of O doesn't exist. But such a false notion is quickly dispelled by Richter. He says, "The University of Okoboji is an attitude. The students are fun seeking visitors who are welcomed to the campus year round." There are also graduate students who have decided to become permanent scholars at the Iowa Great Lakes Region.

The "university" concept has existed for only five or six years, although residents and visitors have been enjoying the Iowa Great Lakes Region for decades. U of O's official seal is dated 1878, but that's because its founders didn't think they could wait more than a couple of years before a centennial celebration. Recently, the U of O gained national prominence. Besides dozens of articles by Iowa newspapers and broadcast stations, the U of O has been featured in the Wall Street Journal, Newsweek, and on CBS radio and NBC television. All is not in jest at the University. Through projects and contributions, $40,000 was raised to purchase an emergency extraction unit for the Lakes area. An Environmental Dive is held annually to clean the lakes and other charities also benefit from such events as Homecoming and Prom.

Along these lines, the U of O's Delta Chi Chapter will be cooperating with the Iowa State Chapter in sponsoring the first annual University of Okoboji Migration Dance to be held in Ames, Iowa in January. Delta Chi is looking forward to this chance to promote the ideals of the University of Okoboji. The presented charter and the charter members of the University of Okoboji's Delta Chi Chapter are:

CHARTER

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, THAT WHEREAS, the Delta Chi Fraternity was founded by men believing that great advantages are to be derived from a brotherhood of college and university men, appreciating that close association may promote friendship, develop character, advance justice, and assist in the acquisition of a sound education, and WHEREAS, that the normal students (though few in number, most being rather abnormal) of the University of Okoboji tend to already be characters, and WHEREAS, there are many facets of a sound and broad education that can be pursued while enrolled at the University of Okoboji, and

WHEREAS, these are in keeping with at least two of the stated purposes of the Delta Chi Fraternity, and WHEREAS, two out of five ain't bad, and WHEREAS, the Delta Chi Fraternity is the only international fraternity headquartered in the State of Iowa, and WHEREAS, we might as damn well be the first fraternity to charter at least one of the state's campuses, therefore BE IT RESOLVED, that I, the undersigned spiritual founder of the Delta Chi Fraternity, by virtue of the authority usurped by me to establish a Chapter of the Delta Chi Fraternity at the University of Okoboji in the State of Iowa, do by these presents, constitute the members of the Iowa State Chapter of the Delta Chi Fraternity and their successors, as such chapter, to be known as the of the Delta Chi Fraternity, granting such chapter about one quarter (¼) of the right and privileges of a Chapter of the Delta Chi Fraternity. In witness whereof, I have set my hand and affixed the seal of the Delta Chi Fraternity at Iowa City, in the State of Inebriation, this the 18th day of July, A.D., 1978.

On the Serious Side: "A Vehicle for Continuity"

by David Holcomb Vice-President Central Iowa Alumni Chapter

Many times I have wished that we had a tool that does to brotherhood what a prism does to light, shows us its many components that we too often take for granted.

I think it would be very interesting to see and to examine individually the ingredients that make up brotherhood.

Each of us would see the components a little differently and perhaps put a different emphasis on each one, but we would all agree on most of them. For instance, we would all agree that obviously sharing is one of the components of brotherhood. But if we were to look a little closer, we might find that the way our brothers helped us mature is more important. We would also find that we place a lot of emphasis on the way our brothers helped us make the transition from the security of a family life to the demands and anxieties involved in college life. But, here again, brotherhood came through and helped us find a new family.

As in our own family, our new brothers cared for our wellbeing.

They were willing to make sacrifices on our behalf. We were able to tell them our little secrets, our victories and also our defeats. They helped us learn to set high goals for ourselves and also to achieve those goals. If we wanted good grades, our brothers were there when we had problems and took time out from their own problems to help us. Now, I don't know about you, but to me, that's brotherhood!

I'm sure that you've noticed that in almost every instance, we have benefited as individuals, from our brothers, which in my mind, brings us to one of the main reasons we love the experience of brotherhood so much. We benefit from it. But the biggest benefit of all, like our brothers showed us, is being in a position to help others. Slowly it dawned on us that there are times when we need to place somebody else's problems before ours. We realized that with the wonderful feeling that comes with being accepted into the Bond of Brotherhood also comes the responsibility, no, the joy and the privilege of being able to help others.

As soon as this realization comes to us, a desire comes with it. We want to carry this privilege on, not to let it die with graduation day. Fortunately for us, we have a vehicle by which we can do this. The Alumni Chapter. Through the alumni chapter, we are able to not only keep in touch with brothers of our own "vintage," but also with our new brothers. We have the opportunity to help each other stay in touch and also to help whenever the desire is expressed by either an undergraduate or a fellow alumnus.

Now we must help build and support an organization that will guarantee that the experience of brotherhood will be a continuing experience both for those of us already in the Bond of Brotherhood and also for those yet to have the privilege of experiencing this bond. The Alumni Chapter in your area is the organization that Delta Chis can use as the vehicle for achieving this goal.

On Campus

Abracadabra

The past few months have been interesting and exciting ones for the Brothers from Cal. During the summer months the house got together for socializing in many different parts of the Bay Area. Our biggest event was operating all the concessions for the annual U.S.A.-U.S.S.R. track meet here in Berkeley. The event was carried on national television and the meet turned out to be a great one. While enjoying ourselves at the stadium, we also made $1000 for the fraternity housing fund.

As September rolled along, we were faced with a problem that still haunts us today; housing. With a lot of hard work and a little luck, we were able to find housing for all the Brothers in the same general vicinity. Using a small house where seven of us live, meetings are still held every week and attendance remains high.

Our housing problem has certainly not stifled our social calendar or intermural participation. We held a fantastic Presents party with another fraternity in October. Also, our Chi Delphia program got off to a good start with the initiation of six very special girls.

Athletically, Delta Chi again fields a host of devastating intramural teams. We look forward to a promising year ahead!

Ray Seed "E"

Alabama

The semester got off to a great start with the addition of 21 pledges and 42 new little sisters.

Intramurals are going well, since we are in the finals of the volleyball championship. The football team finished 2-3 but with a little luck we could have been undefeated.

We were very pleased to have Jeff Coleman speak at Founders' Day. It was a rewarding experience that the whole Fraternity will always remember. In February we are going to have a party with our alumni to celebrate the founding of the Chapter at the University.

In campus activities, we have a cheerleader, IFC Vice-President, Corolla Editor, Capstone Man, Jason, and three SGA Senators. Socially, we are in good standing with all sororities. This is evident by our little sister program. We have little sisters from every sorority and a number of Independents.

Joe Montgomery "E"

Arizona

During the summer months, Chris George and Marco Morales took charge of renting rooms in our house. In past years, our house broke even, but this year we made a profit due to good promotion.

One of our annual traditions during the summer months is our summer rush party held in Phoenix at Jeff Bell's house. More than 60 Brothers from around the state joined in and this created a successful rush party.

Rory Blough, Steve Smith and Mark Snyder were our delegates to the National Leadership Conference. One of the awards our house received was the Award of Excellence, which made our delegation proud of our chapter.

Fall semester rush took in 27 new pledges. Homecoming was held in October and over 50 alumni participated.

Semester highlights included a good finish in Greek Week, overall success in intramurals and community service projects.

Bob Cleverly "E"

Auburn

We, the Brothers at Auburn, have been having a great quarter. Fall quarter started off slowly with formal rush. We have six pledges who should add a great deal of leadership to Auburn in the future.

In sports, we are again in the lead for the All-Sports Trophy. We are undefeated in both football and volleyball. We hope to recapture the All-Sports Trophy this year after being runner-up last year.

Homecoming was October 28, as Auburn hosted Wake Forest. Many alumni came by the house to visit and see old friends; many returned that night to enjoy a band party after Auburn's victory of 21-7.

On Nov. 11, the Brothers and little sisters took a trip to Six Flags over Georgia.

These Iowa State Brothers consider a hot jam session as therapy for pressure and classify it as pure enjoyment.

Plans are also in the making to build a new house in the upcoming year. Gary Monk '65, past "AA", is helping us to achieve this goal that was only a dream in the past.

California State

This fall is another great semester for Delta Chi here at California State.

We had an impressive showing on Founders' Day; all the Brothers and sisters wore white carnations to mark the occasion. Our Homecoming was a success, and we enjoyed working together on the float. Everyone had a good time at our hayride and annual Homecoming party which ended the week's festivities.

Pledging has started for both Delta Chi and Chi Delphia. Our football team is again having a successful season. We are hoping to win the IFC championship for the third consecutive year. Our Chi Delphia are planning a Halloween party for us again this year.

Roy L. Morrison "E"

Central Missouri

The Central Missouri Chapter is currently involved in what looks like the most productive year in our 10-year history. Fall rush resulted in the pinning of 17 pledges. Added to our current membership, these men will bring our number to over 40, an accomplishment unequalled in recent years.

On the weekend of November 4 and 5, our chapter held the 10-year reunion of our colony's founding.

A chance for Delta Chi to move its location to the University Fraternity Complex looks promising. A unit that will accommodate as many as 60 men will be opening soon. We have filed an official petition with the university and are waiting for their decision.

Our major service project this fall has been directed toward "Push For Life," a fund-raising drive in connection with the American Heart Association. Thus far, we are tied for first place in money collection.

Carlton Oesterle "E"

Connecticut

The last six months have been good ones for Delta Chi at Connecticut. With 26 actives and seven pledges, the Chapter has continued to grow. The growth internally has been matched by an increase in status on campus.

In intramurals, Delta Chi recorded a good season in softball. Our soccer team was undefeated, untied, and unscored upon, thanks primarily to the efforts of Brother Brian Waxler. Delta Chi has maintained its prominence in the Greek system, with Brother Mark Fitzgerald being elected president of the IFC.

The service project for this semester concerned the assistance of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, which easily exceeded its desired goals.

An increase in alumni involvement and response has become evident and is greatly appreciated by the Chapter. It is hoped that this trend will continue into the future.

Richard Kos "E"

Creighton

The Creighton Chapter so far this academic year has been very active. We have just completed a successful softball season.

The highlight of our social calendar was an alumni-stag that took place October 13.

Rich Boukal "E"

Denison

Denison held its Homecoming banquet October 21. This year the Chapter is undertaking major repairs and redecorating the entire house.

Denison is competing well in rush this year and has hopes of filling the house.

Lawrence Crowl "E"

DePauw

The Ranch, DePauw Chapter House, is more attractive and safer this fall as the result of the generosity of parents of members who, last spring, donated funds for two coach lamps that were installed at the front entrance during the summer. Additionally, several smoke alarms were strategically placed in the house.

D. E. Lord "BB"

Edwardsville

During Greek Week this quarter, bands played and various other activities occurred in the University Center to attract attention to the Greek organizations. This quarter we have a three-man pledge class.

We had our annual Founders' Day Banquet October 13, at the Round Table Restaurant. Following the dinner, David Smith "BB", spoke to the Brothers and their guests.

We were honored October 17 and 18 with the visit of the Field Secretary, Mike Gallagher.

William Luchtefeld "E"

Embry-Riddle

This fall semester at Embry-Riddle should promise to be one of the most exciting as we now have 19 pledges. Our social calendar is in full swing, with the outstanding function of the semester being the Founders' Day Banquet. We were very pleased with the large turnout of alumni, Brothers, little sisters, and pledges.

On Halloween, the Brothers went trick-or-treating for the kids at the Halifax Hospital. We are also proud of the many Brothers who donated blood during the Red Cross Blood Drive.

Our house, which includes our new North Building, has been totally painted. It took the Brothers a good part of the summer and fall semester to accomplish this feat.

We will be closing the year with our annual Christmas Party.

Bob Harris "E"

Fullerton

This semester has been our best in the last two years with the initiation of 23 new men into the bond, and nine new girls into our Chapter's Chi Delphia.

In the field of intramurals we are on top once again finishing second and third in the Punt, Pass, and Kick competition and making it to the play-offs with both our flag football teams.

Our most recent service project involved many of the Brothers taking underprivileged kids of the area to the local mountains in a project supported by the school, called Camp Titan.

We were pleased with the number of alumni who turned out for the recent alumni party that featured a double-header softball game, dinner, and a casino night following. Thanks also to the alumni for their gracious gifts and donations.

The annual Delta Chi snow ski trip is once again on with 72 people signed up and ready to head for Lake Tahoe in Northern California.

In House projects that have been completed are a new floor and remodeling projects done in the party room and the bar. Also repairs done on the bathrooms and kitchen were enthusiastically worked on. All funds came from our summer fund raisers which amounted to $2,200.00.

Mark Hepp, Chapter "E"

Gannon

The Gannon Chapter kicked off the 1978-79 school year with the added strength of 15 new Brothers.

Rush this semester is good, but the promise of spring term looks even brighter. Our newly revised rush program is working very well.

Founders' Day was a complete success. Several parties were held during that week.

Intramural sports are off to a rolling start. Our football and bowling teams are at the top of the charts. Thanks are in order for our sports chairman, Jerry Rocchi.

Last semester we maintained the highest grade point average. Excellence in scholastic material is becoming a tradition at Gannon for the Delta Chis.

Edwin A. Nowacki "E"

Georgia

The Georgia Chapter started the quarter with the pledging of 23 men. The house looks good due to the efforts of the Brothers in the areas of yard work, house painting, and interior decoration. The TV room has been improved by the addition of two new couches, and three new lamps.

Delta Chis enjoyed the summer with several rush parties, and a profitable and fun officer's retreat at Lake Lanier. The Brothers, together with visiting alumni, have enjoyed several band parties after this fall's football games.

Bill Stout "E"

Hobart

The Brothers of the Hobart Chapter have all had a most enjoyable summer and all anticipate a fine year for the house and a successful spring rush.

The new Brothers were all busy this past summer with a variety of occupations. Andy Kimball and Tom Evans both were employed by Kodak, while Bart Breakstone was a facilities repairman with IBM. Albert Lawrence was in Martha's Vineyard working on house maintenance, while Walter Durniak was em-

Indiana

The semester is going well for the Indiana Chapter. To further our growing membership, our rush committee has secured 12 men as prospective members.

Thanks to our generous alumni we have been able to make several improvements in our Chapter house. Our dining room is now panelled and we have new flooring throughout much of the house. Much of the work was done by the actives and pledges of the Chapter.

Homecoming was a big weekend for us. A barbecue dinner was prepared for our alumni and guests by Brothers.

Early in October, two of our most prominent alumni, Martinsville attorney John Hurt, and I.U. Trustee Clarence Long, joined us for dinner and an informal discussion about the current standing of our Housing Corporation.

Still to come this semester are our annual fall dance, Kelley's Wake, and our Parents' Weekend.

Congratulations are in order to our Brother, George Powell, who was named Fraternity Athlete of the Year by the Intramural Sports Office, and was appointed to the I.U. Foundation Steering Committee. George was also last year's Chapter Scholar.

Kevin J. Weaver "E"

Iowa

Fall '78 finds the Iowa Chapter enjoying a renaissance as five men were initiated into the bond last May, and 14 pledges this fall have the house in good spirits.

It's been a busy semester with an active social schedule thanks to the efforts of George Hiller. A formal dinner was held after the Homecoming game with Purdue, and the Dad's Day dinner was a success. Exchanges with eight sororities have helped fire everybody up.

Intramurals have been going well, as the golf team finished third among fraternities. The football team has been more successful than our Hawkeye's, finishing with a 3-3 record.

Levin Weiss has been doing a fine job as left linebacker for the Hawks after being sidelined for a couple of weeks with a knee strain.

Over the summer several chairs were recovered for the lounges and we added a new table and chairs.

The pledge-active stag found everyone in good spirits with the actives trouncing the pledges in the annual football game.

John Bender "E"

Iowa State

Rush Week began the year at Iowa State with six pledges, joining the nine previously pledged this summer, filling the house with 42 men. The big activity for the Brothers is a "Varieties" vignette for this winter. Alpha Phi sorority is working with the Brothers in preparing for this musical performance. Ironing out routines and making costumes are the major concerns right now.

The house has been newly carpeted this summer, thanks to our Alumni Board, and a loan from the Delta Chi National Housing Fund. It certainly made rush week efforts a lot easier.

The emphasis was on informal reunions this Homecoming, November 4. A pig roast and cash bar were provided for alumni to meet one another on a more casual basis. In the past, Homecomings have included formal banquets and parties.

Jacksonville State

The Jacksonville State Chapter started this semester with three new Brothers in the bond.

We held our annual Founders' Day celebration this year at the school cafeteria and had a great turnout. Awards were presented that night for outstanding achievement in Delta Chi. They included: Best Brother of Spring 1978 to Jim Lucas, Best Pledge of Spring 1978 to Chris Hays, Best Alumni to Jeff Ray, and an Outstanding Service Award to our faculty advisor Lee Manners.

Homecoming was a great success this year and was directed by Brother Gary Gant. This year saw our largest alumni reunion in many years.

The Brothers are now in the process of training 25 new pledges.

Our intramural football team had a strong showing this fall even though we didn't make the playoff.

Bobby Franklin "E"

On Campus

Johnstown

This fall has seen a productive term at the Johnstown Chapter. Fund raisers, Homecoming and a full social calendar have led to a busy term for the Brothers. Intramurals have been going well with tennis leading the way with an undefeated season.

Homecoming was quite a success. We had a float based on the theme that "No Man Is an Island" and we are all proud of our Homecoming Queen candidate, Annette Tirabassi. The highlight of our celebration was the large number of alumni that returned for the weekend. Founders' Day was celebrated with an excellent banquet, much to the credit of our Social Chairman, Ken Zamiska.

We are now looking ahead to our semi-formal and other fraternity and campus activities.

David A. Wright "E"

Kansas

There have been many new additions to the Kansas Chapter this year: reupholstered furniture and new carpet for the living room, from the summer improvement program; 33 new pledges from the summer rush program; a new phone desk from the Mothers' Club; a matching table, chairs, hutch, and buffet as a gift from J. J. "Doc" Underwood '51; and a new baby grand piano being purchased through alumni donations.

Greek Week was rejuvenated this year, and the Brothers enjoyed fielding teams for the festivities. A Homecoming display was erected with the aid of Chi Delphia.

We were pleased to have Field Secretary Ken Shepard with us on several occasions during the course of his business in Kansas. On separate occasions, Bob Marcum, the new K.U. Athletic Director, and Lafayette Norwood, the Assistant Basketball Coach for the nationally ranked Kansas Jayhawks, were our guests at dinner.

Phil Thompson "E"

Kansas City

The year got off to a great start with our annual Wild West Party.

The Chapter is very pleased with the pledging of nine men.

September 5, the Kansas City Chapter went before the Kansas City Zoning Board in an effort to make our house at 5235 Rockhill Road a legal fraternity house. With a close, but favorable decision, the Kansas City Chapter has won the right to refer to our house as a fraternity house.

To show our appreciation to the alumni corporation, an alumni dinner was held on Founders' Day, Friday, October 13. The dinner was designed to thank the alumni for their support during these trying periods and at the same time we were hoping to regain the support of some of our lost alumni.

Lehigh

The semester started on a tragic note for those of us in the Lehigh Chapter with the loss of Brother Jim Gentles. Jim died in a swimming accident in Oregon in late July. He is missed by all of us.

Work week saw 22 Brothers and 19 Associate Brothers returning to Bethlehem to paint, hammer, clean and rehabilitate the house. Although expected repairs have been delayed by a University mix-up, the house and annex are both in excellent condition.

Brother Bob Marrs '79, was recognized by the faculty as having the highest grade point average of any student in Lehigh's College of Engineering. Bob is a metallurgy major and has managed to maintain a 4.0 average.

The Chapter was especially proud to learn that among the 32 fraternities at Lehigh, Delta Chi placed sixth scholastically last semester. We rank fourth among fraternities over the past three years.

A nice addition to the house's living room is a plaque acknowledging our selection as an Outstanding Chapter for 1977-1978.

Although Delta Chi's team was eliminated early in the soccer playoffs, the Delta Chi basketball team is taking shape and hopes to regain the intramural hoops championship.

With the announcement of the Chapter's 26th anniversary party November 18, alumni mail has begun to pour in.

Jerry Miller "E"

Long Beach

Alumni, actives, little sisters, and friends gathered for a banquet and dance at the Balboa Pavilion in Newport Beach.

We played broom-hockey with Phi Kappa Tau and Acacia. Also, our outrageous Halloween and Toga parties filled the house. We are pleased to be growing closer to our neighboring Delta Chi Chapters at Fullerton, San Diego, and USC.

We have recently been very fortunate financially and have added two refrigerators and a new water heater to the house. Literally mountains of junk and treasure filled our yard for a very successful rummage sale.

Gary Kliever "F"

Marquette

The Brothers of the Marquette Chapter of Delta Chi kicked off the new scholastic year by working in the University Bookstore as a fund raising project. Other fund raising activities include sponsoring a double feature movie presentation at our Varsity Theater.

Thanks to the extensive work contributed by all of the Brothers, we have accomplished a very successful rush program this semester. Nine men are active in completing their pledgeships for us. The Brothers are actively involved in our intramural program again this fall, competing in football and water polo. The highlight of our football season is our showdown with the Evans Scholars.

The Brothers and our new pledges celebrated Founders' Day by gathering at the Blue Canary restaurant to enjoy fine food. Later, we attended "Animal House" which we all enjoyed.

Borrowing our theme from "Animal House," the Brothers recently threw our own Toga Party.

We are actively engaged in the process of improving our fraternity house this year. We have currently painted several walls and rooms, supplied our living room with attractive new furniture, and have added new paneling to our basement walls. We owe the success of these improvements to the spirit of cooperation that we share here.

The Brothers also announce the extension of our Delta Chi housing services here to our new addition — "Delta Chi West."

Vince Maloney "E"

Massachusetts

At the semester midpoint, rush has produced the largest single pledge class in the Chapter's history with a second class planned before semester end.

Brothers Kurt Krueger and Bob Davidson have been elected Greek Area Council treasurer and vice-president. Brother Jim Phelan was selected as member of Archon, the highly prestigious University guide service.

Homecoming was very successful with many Alumni from various years returning including three of our founding Brothers, George Goodfellow, Jim Czekanski and Tom Simpson.

March 1, 1979 marks our 10-year anniversary of the chartering of the Chapter. Ceremonies are in the planning stage.

Alfred Belcher

Miami

This year at Miami started off in the traditional manner with our house participating in its usual fall intramural sports program. With hopes for another good football season we took our team into the regular season, but had a disappointing record. In the annual Greek Week competition our house did well and took a sixth place finish. We also fielded a soccer team that only played for fun this year, but next year the sport will be for points in the all campus competition.

We just completed our Alumni Homecoming Weekend and the whole weekend seemed to go well for everyone. This year we are planning something new for our social calendar and that is a fall formal.

In order to help our surrounding community this year we have and will be participating in various service projects. Already the Brothers helped one of the local women's clubs with a book sale to raise money for charity.

We just activated seven men into the bond and are now making plans for the upcoming rush in the winter semester.

John Rackliffe "E"

Michigan State

We are very proud of the fact that last summer we carried home Delta Chi's top honor, the President's Cup, but satisfied, we'll never be. The award has been looked on as an inspiration and a building block for our Chapter to grow on.

In the past three years our Chapter has reigned as the largest fraternity on Michigan State's campus. This year being no different, we started out the year with 76 actives and under the guidance of Rush Chairman Jon Keller our fall rush was prosperous with the affiliation of 14 pledges.

This year we have added and reorganized many programs. Social service and scholarship are the most important. Terry Moffat and Carl Bressler (social service co-chairmen) have harnessed our potential to serve the community. They have set up a program where our Chapter will work with the American Cancer Society to help raise money in the Lansing area. The project is a 72-hour marathon. Participants get donation pledges for holding onto a 1979 Ford Pinto provided by Curtis Ford. The winner will be the person who has the most pledges and holds onto the car the duration of the marathon. He (or she) will win the car. Besides running the marathon we will have Brother Duane Garrison representing our Chapter in the contest. If we win the car we will donate it back to the American Cancer Society.

Another new program, in the area of scholarship, will be the Virginia Lacchia Fund, named in honor of Joe Lacchia's late wife. The fund will be part of the International Fraternity's Educational Foundation. The program will be geared to be scholastic incentive for all the Brothers and pledges. Awards will go to most improved G.P.A. (divided into classes) and pledges receiving a 3.0 or better the term they pledge. Those who donate $25 or more before the end of this school year will receive an 8 x 10 sketch of our house. Contributions are tax deductible and should be sent to International Headquarters in Iowa City. Checks should be made in the name of Virginia Lacchia Fund.

We would like to recognize some of our Brothers who are involved in other campus activities. Carl Bressler is very active in ASMSU (Associated Students of Michigan State University). He holds the position of Assistant Director of Pop Entertainment and Director of Special Programs for the ASMSU Programing Board. Scott Tubandt holds the position of assistant director of Legal Services, an organization that represents and councils students involved in any kind of campus legal dispute, and the service is free. Don Graham has been very active in Interfraternity Council. He holds the position of Office of Greek Affairs Pledge Education Chairman and IFC Vice President of Development. Through Don's efforts, Michigan State saw the most prosperous summer rush in years.

As for the physical structure of our house, we have made many improvements and additions. We just added new living room furniture and a color TV. Two more major improvements are the new roof put on by Control Board member Jim Dalton and a new boiler in the old wing.

Robert Tillotson "E"

Mississippi State

Rush functions are being held on a weekly basis in an effort to give other young college men here at State a chance to experience the bond.

On the domestic scene, we made the last house payment this semester. Letters were sent to all alumni in an effort to give everyone the opportunity to pay off the last bill as Brothers. Though a search is underway for a new House, our present house looks better than ever.

Recently our Chapter spent funds previously set aside for Homecoming to help strengthen facilities at Starkville Manor, a senior citizen's home. We spent a Sunday afternoon with the old folks and everyone enjoyed a great time.

Montevallo

The semester began with the activation of 12 men into the bond, two new girls into Chi Delphia and the annual Pig Roast.

Rush went well this semester. We pledged nine of the 30 men that were being considered by the fraternities. The support of our alumni at the rush party helped us to achieve these good results.

Our service projects this semester were centered around the Speech and Hearing Clinic on Campus. Our annual padded football game raised funds for the clinic and the party we gave the clinic children was a great success.

In campus activities, two of our Brothers are senators in the Student Government Association and Brother David Wilson was elected vice-president of the Interfraternity Council.

The semester will end with our traditional Christmas Party.

Northeastern

Unlike most schools, N.U. does not have vacation in the summer so after a quarter of studies everyone unwound at our annual clambake at Duxberry Beach.

For the second year in a row, Homecoming was run under the direction of Bob Turecek. In a highly contested Mayor of Huntington Avenue election, Delta Chi's candidate, Redeye, came in second to Tuition Cut.

After the U.N. Huskies soundly defeated Central Connecticut, Delta Chi celebrated at our traditional dinner-dance held this year at Amaru's in Deedham.

Tim Kearney "E"

Northwest Missouri

On October 14, the Northwest Missouri Chapter celebrated another successful Homecoming.

Under the guidance of Bob Tachet, house decorations chairman, the men put together a house decoration that captured first place. Other awards included third place in the float division, and a second place for our parade clowns.

Chris Dahm was one of the Homecoming co-chairmen for the overall campus committee.

Randy Boyer,
Corresponding Secretary

Ohio State

The Ohio State Chapter is quickly gaining a prominent position in Ohio State's Greek system.

The quarter began with five pledges with four more just recently pledged.

In preparation for formal rush, we undertook and completed several house improvements. New drapes in the living room and dining room and paneling in the foyer were the highlights of the improvement.

We are all looking forward to winning another all-sports trophy. So far the No. 1 football team is undefeated and the bowling team has taken 6 out of 8 points.

Homecoming at Ohio State was made more special with Bob Hope as the Grand Marshal of the Parade. The Delta Chi-Alfa Epsilon Phi float was one of the most popular and we are looking forward to winning next year.

The Ohio State Chapter is providing several tutors to the St. Stephens Community Center this year. We will be working with students who need more help than the public school system is able to provide.

Brian Code "E"

Oregon State

The Brothers of the Oregon State Chapter of Delta Chi returned for fall term '78 as the most improved fraternity scholastically on campus. We finished spring term ranked eighth among 28 fraternities and hope to improve even more.

Formal rush went well as we celebrated the pledging of 19 men into the bond with our annual big brother-little brother date-dinner on October 17. Also 26 young women were pledged into our Chi Delphia court.

Our Halloween party with our Chi Delphia sisters and the Homecoming football game against UCLA on November 1, helped make the fall a time of fellowship and growing together.

Craig Spivey "E"

Oshkosh

The semester got off to a good start with the pledging of five men.

In campus activities, the Delta Chi's took first place overall in the Homecoming festivities.

With the support and help from our alumni, we recently were able to decorate and refurbish our house with new carpeting and new furniture. We also had the opportunity to paint the interior and exterior of our house.

As the fall semester ends, the Brothers look forward to a successful rush and a profitable spring semester.

Penn State

The Penn State Chapter of Delta Chi has started what should prove to be one of its most productive years. Many major in-house improvements have been completed, including the installation of soffit and fascia on the entire house, a new lighting system to accent the Chapter house at night, a painting blitz, the placing of the letters of Delta Chi on the front wall, and also the purchase of a new stereo system.

Once again the Penn State Chapter has received the Award of Excellence from the National Fraternity.

The expanding Chapter Scholarship Fund is also being put to good use. Alumni contributions to this fund have made possible scholarships to recently initiated Brothers who maintain a high grade point average during their pledging period as well as providing scholarships to Brothers in the house with high academic records. This scholarship program has been a major asset to the Chapter and an expanded scholarship program is now being planned to accommodate the incoming alumni contributions from our Golden Anniversary Fund.

On the weekend of October 21, the Chapter welcomed back 80 Brothers for a festive Homecoming weekend. However, this gathering is only a prelude to next September's Golden Anniversary Celebration which will be highlighted with a banquet to be held at the Nittany Lion Inn following the PSU-Texas A&M football game.

Charlie Petredis "E"

Purdue

The fall semester got started in a hurry with major renovation being the goal. Besides the addition of a new patio, pool table, and re-conditioned furniture, other projects lined up for the semester include a new kitchen and bathrooms.

Intramurals are going well. The softball team broke a long-standing tradition by actually making the playoffs.

These Brothers and pledges had another successful football team at Troy State. During the last four years, the Delta Chi football team has lost only one game.

On Campus

Our latest service project involves doing odd jobs for the School of Agriculture Placement Service and donating the money to various needy charities throughout the area. Our chapter also became the first fraternity on campus to win the Parent's Day Sign Contest, sponsored by the West Lafayette community.

Finally, our Chapter was very pleased to host Mr. T. K. Ryan, author of the comic strip "Tumbleweeds," as a part of the Purdue Old Masters Program. The combination of lecture and sketching was very entertaining, and several drawings of his characters now decorate the house.

Rick Hill "E"

San Diego

The San Diego Chapter is enjoying one of its finest semesters ever. Some of the past events include a Founders' Day celebration, the Great Pumpkin Halloween Party, Big/Little Brother retreat in Palm Springs and of course initiation on December 1, 2, and 3.

The one other important event was the pledge/active football game. Final score was 68-34 — actives.

Rob English "E"

Southeast Missouri

After much effort in the summer, we were able to return to a newly painted and decorated Chapter house. This, along with a new rush program, assisted greatly in the pledging of 19 men for this fall.

This year, Chapter members are involved in many campus activities, including student government and Student Activities Committee. Also, Brothers Kevin Billings and Chuck Geier were selected as finalists in the Southeast Missouri State University Man-of-the-Year competition.

Socially, we have had various parties, including a Toga Party with the women of Sigma Sigma Sigma. Homecoming was highlighted this year by the return of nearly all alumni. The newly formed alumni association met and discussed ways of assisting the Chapter.

Dan Montgomery "E"

Southern California

Our semester-ending annual White Carnation Ball, at the Castaway Restaurant, honored several Brothers for their dedication and hard work put forth during the 1977-78 school year.

On the University level, Mike Kingsbury was selected to the Trojan Knights while Brothers Kent Rennie and Tony Castro were chosen to Trojan Squires. Tony was also elected as Community Service Officer. Brother Leonard Hauser was tapped for a position on the Executive Council of the Greek Senate. Each member of the house participated in USC's Walk-Jog-A-Thon to help raise money for the Trojan's new track stadium. The Chapter received half of their donations, or pledges, for house improvements.

House improvements have started this year with the decoration of our walls with skin bets we have so far earned from the University of Alabama (Crimson Tide) and Michigan State University with other probable pelts to come from University of Washington and Purdue.

Socially, the Trojan Delta Chi's have taken no back seats. Our Annual Founders' Night Dinner, this year at the L.A. Athletic Club, featured former Executive Director, Ken Brasted, whose speech on the future of Delta Chi touched us all. A plaque commemorating the naming the Chapter Room after "Uncle Willie" Smith was accepted by his son in his family's behalf.

Tony E. Castro "E"

Southern Illinois

The fall semester got off to a good start with the formation of a strong pledge class.

In campus activities, Brother Mark Rouleau was elected vice president of the student body. Brothers Pat Heneghan and Jim Drater are student senators. Gary Dowdalls, Chapter "C", is the secretary of the Inter-Greek Council and Pat Heneghan, Bill Scully, Howard Hammel, and Tom Magee all hold offices on the Student Alumni Board. We are also happy to have one of our alumni as the Regent for Region V. Brother George Schau is a Founding Father of this chapter.

Larry Lefferts "E"

Tri-State

This fall the Brothers at Tri-State University have been very busy with service projects and painting the newly acquired house.

We have completed two service projects this quarter, the first one was the painting of the Animal Shelter and the second was the carving of pumpkins for the residents of the Lakeland Nursing Home. The Brothers also participated in a basketball marathon for the Big Brothers and Big Sisters Organization of Northeastern Indiana.

The Chapter acquired the new house on September 25, and we are currently doing a lot of work inside and outside so that we may move in at the beginning of winter quarter.

The Chapter is also very proud of Anthony Bal. Anthony has just won his second State Double Tennis Championship, and also his first State Singles Tennis Championship this past fall. He now will go to Kansas City in June for National Competition.

The Brothers celebrated Founders' Day at Sunset Inn. We again had Miss Anne Lovelady, Tri-State's Dean of Students, as our special guest.

Dan Kennedy "E"

Troy State

The Brothers of Troy State Chapter started off fall quarter with a great rush, pledging 24 men.

We are continuing our dominance in sports as we won the All-Sports Trophy again with our winning teams in basketball, softball, and football, with the latter losing only one game in four years. We also sponsored the First Annual Delta Chi Golf Tournament and won that trophy.

The whole Chapter is looking forward to our Winter Formal in February at Banner Elk, North Carolina.

Andy Whitaker "E"

Valdosta

The annual Greek Week Olympics rounded out activities in the last spring quarter. The Delta Chis emerged as Overall Greek Week Champions for the ninth time in our 11 years at Valdosta State. Winning the softball tournament, chariot race, track and field, and the community service project, the Chis compiled twice as many points as the second place fraternity. The highlight of the week was the running of the prestigious chariot race which Delta Chi won for the eleventh straight year.

Summer and fall rush proved to be a great success as we acquired 20 new pledges.

Fall intramurals are in full swing and the Delta Chi football team is undefeated and is looking forward to yet another interfraternity football championship.

In student government, four Brothers hold senate seats including the vice presidency. Scholastically, we had the second highest overall grade point average among fraternities last spring quarter and have representation in Alpha Lambda Delta, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Sigma Alpha Chi.

Washington

Fall Quarter began with a great start as Pledge Class President Keith Duffy led 28 of his pledge Brothers on a successful sneak.

The Chapter has been very active in athletics. Ken Burnett was an inside linebacker for the Rose Bowl Champion Huskies. Two Actives, Tom and Tracy Quikstad along with pledge Dave Felt play for the varsity soccer team. Pledge Mark Peterson is a forward on the Seattle Sounders. Pledges Brian Carroll and Matt Highsmith are members of the U.W. golf team. Matt recently finished ninth in an All-Northwest Tournament.

In Intramurals, the Chapter has been competing fiercely in flag football and volleyball.

There was a vast amount of improvements in the house during work week. Several Brothers pitched in to help clean, remodel and paint the house.

Our latest community service project was to hold a Halloween party for some local retarded children. We're also proud to say that all the pledges recently gave plasma.

On October 13, our annual Founders' Day Celebration was held at the College Club in Seattle. The evening was very successful due to the hard work of "A" Kevin Bray and Social Director Tony Sagami. Special thanks go to Regent Bob Labouy who co-ordinated the whole evening. This year's Alumni Loyalty Award went to Dave Chandler, who has been very helpful with House financial matters.

Mark Hallahan "E"

West Liberty

The West Liberty Chapter has gotten off to another successful start this year. Rush proved to be very rewarding in that we now have five pledges.

Our intramural season has begun with an overall first place position. We have won the cross-country meet and are currently tied for first place in softball competition.

House members of the University of Washington form Delta Chi in the fall of '78.

We participated in Homecoming this year with the Delta Zeta sorority. Events included dorm-to-dorm serenades and the annual Homecoming Dance. The annual Founders' Day Dance was also a good time, as many alumni made the scene.

Improvements are being made in our floor lounge. We are in the process of obtaining furniture and paint. Our service project committee is also very busy. One of the projects they have undertaken is a canned food drive in the Wheeling area.

Robin Rice "E"

Whitewater

Through fresh efforts being made by the newly elected officers and the revitalization of our entire Chapter, great strides have been made in our climb back to the top of the Greek organizations here on the Whitewater campus. A successful rush program has added nine men to our ranks of Brothers.

Despite uncooperative "Mother Nature," our tenth annual corn roast was a success. A volleyball tournament among the campus sororities and fraternities topped the day. Traveling trophies were awarded to the winners.

A new addition to our house is new carpeting in the downstairs party room. The carpet was donated by Brother Wm. Trovinger. It enhances the appearance of the room, as well as the party spirit.

After a recent visit from our Brothers from Oshkosh, it has been noted that our flag once again has disappeared. Soon we will embark on yet another trip to recover our flag from Oshkosh, "B'gosh."

Gregg Martin "E"

Jacksonville Colony

Thanks to the superb studying habits of our Brothers, we won the Greek award for highest grade point average. Delta Chis also are in key positions of power on campus. Brother Wayne Radloff is president of the student government, Brother Brian Geoghegan is vice-president of SGA, and Brothers David Nau and John Korkuc hold executive offices in IFC. Brother Lee Decof is assistant Intramural Department Head.

The formal rush has ended and Delta Chi surprised everybody (except for the Brothers) by netting 23 new members. This class represents the second biggest in JU's fraternity system.

Delta Chi is currently leading in the race for the All-Sports Trophy. Plaudits go to Brother George Hretz who coached our volleyball team to a perfect season and the Greek championship.

A major alumni effort is underway. Our first newsletter has been sent out to all Jacksonville area alumni and our "E" has hopes of getting at least 10 alumni on the Board of Trustees.

Frank Moore

Frank C. Moore, Buffalo '21, former Lt. Gov. of New York, died April 22, 1978 at his winter home in Crystal River, FL. He was 82.

Moore's 54-year career in public service began as a $50-a-month Kenmore village clerk and continued until Sept. 28, 1973, when Moore resigned as Chairman of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment. He first gained statewide recognition in 1933 when he rewrote the Town Law in the wake of widespread public attacks on New York's local governments.

In that same year, he organized the State Association of Towns and served as its executive secretary for 10 years.

In 1938, he served on the Governor's Committee to Prepare for the Constitutional Convention. He performed a similar duty 27 years later when Gov. Rockefeller named him in 1965 to a Committee to draft plans for the 1967 state Constitutional Convention.

Moore was elected state comptroller in 1942. He turned his attention to what was regarded as an unstable system of state aid, heading a commission to produce a new system of state assistance to localities. Known as the "Moore Plan," it became a model for other states.

In 1950, Moore was elected Lieutenant Governor. In April, 1953, he resigned from public life to become president of the Government Research Foundation Inc., a nonprofit organization set up by Mr. Rockefeller for study and improvement of government administration.

He was a founder and shaper of the State University of New York as state residents know it today.

Born in Toronto on March 23, 1896, Brother Moore attended Hobart College from 1914-16, when he transferred to the University of Buffalo, where he earned a law degree.

McLimans moved on to become Vice-President of the First National Bank, Ardsley, New York; Assistant Vice-President at the First National Bank of Miami, and President of the Frontier Bank of Covelo, CA.

As an undergraduate, McLimans served as "A" and "D" of his Chapter. Brother McLimans was also elected to a term on the then "XX" of the Fraternity in 1924/25.

A veteran of World War I, Brother McLimans was active in the American Legion and served as a Judge Advocate. He was also active in the International Society of Barber Shop Quartets, the Rod and Gun Club of Covelo and numerous glee clubs and choral groups.

He was a co-organizer of the Santa Barbara Scholarship Foundation. He was named Churchman of the Year by the United Presbyterians of California and later by the Southern California Synod. In 1971 he was Santa Barbara "Man of the Year."

Walter Steffens

H. Walter Steffens, Idaho '29, died September 1, 1978. His academic and professional career are nearly without parallel. Brother Steffens received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Idaho in 1929 and his Master of Science the following year. After beginning a teaching career in a one room country school house in rural Idaho, he quickly advanced in his chosen profession and returned to the University of Idaho in 1931 as an instructor in the Zoology Department.

He earned his Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1949 after doing extensive research on liver pathology. He returned to Moscow as a full professor.

Brother Steffens quickly moved through academic and administrative posts to the position of Academic Vice-President in 1961. He was the first person to hold that post at the University of Idaho, and he filled those duties until his retirement in 1969.

Among Brother Steffens' many recognitions were his tenure as President of the Idaho Academy of Science, President of the Lions Club of Moscow, Idaho's representative to the National Tuberculosis Board of Directors and Navy and Army Meritorious Public Service Citations. He was awarded an honorary LL.D. from the University of Idaho in 1969. He was elected to the Idaho Alumni Hall of Fame in 1969 and held memberships in Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Pi Omicron Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega. He was listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in Science.

Brother Steffens' record of service to the Fraternity is no less conspicuous. He served as the "BB" of the Idaho Chapter from 1933-1960. He was Regent for Region I from 1960 to 1964 and "CC" from 1964-1966. Steffens also served on the committee which created the Delta Chi Housing Fund.
