This is what we heard

Please Note: My $5.

When I was initiated, I was told I was to receive the Delta Chi Quarterly for Life.

You people are constantly trying to get out of this commitment.

Farrington T. Schaeffer
Tucson, AZ

Dear Brother Schaeffer:

Thank you for expressing your concern over our Quarterly policy.

We want every Delta Chi to receive his Quarterly. Unfortunately, if we sent all four issues of the Quarterly to every Delta Chi regardless of whether they still wished to receive it or not the Quarterly, due to cost alone, would have to be reduced to a newsletter. The effect that would have on the pride and feelings of our alumni and undergraduates alike would, we feel, be devastating. We feel that that would be too big of a price to pay. Giving our alumni the opportunity to continue to receive all issues of a quality magazine is what we are trying to do. As we stated in the last issue, all that is necessary is to periodically reaffirm your desire to continue receiving the magazine. This can be done through donations or by simply saying so once every five years. It is not necessary to do both. We only want "to get out of this commitment" if an alumnus wants us to, so that we can give those that still care the best magazine possible. You deserve it.

and said

Thank you for your letter.

Fraternally,
Raymond D. Galbreth
Executive Director

We're happy to acknowledge the following error. In the last issue of the Quarterly we reported Terrence B. Albright, Penn St. '69, as deceased.

Happily, Terrence is alive and resides in Camden, ME.
Editor.

I was returning to my chapter for a visit. It had been almost a year since the last time I was there and I was a little concerned how many of the actives I'd know or would want to spend time with an alumnus. It had been over four years since I left school as a graduate student and I live 1800 miles away so I can't just drop by for a party or to take part in initiation. Afraid that I wouldn't still fit in, I felt that at least they could fill me in on some of the alumni in the area and I could visit with them. Surely they had let the actives know where they were and what they were doing. I was to be in for more than one surprise.

A couple of months ahead of time, I called the chapter house to see what was on the social calendar for the semester. This was in hopes of seeing more brothers by arriving on a big weekend. As the phone rang, I won-

"We don't really know, he hasn't stopped by since he graduated."

"We sent him a newsletter last fall and it came back address unknown."

"I see him at work all the time, but I can't get him to come out to the house."

"He said that the chapter has changed, and he just doesn't care anymore."

"I told him that you were coming to visit and he said he'd drop by if he had the time."

I dismissed those answers at the time and enjoyed the evening with all the actives and alumni who were there. Later I tried to contact some of the alumni who were absent. (I'm not in the area that often and wanted to at least say hello.) They all seemed happy to hear from me dered, "How do I introduce myself to a brother who has probably never heard of me?" It was a relief when a brother answered who had pledged when I was the pledge counselor. (He had returned to school after a few years in the job market.) I told him why I had called and explained my apprehension. He reassured me that since my contact had been as close as it was, (it had been almost a year) that I would be remembered. He also told me that he'd get the word around about my visit in hopes of getting a few more alumni to the house.

Upon arrival, I went directly to my parents' home. Two days later I called the chapter house. The phone was again answered by an active who knew me. He said they'd been expecting me for a week and wanted to know if he could drive me in from the airport. I told him I was home but wanted an update on the social events. He replied that the Chi Delphia-Brothers' Christmas was to be Friday night but invited me to come down sooner to "warm up." The Christmas party is a special event for the chapter. Traditionally actives and alumni get together as most families do, to reminisce, share, and enjoy some holiday cheer.

Throughout that Friday evening, stories were swapped with actives, brothers I pledged with, and some who had pledged before. It was impressive to find that most of the alumni there were frequent visitors to the chapter. In fact, many of them were part of the ABT and/or the housing committee. However, many weren't there. Several times I asked where certain brothers were and what they were doing. I expected to hear that they'd been there the week before, or they'd moved out of state, or had sent news for the alumni newsletter. Instead I heard:

but said that they hadn't had or taken time to contact the chapter in quite a while. It was interesting that most of them were the same brothers who complained as actives that they never saw any alumni or received any donations from them. One of them summed up the situation when he said, "I haven't had too many of the brothers drop by to see me, but then I haven't been by the chapter house in a while either, so I guess I can't complain."

I know that personal commitments and responsibilities continue to grow after you get out into the "real world." I'm married and working on a career just like most alumni. I also know that the make-up and outlook of the chapter is going to grow and change. The make-up and outlook of any family will, as its members grow and times change. You don't desert it though, and forget about it just because you've grown up and moved out. You still contribute, but in different ways.

If you're upset because the chapter doesn't send alumni newsletters, make a donation specifically to start one. If you want to hear what other alumni are doing, try to remember the last time you let the chapter know what you're doing. If you don't understand the direction the chapter is headed, the undergraduate officers may well be able to help you. They are the leaders for the actives. If you'd rather, you can always turn to the "BB" or the ABT for answers. If you should decide that you're too old to associate with the actives on a social basis, become involved with an alumni chapter. But don't forget about the fraternity. It really can be the "lifelong experience" you were promised when you pledged. That was when you first gripped the Bond of Brotherhood, don't drop it now. ΔΧ

There were those Chapters such as Minnesota and Ohio State that allowed "double membership," that is membership in Delta Chi and in a general Social fraternity at the same time. Then there were those Chapters such as Cornell, Union and Michigan who felt that a man should belong to only one Greek Letter society of a general Fraternity nature.

DELTA CHI

GOES SINGLE MEMBERSHIP

The argument was "a man can be a good Mason and a good Elk." But the opposition said, "No man can serve two masters."

by Pat Constantine, Gorham State '76

During the past year, research has appeared in the Quarterly delving into the dusty archives of Delta Chi to explore two of our better known historical moments. These were the stories of our founding and our becoming a general Fraternity. But there were other moments equally influential in the evolution of The Delta Chi Fraternity.

Time obscures the sarcastic humor behind friendly correspondence, the personality behind a written idea, and the dealings between sessions of an old Delta Chi Convention.

It is through this obscurity that we piece together the first decade of this century, and the mark it left upon us.

Ardent students of our founding will recall that at least one of the founding Fathers was a member of another Social Fraternity. Delta Chi stood out as a Law Fraternity, not an honorary or club, but yet something special. As the Fraternity expanded, a divergent policy grew, contoured by the different chapters. There were those Chapters such as Minnesota and Ohio State that allowed "double membership," that is membership in Delta Chi and in a general Social fraternity at the same time. Then there were those Chapters such as Cornell, Union and Michigan who felt that a man should belong to only one Greek Letter society of a general Fraternity nature.

The limelight focused on the issue as early as 1903 and was personified by the man elected as "CC" that year. Floyd Carlisle, Cornell '03, was awarded that office while still an undergraduate. The election is indicative of the impression this man made on a group. As an undergraduate he was able to devote more time to Fraternity affairs than other officers who, recently graduated, were engrossed in establishing their law practices.

Carlisle became the primary organizer of the next convention, and the events that it was to include. (Conventions were held annually at that time.) It was paramount in his mind that single membership should become the standard of the fraternity.

But most older brothers; those most polished in their oratory skills and, therefore, most likely to be elected officers at that time; approved of the double membership standard. Their argument was "a man can be both a good Mason and a good Elk." It was the younger and undergraduate brothers that seemed to lean to the single membership standard. Their campaign motto was "No man can serve two masters."

Carlisle grappled with the problem of how to elect pro-single membership officers. He reasoned that only a change in the fraternity's form of government could change the prevalent philosophy. His solution was the reorganization of the "XX", the governing body between conventions at that time. The new body would be expanded to include 15 members, almost 1 per chapter. The Chapters would directly elect these members, and since the undergraduate chapters primarily favored single membership, it was theorized that they would elect representatives supporting this position. This group would then elect the General Fraternity officers, and it seemed to follow that pro-single membership officers would prevail. The plan gained the approval of the 1904 convention, and seemed to work quite well. Not only did it create a single-membership trend in the fraternity, but Carlisle was elected as "AA" the following year.

The chapter reports at this convention show that a number of chapters included men who belonged to social fraternities. It was clear that a total change could not be immediately expected and, after lengthy deliberations, a compromise was reached. Following the lead of the Stanford Chapter, the convention re-worded the constitution to allow men from other fraternities to join Delta Chi only if there was no active chapter of their fraternity at the campus they were attending. This move appeased those Law School Chapters that were not associated with a major university, and which felt that the best law students were those who had been fraternity men prior to attending Law School.

The aspiring lawyers of the day found many ways to interpret the provisions of the 1904 convention. Edward Nettles, "AA" in '05 was asked so many questions about the membership standard that he pleaded with the '05 convention to arrive at a definite policy.

Unrecorded are the debates inside, and of course, outside the convention floor that year. Nettles had appointed a committee to interpret the previous year's provision. But their report concerned several chapters, especially the New York Law Chapter. Their perceived disenfranchisement led to the returning of their Charter the following year. It was a sad moment in the pangs of growth, yet this only foreshadowed the trouble the issue was to cause in the years to come.

With considerably less ceremony than the return of a Charter to the '06 convention, honorary offices were abolished in the fraternity. The move seems insignificant, merely to limit memberships that had been offered for public relations purposes in prior years. Yet it is clear that the ideological identity of this brotherhood was increasingly important to its membership. No longer were men such as Benjamin Harrison, Robert Todd Lincoln, and William Jennings Bryan to be offered membership in Delta Chi simply due to their status in the legal profession.

Following the '06 convention, the Quarterly began reporting that double membership was prohibited, but it does not appear from the records that decisive action had been taken at the convention. It must be remembered that there was no Headquarters Office for the fraternity at that time, and the Quarterly was edited on a voluntary basis. Under this system the publication tended to be influenced by the views of the then current editor as well as elected officers.

Despite the Quarterly's reports, questions and arguments continued to emanate from chapters facing their unique realities at each Delta Chi campus.

At the '07 convention a lively contingent from Cornell took the lead as the foremost proponent of the single membership standard. When asked about taking men from other fraternities their rousing yell was "no, by God!" Still 8 out of 19 Chapters at the convention included men active in other fraternities. Finally, after much of the raucous accompanying conventions to this day, it was resolved "that it is the sense of the thirteenth annual convention that the ideal of the Delta Chi Fraternity is one of single membership, and our future development and expansion shall be consistent with this ideal."

We must notice, however, that the action of the convention stopped still short of a Constitutional amendment. Without this, a few Chapters remained adamant about their need to allow men from other fraternities into Delta Chi.

Floyd Carlisle "AA" '05-'06

"The problem was to elect pro-single membership officers. Carlisle's solution was the reorganization of the "XX." The plan seemed to work quite well. Not only did it create a single membership trend in the Fraternity, but Carlisle was elected as "AA" the following year."

As the fight continued at the '09 convention the delegates from several universities were unseated by a vote of the floor. The pro-single membership forces now held a stacked deck of delegates eligible to vote.

But the tide had turned and by now the flow of opinion was solidly behind single membership. At the '08 Convention, the Stanford and West Virginia Chapters were called upon to defend their divergent practices. While Stanford pled ignorance to the full impact of the previous year's decision, West Virginia could only resolve the problem by the return of their Charter the following year.

By the 1908 Convention, Delegate Rogalski of Cornell proposed an amendment to the Constitution barring anyone from membership in Delta Chi who was a member of any general, academic, or professional college fraternity. Delegate Barnum of the Chicago Alumni Chapter pointed out that from the beginning we were a legal fraternity and not just a law club. Both of these men gained the applause of approval from the convention floor.

In a painful purge of personality, the arguments arose from each side. The amendment was rephrased several times to accommodate as many opinions as possible. Three role call votes were held, but each time the amendment fell slightly short of the three-fourths majority needed for the amendment to be included in the constitution.

The convention was unable to resolve the deadlock. Yet the next day, it was nearly unanimously carried that "it is the sense of . . ." this convention that Delta Chi is a single membership fraternity. And the convention did pass a resolution prohibiting men who were already Delta Chi brothers from joining any other college general, academic, or professional fraternity.

At last, in '09 the confusion and uncertainty was to subside. The concluding chapter in the saga of single membership is clearly not one of the proudest in fraternity tradition. Despite the plea for "charity in our deliberations" by "AA" Joseph Hartigan, legal maneuvering upstaged fraternal bond. When Hartigan mentioned that "Brothers come and go . . . but Delta Chi remains," we can only wonder if it was an unknowing prediction of, or a sighing resignation to deliberations that were about to cause brothers, and entire Chapters to "come and go."

Delta Chi was a legal fraternity and the aspiring lawyers were no strangers to the polished proprieties (or improprieties) of parliamentary procedure. John Kuhn, a past and unknowingly also a future "AA" arose and set the stage at the third session of the '09 convention.

Brother Kuhn offered a resolution to the floor that amounted to the unseating of the delegates from the University of Chicago, the University of Virginia, Washington University in St. Louis, and the Chicago-Kent Chapters due to alleged violations of the constitution or breach of promise to other chapters. Feverish attempts to amend, recess and adjourn the convention by the delegates in question were overruled or lost by vote.

The delegates were unseated by a vote of the floor, and their cases turned over to a committee for consideration. The die was thus cast. The pro-single membership forces now held a stacked deck of delegates eligible to vote. Those unseated had "coincidentally" been in favor of dual membership.

Delegate Ahern of Ohio State, who had been instrumental in the previous maneuver, moved that the convention move immediately to the report of the committee on the constitution. The report suggested adoption of a change in Section 53 of the Constitution to read "No one shall be eligible for election to membership in a chapter of Delta Chi who is a member of a general college fraternity. The convention minutes record no debate and simply state "motion was put to a vote and, by a vote of 35 to 10, was carried." A six year effort calmly reached its climax.

The deed was done and with the opening of the fourth session, Delegate Ahern moved that the delegates who had been unseated that morning now be reseated. He stated that he felt these chapters had been punished enough for "admittedly" violating the constitution or their promise. A conciliatory effort must also be noted however. These Chapters were allowed by later vote to initiate inactive general fraternity men for the next 2-3 years where they deemed it absolutely necessary.

The immediate casualties following the convention included the return of the Northwestern and Washington University (of St. Louis) Charters. But the tide of change had only begun to engulf Delta Chi. During the next dozen years, another undertow would build to turn the fraternal ship. The tug may have even been felt by those men in '09 — the tug to become a general fraternity. ΔΧ

The BRIDGE BUILDERS: Educational Foundation Donors

An old man, going a lone highway,
Came at the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm vast and deep and wide;
The old man crossed in the twilight dim,
The sullen stream had no fear for him;
But he turned when safe on the other side
And built a bridge to span the tide.
"Old man," said a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your strength with building here;
Your journey will end with the ending day,
You will never again pass this way;
You've crossed the chasm deep and wide;
Why build you this bridge at evening tide?"
The builder lifted his old gray head—
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said,
"There followeth after me today,
A youth whose feet must pass this way;
This chasm that has been naught to me
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be;
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim—
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him."

The ground breaking ceremony for the new chapter house at Auburn on October 18, climaxed four years of planning and preparation. Getting to this point was a lengthy and time consuming project for the chapter and its alumni.

Nearly four years ago it was decided that only the construction of a completely new house would meet the present and future needs of the chapter. The old house was listed with a realtor and negotiations with the University regarding a site on campus and a loan began. The site proved to be quite an obstacle, inasmuch, as an entire new fraternity row was necessary. Naturally a new row meant new sewers, new streets, utilities and action by the Auburn University Board.

A committee of alumni and undergraduates selected an architect from seven firms that made presentations.

Ground Breaking:

One more step as both Auburn alumni and undergraduates build for the future

Then the actual planning began. Present and future needs were balanced against financial resources in arriving at a plan with which everyone could be happy. Five builders were interviewed and bids were let. Finally the low bidder, who happened to be a Delta Chi alumnus, was selected. Several more meetings were necessary to bring the size and scope of the house within the budget.

Meanwhile the old house was sold with a lease-back agreement that allowed the chapter to continue living there. The major loan from the University was approved and a smaller loan for $15,000 was granted by the Delta Chi Housing Fund Committee. Alumni contributions started to come in as the project gained momentum. The fund raising campaign is still under way.

The dream is becoming a reality because of the dedication of both undergraduates and alumni. This spring the Auburn Chapter will become the first fraternity on the new Greek row. With the past for a foundation, and the present as the building blocks, Auburn looks forward to a challenging future.

Launching its second year in its new house on 2721 Channing Way, the Abras have started out on the right foot with successful house improvement, rush, and social programs at the outset of 1980-81. Following a year in which house membership expanded from 17 to 45 actives and a virtually derelict building was transformed into an attractive and functional fraternity house, the Abra chapter has continued to expand on this base and grow into one of the strongest houses on the Berkeley campus.

Summer saw the active membership complete an ambitious renovation project just prior to fall rush week. Improvements on the house included a brick patio and relandscaping the front yard, construction of a deck on the second floor, repainting the exterior of the house, sandblasting and refinishing the redwood interior, electrical and plumbing work, and lastly, an $11,000 kitchen remodeling contracted to house members. This major facelift greatly aided our efforts in rush, which paid off with the pledging of 12 new men, boosting house membership to 55 and filling the house to maximum occupancy with 35 live-ins.

As pre-term activities gave way to the start of school, the Abra brothers turned their attention to the fall quarter social calendar and academic obligations. The year was begun in fine form with two highly successful little sister rush parties, promising a prosperous Chi Delphia program for 1980-81. Sorority presence also registered as an early social highlight, as the Abras, along with three other fraternities, hosted a boisterous post-presence party. To complement their social efforts, the brothers were intent on maintaining their #4 ranking among Cal fraternities in cumulative GPA, a standing which placed them in the top 10% for 1979-80.

Steve Schumann "E"

Alabama

During the summer months, the brothers concentrated on an intense rush program which resulted in the pledging of 20 new men.

Two brothers, Jeff Hyche '82, and Derek Stokes '81, had the opportunity to work as interns to officials in Washington, D.C. One of the officials was Congressman Richard Shelby '55, an alumnus of the chapter.

Walter Granger '50, after serving the chapter as "BB" for 25 years, has retired from his office. In commemoration of his duties and service to Delta Chi, the brothers passed a resolution honoring Mr. Granger. Robert Chakales '76 was elected the new "BB".

This fall, the brothers have been active in many community projects. In September, the chapter hosted a football game with underprivileged children and for Halloween the brothers, along with Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, went Trick-or-Treating for UNICEF.

Our Chi Delphian rush, under the leadership of Jim Rogers '83, added 35 new girls to the little sister program.

We want to extend a cordial invitation for all alumni to visit the chapter any time during the year.

Brothers, the semester began like an explosion with a fall rush in which this chapter pledged 34 outstanding men. Shortly thereafter, Chi Delphia rush was held and 48 outgoing young women joined our organization. The spark of the pledge class together with the support of the Chi Delphias and the enthusiasm of the active chapter started off a terrific school year and enabled the Delta Chis to reaffirm our leadership in the Greek community.

Much of the enthusiasm was carried over into our philanthropic endeavors for the Red Cross blood drive, Casa De Los Ninos canned food drive, and the Tucson Big Brothers' Day. The house also held a fund-raising car wash in which we earned about $600.

Greek Week was another event in which the Delta Chis did very well. The theme for the week was M.A.S.H. and Delta Chi took first place in the following events: Country Swing and Jitterbug dance contests, the M.A.S.H. theme party, and the overall Greek Olympics. Delta Chi, with our sorority pairing, Delta Delta Delta, won first place overall by the widest margin in the past three years.

On campus, Delta Chis held the highest offices in: Bobcats, a senior honorary for the top 13 senior men; Inter-Fraternity Council, the governing body of the Greek community; and the Order of Omega, the junior and senior national Greek honorary for the top scholastic students. Delta Chis also headed many of the ASUA committee chairmanships.

Parents' Day and Homecoming events were planned and enjoyed by both parents and alumni. An alumni vs. active chapter softball game for Homecoming day was planned by Walt Johnson '67. Hopefully this game will become a tradition for Homecoming weekend.

We hope to continue next semester with the same enthusiasm as we began with this semester. Our newly established Alumni Association is expected to help our alumni participation increase quite a bit in the near future.

Terry M. Scali "E"

Auburn

Fall quarter started off well for the brothers of the Auburn Chapter. We had a very successful rush and have pledged 17 new associate members.

This fall was highlighted by the official ground-breaking for our new house, October 18. The house, scheduled to be completed March 22, 1981, will house 32 men and a housemother.

So far we have received $20,000 from alumni, brothers and friends. Each donation of $371 or more will get the donor a brick from the present house with a plaque bearing his name.

In sports we are off to a good start and are once again in contention for the all-sports trophy.

Academically we are fifth in fraternity standings and our average is above that of all campus men.

George T. Affleck "E"

Ball State

Following a midsummer reunion in Muncie, the Ball State Chapter returned to a new look this fall as extensive remodeling to both the interior and exterior of the house was completed in August.

Formal rush brought us 21 new pledges after a 3-week rush which was highlighted by a Nuts 'n Bolts party with the Alpha Phi Sorority and an impressive Hawaiian Luau.

Phil Stiers '71 was recently elected as our new faculty sponsor in addition to his duties as "BB."

A new alumni relations program has begun. Quarterly newsletters will be sent in order to re-establish vital communications between alumni and chapter.

In fall sports, the Battle Axe football and co-ed football teams are undefeated and expect to do well in campus play-offs. We are also represented in cross-country, golf, soccer, and co-ed volleyball and basketball.

Being narrowly edged out of first place in scholastic ranking among the 17 local fraternities, Delta Chi hopes to capture first after the posting of fall quarter grades.

On campus, Delta Chi was strongly represented in Delta Tau Delta's annual "Watermelon Bust" with three teams which captured two of the six Greek events as well as the highly coveted Spirit Trophy.

Chapter also recently welcomed and entertained the Indiana pledge class for a weekend.

Anthony J. Owens "E"

Buffalo

October 11, 1980 we held our first annual Founders' Day Banquet. Sixteen brothers and their guests welcomed seven alumni and nine associate members and their guests. Addressing the chapter were Rick Lewis '81, Jerry Higgins '81, Steve Kerler '82 and alumni Dave Townsend '80 and "BB" Eugene Pembroke, Miami '49.

The chapter sponsored Donna Pearo and Paul Aizaga '82 in the Muscular Dystrophy Dance Marathon. Our brothers maintained the security force throughout the 30-hour contest in the student union.

Homecoming weekend was celebrated with a bonfire and an open university party sponsored by the Inter-Greek Council. Our representatives to the IGC are John Horwedel '82 and IGC President Mark Poblete '81.

The chapter has organized a Scholarship Committee. William Margel, Penn St. '65 has sponsored a scholarship to be awarded to the brother who achieves the highest grades in school this year.

In our sports program, we sponsored teams in intramural soccer, mixed volleyball, basketball, hockey and softball. We also staged a football game against our pledge class.

Ten men were pledged this fall as our rush program was reorganized and began in the first two weeks of the school year.

Our chapter was contacted in person by brothers from Gannon College and members of the Red and Buff Club of Potsdam State College. We would like to wish them luck in the coming year.

John Hart "E"

Columbus

Fall quarter started off with a boom as we received our long-awaited charter. The brothers of the Columbus Chapter would like to thank those chapters who sent their congratulations. We are both proud and happy to be charter members in the Delta Chi family.

Rush is going well as we have inducted 21 associate members, including our second reverse legacy. This is our largest class ever. And, believing that rush is a never-ending activity, we have several more men who have signed bids for our next associate member class. Along with these fine men, we have also filled our quota for little sisters, as many of the women on campus have shown a great interest in Delta Chi.

Over the summer we initiated five new brothers into the Bond and six new women into Chi Delphia.

On campus, little sister Janice McCarty is the reigning Miss Columbus College as well as Vice-President of Scholastic Affairs in the Student Government. Also, two of our brothers and one of our little sisters hold seats on the SGA senate. Along with being active in the SGA, we have two brothers who hold positions on the school newspaper. Our flag football team is doing very well this year being one of the teams reaching the play-offs.

Around the house, Steve Brown '80, received a plaque for being the man who aided us the most in reaching our goal in becoming a chapter. This quarter

The Auburn House will feature four-man suites, study, exercise room, hot tub and sauna and party room.

we are having our annual Halloween party and then will end the quarter with our famous "End of The World Party."

Bobby James "E"

Connecticut

The Connecticut Chapter of Delta Chi remains strong in the spirit of the Bond, bigger and better than ever. This fall's pledging period has been our most successful in recent years. Nine associate members are to be initiated into the Bond later this month under the judicious guidance of pledge counselor Brian Waxler '81.

Our chapter has carried on operations in a house situated off the Storrs campus for the past four years. Through the arduous work of the active brothers in coordination with our newly established Housing Corporation, helpful alumni, and the resolute support of our new faculty adviser, Dr. John Manning, the University has seen fit to relocate the Connecticut Chapter on campus. The new house will be ready for permanent occupation next fall and will join the ranks of three other Greek organizations already relocated on campus earlier this year. The Greeks are back at the University of Connecticut!

Our annual UCONN vs YALE football outing turned out a whopping success with a record number of alumni on hand for the festivities. The chapter sponsored a very successful bloodmobile for the American Red Cross this past October. A Halloween costume bash, touted by many as the party of the semester, will once again be put on and enjoyed by the Delta Chi brothers.

Jumping ahead to next semester. The chapter's annual Quasi-Formal will take place Saturday, Feb. 14, 1981 at the Faculty Alumni Center. The brothers encourage and would enjoy the presence of any Connecticut alumni wishing to attend this splendid event.

Thomas M. Shaughnessy "E"

Cornell

Fall semester began with the chapter house filled to capacity with one of the largest and most enthusiastic groups of men in years. The beginning of the semester was marked by our annual front lawn bash, "Roll on the Knoll." Despite unfavorable weather, the campus-wide party was a big success.

Unfortunately, many of us were not here to celebrate our 90th birthday October 13, since there was a campus recess at this time. Nevertheless, the brothers and nearly 100 alumni celebrated our 90th anniversary during Homecoming Weekend, two weeks later.

The weekend, which included as main events a pizza and beer bash one evening and a formal dinner party the next, saw the involvement of all of the brothers, particularly Kirk Fry '83, and Marshall Haggard '81, who provided fine jazz music; Michael Huyghue '83, who presented an excellent magic show and Jerry Salador '82, Homecoming Chairman. The hit of the weekend though, was Hugh Johnstone '17, who told fascinating stories of the days when Delta Chi was becoming a general social fraternity, and of the days when our present chapter house was being built.

For all of us here at the founding chapter, it was a proud time and will not soon be forgotten.

Scholastically, we have quite a few brothers who recently were inducted into honor societies, and one recipient of three honorary scholarships. Kevin Kalenty '83, was inducted into Alpha Lambda Delta, while Richard Bress '82, and Cameron Fish '81, were both inducted into Aleph Se Mach. Charles Geerhart '81, is a new member of Mortar Board and Stewart Leftow '81, is the recent recipient of the Cornell Men's Clubs' Benson, Leister Memorial, and Arts and Sciences scholarships.

In intramural sports, the most notable accomplishment was the winning of the tennis championship by Bradford Siff '83, and Gregory Karabinos '82.

Our two main goals for the remainder of the semester include, of course, a very successful rush, as well as a reorganization of our alumni program, so that, among other things, the brothers will be more involved in the program.

Jerry Salador "E"

Denison

Delta Chi at Denison is alive and kicking! With the house at a capacity of 22, plus three out-of-house actives and 20 little sisters, we're in a healthy position.

Rush is almost over at this writing, and it looks like 15-20 enthusiastic young men will enter into our experience. Presently in the initiation stage are programs of community interaction and a Delta Chi speaker series.

So far this year's major events have been Homecoming Weekend (featuring luncheon, dinner, a knock-out party, and survivors' brunch), Heaven and Hell Party, the annual Delta Chi-Black Student Union Party, "Welcome Home" all-school socializer, as well as rush/little sister parties. In the conception stage are plans for a criterium bicycle race for charity around campus next spring.

We hope to see you when we host the Region VI Conference in February!

Gerry Tranowski "E"

Eastern Illinois

First of all, Eastern Illinois would like to announce that we took 20 associate members during fall rush. Many thanks to our two rush chairmen who motivated said success. We were also pleased to have Executive Director, Ray Galbreth, attend our Homecoming festivities. Our Homecoming was a great success this year. The car float entry in the parade took a first place trophy.

We trust other alumni will be able to attend our spring pig-roast, EQ, May 2, 1981.

A final note of interest is that the chapter shall host the Regional Leadership Conference this year.

Dan Reilly "E"

Embry-Riddle

The Embry-Riddle chapter initiated five fine men

He was the hit of the weekend. Hugh Johnstone '17, fascinated the Cornell Chapter with his reminiscences. He was honored to cut the anniversary cake.

into the Bond of Delta Chi at the beginning of the fall trimester. We currently have a 15-man pledge class. This is a very healthy number for the start of a new school year. The success of our rush program can be attributed to rush chairman, Greg Wilder '82.

Social activities have been quite plentiful with the Founders' Day Banquet highlighting the trimester. We had a very successful showing of alumni at the banquet and hope to see more next year.

On the day following our banquet, Bruce Carver '82, represented the fraternity in a local swim-a-thon sponsored by the Leukemia Society and swam an earth-shattering 200 laps. A total of $210 was pledged by brothers and alumni for his swimming.

We look forward to a very prosperous trimester working toward academic excellence.

Bill Goebel Asst. "E"

Florida

Thanks to many long hours of work the Florida Chapter is off to a great start this year. The brothers worked very hard preparing for fall rush, making several house improvements. The work paid off during rush as 44 pledges were added to our rolls.

We were all very happy to see so many alumni back visiting their House at Homecoming. The weekend included George Burns performing at Gator Growl; Delta Chi winning the float competition; and Jim Swann '82, taking first place in the Ugly Man on Campus competition for the second straight year. By doing so, Jim raised $500 for the United Way Fund and a date with the Homecoming queen. Other service projects this quarter have included chopping wood for the poor in Gainesville and the making of a pine cone Christmas tree for the Sunland Center of Gainesville.

Although the Florida Chapter fell a little short last year in the race for the President's Cup, we are looking forward to the challenge of another year. On campus, we are all very proud of our 5-1 Florida football team. How 'bout them Gators!

Michael Lafever "E"

Gannon

The brothers of Gannon Chapter returned to the university with high hopes and enthusiasm to start off a great year. The brothers took second place in the United Way's tug-of-war contest.

Sports are on the upswing. Led by the fine pitching of Dan Sullivan and an awesome defense, we were able to make the playoffs in softball, where we lost in the semi-finals by the score of 2 to 1. Our football squad looks nothing less than awesome. People took notice when we demolished the Pikes 28 to 0 in our first game.

Samuel Kirk "E"

Georgia

Scholastics, athletics, and campus involvement continue as the areas where Georgia Delta Chis are making the most noteworthy accomplishments.

Last spring, our chapter ranked third out of 26 fraternities with a 2.92 GPA. Two brothers, Mike Pickle '83 and John Johnson '83, have been invited to join BIFTAD, the highest honor a male freshman or sophomore can receive. Tim Bonner '82, has joined Golden Key National Honor Society.

Our golf team, composed of Paul Clayton '81, Bill Miller '81, Glen Brown '82 and Rich Wood '82 won the all-fraternity golf tournament held in late May. Our football team currently sports a 1-1 record.

In terms of campus involvement, Brother Johnson is the managing editor of the newly-formed Interfraternity Council newspaper and sports editor of the student yearbook. Brother Bonner is the news editor of the student newspaper, and Lance Kern '81, and John Frame '84 are new members of the Demosthenian Literary Society.

Rush brought us eight new pledges this fall, as well as three new Chi Delphias. We are also extremely pleased that the Georgia Chapter has been chosen as the site for the 1981 Region VIII convention.

Timothy K. Bonner "E"

Georgia Southern

Fall quarter got under way with the initiation of four new brothers into the Bond. During rush, 11 new pledges were added, and we are expecting a lot from them as they are fine men.

Sportswise, we are again making our presence felt by fielding a strong football team and a scrappy volleyball team. However, our best showing came in the annual Dale Lick Run, where we took first place in the fraternity division.

In academics we have risen to second overall of 14 fraternities. In this quarter we hope to gain the top spot. Brothers here are working hard to bring the scholastic trophy to Delta Chi.

Iowa State Delta Chis get plenty of practice in cooking and eating...of course they prefer the latter... at their Homecoming Pig Roast.

Socially, our Founder's Day Banquet was quite a success. Many alumni returned and brothers Cliff Burchfield, '79 and Charlie Mooror, '78, gave inspirational speeches along with chapter "BB" Duke Jones, '78, who was the key note speaker. Everyone from alumni to pledge had a great time. The following day's Red 'n Buff game was great too, with the two sides playing to an 18-18 tie. There were no losers at all that weekend. We are also planning a social with the Chi Omega sorority in the near future.

We are off to a good start in our second year of chapter status, and we hope to keep growing, making a mark for Delta Chi on the campus of Georgia Southern.

Hobart

The past year has been both eventful and fruitful for the Hobart Chapter. It has been a time marked by many successes, spurred on by the strong efforts of all the brothers.

The annual Harvey Wallbanger all-campus party was a great success, including the chic party music of Joe Wolendo and his all Brass Band. Our next function was the annual Alumni Weekend ceremonies. The turnout was surprising and everyone enjoyed the surf and turf dinner prepared by the house cook, Joyce Kelley.

The Hobart Chapter was presented the Dean's Award for the highest grade point average of all fraternities on campus. This included both the winter and spring terms. The averages, of 3.1 and 3.3 respectively, were impressive first place finishers.

We were also awarded a civic prize for winning a blood drive sponsored by the Red Cross.

Thus, we are looking optimistically towards the rest of the year. Yet to come are the Christmas Party, rush and myriad spring functions.

Kevin Wrege "E"

Huntsville

The Huntsville Chapter enjoyed a wonderful Founder's Day celebration held at a local hotel. Several alumni and their wives attended as the Founding President, Fernando Arias '78, presented a moving history of the chapter, now entering its fifth year. The evening concluded with much song and dance as the brothers enjoyed themselves.

We are proud to have pledged 11 new men into the chapter during fall rush. The chapter is exceptionally pleased with their conduct and high attitudes. We look forward to seeing their growth through education and the Bond.

Huntsville Chapter remains a viable and important asset to social life at the University of Alabama in Huntsville. This level of involvement is constantly strived for by every member.

William Tipton Hoover "E"

Idaho

The Idaho Chapter is having another good semester. A successful rush filled our house with the pledging of 21 new men, and we initiated four more men into the Bond. Over the summer new showers were installed and our gameroom floor was recarpeted. We are also proud to say that we received the Chapter Excellence Award last year.

This semester's major activities consist of the annual Pledge Dance, Homecoming, and a Christmas party. At this year's Homecoming celebration, Ray Galbreth, Executive Director, was present, and the annual Alumni Board of Trustees Corporation meeting was held. At this time the Helbling-Pederson Outstanding Alumni Award was presented to brothers Eric Koelsh '74 and David Rudeen '77.

We would also like to honor brother Steven Van Slyke '80 at this time as our 1980 Chapter Luminary. Unfortunately, no material concerning him was submitted at the proper time.

Kevin Stanley "E"

Illinois

The year started off well at Delta Chi with the initiation of eight fine young men during New Student Week. To add to this occasion, an all-campus after hours was held, attracting over 2000 people.

Rush has been a strong point for the fraternity. Through a tremendous formal and informal rush the fall pledge class closed with 26 members. The pledges have been very active in sports and campus activities, finishing third in a campus football tournament and also participating in an "egg beg" fund drive for The United Way.

Other Delta Chi accomplishments include a first place finish in the Greek Olympics and a first place finish in the Kappa Alpha Theta-Delta Chi Bed Races in front of 60,000 at a home football game, October 4 (Dad's Day). Intramurals again play an important role in life at Delta Chi with successful teams competing in nearly every sport.

The most important goal for the fraternity this year is a complete living room renovation with new carpeting, drapes, furniture, and lighting being installed as well as a remodeling of the foyer. So far nearly $15,000 has been invested with an estimated end investment of $30,000. The expense is being handled by members of the house, alumni, and a loan. Any contributions will be welcomed.

Once again Dad's Day weekend, October 3-5, was a success with many Delta Chi Dads in attendance. Over $1000 was donated by the dads which was earmarked for the living room fund. After the Illini football game a formal dinner and awards presentation was held. The evening was capped off with a party with the Chi Delphi in the chapter room.

This year's Founders' Day went well with many alumni present to listen to our guest speaker, Stan Levy, Vice-Chancellor for Student Academic Affairs.

Homecoming November 1, included a house deck featuring Chief Illiniwek and former Illini greats Red Grange and Dick Butkus. Many alumni were welcomed to the house for a formal supper and dance that evening.

Delta Chi is represented this year with members of the Fighting Illini football team along with the head varsity manager. Scott Doney '80, is senior and a returning letterman. Mike Carrington '82, is another returning letterman as a junior. A freshman pledge, Jeff Hill is also a team member. Heading the list is senior John Wyeth '81, a four year letterman as the head manager.

The Men of Delta Chi are proud of its national Award of Excellence honor and look forward to yet another successful year.

Lonny Lemon "E"

Illinois State

The Illinois State Chapter celebrated its Tenth Anniversary Homecoming on October 18. We had great alumni support including the attendance of all our original chapter Founding Fathers. We were also honored to have our "DD", Raymond Borelli, Illinois '58, speak at the occasion.

With the beginning of our eleventh year at I.S.U., plans are proceeding to purchase the chapter house located at 608 Broadway and to establish a permanent residence. Thanks go to the alumni and parents for their financial support, especially Fred Lotter '76. Some of the house improvements, thus far, include repainting much of the interior and converting a vacant room into a TV room. We also pinned 14 associate members on September 18.

The First Annual Delta Chi Flag Football Tournament was held on November 7 and 8. Fraternities from Illinois State and Illinois Wesleyan Universities were involved. In softball, we sponsored Zeta Tau Alpha to a third place finish in the Alpha Kappa Lambda Tournament and Chi Omega sponsored us to a third place in the Sigma Nu Tournament. Duane Bochantin '81, captured his third consecutive championship title during the Sigma Phi Epsilon Annual Fite Nite Boxing Tournament. The team finished fourth overall after winning it the previous year.

Jeff Broderick "E"

Indiana

With already half of the fall semester behind us, it is evident that this will be another year of continued growth for the Indiana University Chapter of Delta Chi.

Under the direction of Rush Chairman Dave Bond '82, the chapter was able to pledge 16 associate members over the summer, thus enabling us to begin the pledge program several weeks earlier than anticipated. Since fall is the best time to rush potential members, the chapter decided to open a half class and set a goal of pledging 15 associate members by January 1.

Homecoming was a tremendous success for the chapter this year. Together with our paired sorority Sigma Kappa, we worked diligently the week before Homecoming building a huge lawn display. Many alumni returned to visit the house on Saturday. The weekend was highlighted by a large party on Saturday evening which included the band, McAllister.

In an effort to maintain a high GPA on campus, the chapter secured Mr. Larry Robinson, professor of Computer Science, to be our academic adviser, and instituted a comprehensive academic awareness program for the 1980-81 school year. Award banquets will be held each semester to honor those individuals who actively participate in the program.

The chapter has been doing very well in intramurals so far this semester. We were proud to win the Cream Division Soccer Title for the second year. Presently our "C" Football team is undefeated, and is heading for the All-Campus Title.

Our Semiannual Goal Planning Retreat was held November 9. We reviewed our past commitments, and planned major goals for next semester.

Rob Henthorn "E"

Iowa

To say that the Iowa Chapter got off to a good start this year is indeed a misconception—it has been great!

The summer rush program headed by Al Beardsley, '83 and George Hiller '80 enabled us to pledge some of the finest men that have attended the University of Iowa. With a pledge class of 18, we have a recent high of 37 members living in.

The pledges have been living up to true Delta Chi form in all of their endeavors. Their social program for the Kidney Foundation of Iowa raised over $300. The pledge class also played a key part in helping plan our little sisters fall rush parties and were instrumental in the success of our fall softball team. In the annual Delta Chi fall softball tournament, we wound up winning the trophy for first place with ten teams competing. But, during the annual pledge/active football game, pledge luck fell short as the actives went on to win 35 to 12.

This year's Homecoming was one of our best events to date. Not only did the Hawkeyes win a football game, but the Iowa Chapter swept the Homecoming parade festival by winning first place in the most original float category. After the fun and games were over, the men of the Iowa Chapter got together with their alumni to initiate the Iowa Alumni Association. Larry Audlehelm '71, past Executive Director of the fraternity and past "A" of the house, was unanimously elected "A" of the Alumni Association.

The house has also been very fortunate to have had many distinguished guests thus far this semester. We were honored to have Bill Kelly '23 visit us and tell us about our founding fathers of Iowa. Another important visitor was Phillip Barbour '20 of Cornell. Both Mr. Barbour and Mr. Kelly gave the members of the house many interesting insights into the past of Delta Chi.

Many improvements have been added to the house this year. Brother Dale Knudsen '82, intensified this spirit and enthusiasm by refinishing our basement floors, texturizing the basement ceilings and fixing a television set donated to us by our "BB", John "Hondo" Hess, Creighton, '74. The house also has had most of the furniture in the lounges reupholstered. To top off the new improvements, a new ice machine was purchased for the kitchen.

Winter Sports Night, in which coaches of various winter sports come and speak at the house is scheduled for the end of November. Our featured guests this year are Dan Gable (wrestling) and Glen Patton (swimming).

As you can see, the Iowa Chapter is moving in leaps and bounds. One of our chief motivating factors is our Housemother, Rachel Trpkosh. Rachel is now in her twelfth year as housemother, and without her unwavering support of the house, we would not be experiencing the growing brotherhood we have today.

Steve Goldstein "E"

Iowa State

The winds of fall brought to the Iowa State chapter house lasting changes. New living room furniture was purchased from funds accumulated by the Parents Auxiliary and chapter savings. The efforts of our Alumni Board enabled us to have the house cut and tuckpointed. This renovation, completed in October, has given the brick a new appearance and should help hold the house together for another 60 years.

Homecoming '80 found the Delta Chi's and Chi Delphia participating in the lawn displays division of Football Fire-up Competition. Our show involved miniature Cy's representing each college in the University. Following a stunning football victory, we held the third annual pig roast at the chapter house.

On Sunday, the undergraduate chapter sponsored a Founders Day dinner and program which included a slide show prepared by headquarter's office.

Fall hike '80 was held the third weekend of October with approximately 30 Delta Chi's and Chi Delphia participating. A new aspect of this year's outing was a canoe trip down the Des Moines River.

As we look towards winter, plans are being finalized for a Delta Chi-University of Okoboji fund raiser for a local charity. Other activities planned include caroling in the Ames area, Mom's and Dad's day, and a cabin fever retreat.

Okoboji

The close of the summer marked another active quarter for University of Okoboji Delta Chis. In mid-July we sponsored a summer rush party for the Iowa State Chapter. Over 30 Delta Chis congregated at Lighthouse Point for a weekend of swimming and skiing. With the help of the ISU men, we were defeated by the University of Okoboji competition volleyball team.

The University of Okoboji football team had another successful 3-1 season on September 31, by defeating Iowa, Ohio State and Notre Dame, but again losing soundly to Iowa State.

Plans for winter quarter involve sponsoring a weekend retreat for the men of ISU's chapter featuring ice fishing and snowmobiling.

Dave Kooistra "E"

Jacksonville State

The months of summer and fall have found the Jacksonville State Chapter hard at work. The weeks of August were used to make extensive repairs on the house and grounds. This gave us a chance to show off the house during rush. Our efforts then and during Chi Delphia Rush resulted in the pledging of 23 pledges and 30 little sisters.

We are now currently third in intramural football and getting ready for volleyball and basketball seasons. Delta Chi is near the top of the Miller Reclamation Drive and is optimistic for the chances of winning first prize. Several theme parties were sponsored by not only the actives, but Chi Delphia as well. These parties included such themes as "Casino Night," "Halloween," and our first annual "South Sea's Fantasy." Several mixers with sororities were held as well.

Founder's Day 1980, was another successful event held by our chapter. Dr. Ernest Stone (a Delta Chi himself), President of J.S.U., was the featured speaker. Dr. Stone was honored with a plaque commending his service to the school and Delta Chi on the eve of his retirement at the end of the school year.

The brothers and Chi Delphia of J.S.U. hope that our alumni will continue to come by and support us as they did at Homecoming. We plan to hold alumni events during the spring and summer and believe that a successful chapter is the result from active alumni.

Bob Butler "E"

Kansas

Returning to a houseful of new faces and beginning a new school term provided a needed break from a blistering summer for Kansas Delta Chis. A successful spring and summer informal rush program plus an outstanding effort in fall formal rush yielded a 24-man pledge class. As a result of several all campus parties during "Country Club" week, we have 56 girls participating in our Chi Delphia program.

As classes started, academic achievement was emphasized to the new pledge class and throughout the active chapter, with the goal in mind to raise our house GPA of 2.95, which was one of the highest fraternity averages on campus last semester. The chapter was proud of Paul Coffeen '82, who was designated as a Summerfield Scholar by the Kansas Chancellor's Honors' Scholarship Committee.

The house football team demonstrated its prowess on the field by fostering an undefeated record and taking the "A" league championship. Other notable athletic achievements were taking first place in the Sigma Chi "Derby Day" volleyball competition and third place in a marathon run sponsored by the Alpha Phi Sorority.

This year, Homecoming brought recognition to the chapter in two ways. Our Homecoming parade float received third place in the moving float division. We also added a new touch to the Homecoming festivities by co-sponsoring with KY-102 radio a "Cruiser Queen" competition. We selected three lovely young ladies through a beauty contest format and they were driven through the Homecoming parade with two of the radio station's prominent disc jockeys.

Social highlights during the first part of the fall included our annual "stag" party and "Spolie Olie" party; functions with Alpha Phi, Alpha Delta Pi, and Alpha Gamma Delta Sororities; and a "Massachusetts Street" bar run, plus a Halloween party with our little sisters.

After over a year of structural and financial planning, our new fire escape is finished. We wish to thank those alumni whose help was invaluable in this project.

Paul R. Coffeen "E"

Kansas City

Working as a tightly knit chapter, the actives of the Kansas City Chapter have had their hopes raised and sustained. The inclusion of seven actives and eight little sisters has really heightened the spirit of this chapter. A noted "first" in the chapter is the addition of a second fall associate member/pledge class. Spring rush foresees an optimistic match in quantity and quality of the two fall classes. With the sustenance of the position of "BB", Roderick Phillips '76, will continue his encouragement of the chapter to meet its future goals.

As a continuous service project, the actives have donated blood to the Community Blood Bank. Several fund-raising projects have succeeded in building the supply of funds necessary for a successful rush. The little sisters threw a Halloween costume party with funds raised from a car wash held in October.

Miss Carla Lefevre, our crowned Miss Kansas City Pageant winner, captured the title of Miss Missouri and competed in the 1980 Miss America Pageant this September.

Proper zoning for the house seems apparent in the future. Randall J. Seever '83, and Duane A. Connor '82, hold representative positions in the local neighborhood organization. With the inclusion of alumnus Donald Meiners '72, as treasurer of the Greater Kansas City Housing Corporation (which owns the house and assists in the upkeep of it) and the obtainment of the two members' positions in the 49/63 Neighborhood Coalition, the chapter has reached firmer footing at 5235 Rockhill Road.

Geoff Tisdale "E"

Lehigh

Ten new brothers were initiated into the Bond October 22. We would like to thank Greg Hauser '75 Michigan State, former Field Secretary, and present Region VII Vice-Regent, for playing an important part in the ritual. At our request, Greg traveled by bus from New York to help us out. We were all impressed with his deep commitment to Delta Chi Fraternity.

This year, our fall rush effort is rising to a special challenge. Not only are we enthusiastically rushing the best men on campus, but our first little sisters are rushing their first pledge class.

We were very proud to have Kevin Kenna '81, and Jerry Miller '80, elected to the editorial staff of our campus newspaper, The Brown And White. They both have made outstanding contributions to the paper for the past few years.

After graduating this past spring, Brother Brad Wyckoff is currently head coach of the always-strong varsity tennis team. Incredibly, the past two coaches before Brad were also Delta Chi men.

Our house presently ranks number six intramurally out of over forty fraternities and living groups. Newly initiated Brother Mike Sutter has been outstanding as intramural chairman this fall.

On a final note, the actives looked forward to Alumni Weekend on November 22, when we traveled to Lafayette College to see the 116th Lehigh-Lafayette football game.

Bret M. Rice "E"

Long Beach

The coming of fall brought with it many improvements to the Long Beach Chapter.

House Improvements Chairman Don DeLave '81, directed the physical changes as the house geared up for fall rush. Some of the more prominent projects were a complete interior paint job and the erection of a new flag pole in the front yard, which now proudly displays a 9 foot long Burgee. The most significant achievement of all, however, was a complete remodeling of the kitchen.

In addition to the physical improvements, we now have a new Alumni Board of Trustees. Led by local founders Ken Cleek '69, and Jerry Kramer '67, they have been holding regular meetings to plan for the financial, physical and spiritual future of the house.

We have also developed a diverse social calendar featuring such events as a Foosball Tournament, Intramural Sports, a Halloween and other miscellaneous parties, exchanges, and a Monte Carlo Night in which the chapter becomes acquainted with many of the brothers' parents.

Ken Konviser "E"

Marquette

We at the Marquette Chapter have made several improvements to our house since last semester. We completed the remodeling of our basement and also bought all new furniture for the living room.

Only a few weeks into the semester, we held a huge bratwurst party featuring the culinary skills of George Bach '81, John Lang '82, and Mike Wlock '83. This set the stage for a successful rush which should increase our active membership. Our rush efforts were also aided by the success of Marquette's Greek Week, of which Brother Bach was chairman.

We recently held our first annual "Tri-Itch" football game with Triangle Fraternity. The traveling trophy will remain in our house after our decisive victory. Many of our brothers participated in Al McGuire's 5-mile run to help raise money for Milwaukee's Children's Hospital.

Vince Maloney '81 and Mark McLennon '82 sang and played guitars for a Delta Chi Variety Hour in our student union which also featured John F. Winkelman '81, performing stand-up comedy.

Rick Kozlowski '82 was given his own sports column in our school newspaper. Brother Lang was elected Publicity Chairman of the Interfraternity Council.

Mark McClellan "E"

Massachusetts

This fall got off to a great start. We were all proud and enthusiastic about our move into a new, and much larger house. The new house holds three times as many brothers as was possible in the old house. Knowing this, our rush program got to work. The result is five new men activated in the Bond, and eight new pledges under the leadership of pledge counselor Timothy Kearney Jr. '79. We have also initiated 45 new Chi Delphias under the organization of Scott Hornung '83.

Homecoming went very well with the return of many of our alumni. Before the football game, there was a homecoming parade, in which every house enters a float. We made ours with Chi Omega sorority, and took first prize for best float. Later the brothers and alumni rejoiced with a celebration party.

Our social calendar contains a variety of events. The highlights include a "50s" exchange with Sigma Delta Tau, and a "Monster Mash" to celebrate Halloween.

Athletically, our intramural football team finished with a 4-3 record. Our only hindrance was costly injuries to key players. We look forward to another outstanding volleyball season under the expert coaching of Dennis Tyrrell '80, who had played varsity volleyball for U-Mass. last year. This year we will have an "A" team, "B" team and a Co-ed team consisting of Chi Delphias and brothers.

Joel Schapero '83, has been elected president of the Flying Club succeeding Greg Denglis '81.

Looking ahead, we realize the amount of work involved in moving into a larger house. Through excellent organization, we plan on increasing our membership. We strive for excellence and a high reputation on and off campus. With help from our alumni and the corporation, hard work, and many long hours from the brotherhood, we should reach our high goals.

Miami

The fall semester started strong for the Miami Chapter. With recognition from the General Fraternity for being one of 13 chapters to receive the Award of Excellence, the spirit at Miami has hit new highs.

The house is also riding a wave of enthusiasm that has spilled over from a highly successful softball season. Delta Chi finished second among all 26 fraternities on campus.

Currently the Miami Chapter is attempting to begin a scholarship program through National's Educational Foundation. The program funded mainly through the alumni, is projected to take form early next semester.

The chapter alumni are all enjoying a detailed alumni directory which was compiled and distributed by Jay Henderson '77 and Ken Johns '78. This special effort by two outstanding alumni illustrates a continuing dedication to the fraternity.

Frederick R. White "E"

Michigan

Fall semester got off to a great start at the Michigan Chapter as John Russell, our 76-year-old chef, returned after a prolonged illness. The house spirit is high and the brothers have never eaten better.

During the term, four men were welcomed into the Bond while formal rush brought three pledges. Chi Delphia had a successful rush adding 12 members to its roster.

We were pleased to see over 40 alumni visit the chapter during Homecoming. During the festivities, Frank Morey '69, was awarded The Outstanding Alumnus Award for his contributions to the active chapter. To top off the weekend, our parade float won a local merchant's award for design.

Scholastically the chapter posted a 3.1 cumulative GPA which is above the average campus GPA.

In addition to our academic achievements, the brothers have been busy making house improvements. The chapter was also victorious in the annual "First Snow" snowball fight with neighboring Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Nu. Neither the Fijis nor the Sigma Nus stood a chance against the "Red and Buff Rush."

Athletically, the brothers didn't fare well as shown by our occupying the basement in the fraternity football league. However, our I.M. basketball team and our championship soccer squad are looking forward to better luck.

Ernie Lueder '78, was also re-elected as "BB".

Don Wyatt "E"

Michigan State

Fall term on the Michigan State campus has been exuberant. The same can be said about our Michigan State Chapter of Delta Chi. The year started out well with all brothers contributing to a successful rush that led to 12 new pledges. With over 100 active members, we are the largest house on campus. Our little sister program has attracted 50 ladies that will become Chi Delphias later in the term.

Scholastically, the Michigan State Chapter ranked eight out of 26 fraternities. Under our "A", Gary Foxworth '80, we are striving to improve on this mark.

Homecoming '80 saw the return of approximately 200 alumni and guests. This year's float placed sixth in the parade. We all tried to forget the loss to Wisconsin by ending the evening with a hayride and a party.

Jim Lemle '82, our "B", has the House Improvement Committee off to a good start. During the last six months, the TV room was carpeted and new lamps were purchased for the living room. Next on the agenda is a remodeled bar and needed bathroom repairs.

Socially, the term should see some variety in theme parties with Bill Blaha '81 in command.

Our intramural fall sports are underway with the All-Sports Trophy in close sight this year. The house football team has won its first three games.

Again this year, we are planning a "Founder's Day" celebration. It will be commemorating our 46th anniversary. All the brothers are looking forward to another visit of our alumni.

John J. Klein "E"

Minnesota

The fall quarter at Minnesota followed a most successful summer rush. Through formal and informal rush, 17 men became associate members. Soon afterward four men were activated and have become the nucleus of leadership in the house.

Chi Delphia rush went well. The weekend of October 17 was homecoming and included a mural for the front of the house, a barbeque before the game, and an evening formal.

The following weekend was the Big-10 Greek Development Conference which included schools from across the midwest.

Mark Pirkle "E"

Mississippi State

The Mississippi State Chapter of Delta Chi is continuing to grow in both spirit and membership. Informal rush was a successful one with such activities as our annual TogaFest and Hat parties. We have pledged two men and a new little sister.

October 11 was Homecoming day here at State and a special one for Delta Chi. Activities included pledge bar, backyard cook-out, and a party that night. The brothers were so happy to see all the alumni who returned for this event. It is the alumni who make Homecoming a special event. We also had our biennial canoe trip on the Warrior River in Alabama. It was a truly unforgettable experience.

Our chapter sponsored a girl for the Miss Reveille pageant this year. Other activities include intramural football, pledge-active football game, and a group participation at university football games.

Brian Barnhill "E"

Missouri

The fall semester at the Missouri Chapter got off to a great start with the pledging of nine men. Also, 20 new girls have pledged into Chi Delphia. Along with these new faces in the chapter, the house has a new look this year.

Our alumni, headed by J. Nick Gray Missouri '56 and past "AA", purchased new furniture for our living room. Along with this, the brothers and pledges stripped and varnished the wood, and repainted the walls. Finally, the entire house is being recarpeted.

The Intramural Program is off to a fine start as we have won our first football game and have competed well in all other sports. Also, Brother Kurt Krodringer '82, was our candidate in the Alpha Chi Omega Greek Playboy Contest. The entire chapter participated in the voting, making a great showing for Delta Chi.

The chapter held its Founders' Day celebration on Homecoming Day at Mizzou. Following the game, a dinner and party were held at the house. Many parents and alumni attended the function.

Tim O'Brien "E"

Montevallo

We began the fall semester at Montevallo with the initiation of six new men into the Bond. Recently we have added seven new young ladies to our Chi Delphia organization. Academically we ranked second among campus fraternities for the spring '80 semester and our average was above the all-men's and all-fraternity average.

In campus activities, Brother Warren Higgins '79, was elected vice president of the S.G.A. We also have other brothers and little sisters represented in the senate. In sports, we finished third in flag football.

The brothers have been doing a lot of remodeling on our apartment complex. Among the projects are new floor covering and a brick patio in our back yard. We have also obtained the materials and exterior painting is being planned.

Here at Montevallo we have had a very busy social calendar this fall. Our semi-annual pig roast was a success, we were glad to see quite a few alumni attend. We have hosted a number of theme parties as well during this semester. Our Country and Western party has become a chapter favorite along with our Come as your "Hero" party. Our social chairman Mike Ammons '78, is to be commended for his planning of these and other parties. We expect these social events to aid us in this fall's rush.

The brothers recently re-elected Mark Lovett '75, to continue serving as our chapter "BB".

J. David Veasey "E"

Northeast Missouri

Fall semester has been very successful here at N.M.S.U. The fall rush program was completed with the pledging of 29 men.

Some goals that have been made by the fraternity are: to have a 2.80 GPA for the fall semester, enter the spring semester with 55 actives and improve the Inter-Greek relations on campus.

During the summer the house took on a new look. The house was painted, carpeted, and new furniture was bought. These improvements were made by the contributions of our Alumni Association. Also a new counter was built in the social facility, next to the house.

We are in the stages now of preparing for a second rush season during the fall semester. This is something new to N.M.S.U. and could prove to be very successful.

The chapter is becoming stronger in the intramural scene. Two teams were fielded during softball and three teams are expected to take the floor in both basketball and volleyball. The "Kings" are still playing softball and are in the playoffs, their big victory was over the AGRs with a score of 18-3.

Ways and Means is also keeping everyone busy. In October the Annual Fall Shopping Spree and a Flag Football Tournament were held. Planned for November is an Armory Dance, which everyone on campus looks forward to attending. We are also making buttons for other organizations on campus with the button machine that was purchased.

Our little sister organization is very active and strong again this year. They competed in the fall Little Sis Olympics and again placed second. In November they are planning on preparing Thanksgiving dinner for the chapter. The little sis's were quite an asset during rush and plans are being made for a little sis rush program.

Les Barker "E"

Northern Iowa

The Second Annual Delta Chi Summer Retreat was a little smaller than the first, but every bit as enjoyable. Saturday, July 19, was packed full of football, frisbee, swimming, eating, movies, a couple kegs, meetings, and much reminiscing.

In intramurals our softball team finished with a .500 season and we are currently in second place in football with a 5-2 record.

Homecoming 1980 was October 25. The Delta Chis showed enthusiasm by participating as clowns in the parade. A pre-party for the alumni was held at Steve and Terry Ober's in Waterloo. About 50 Delta Chis, wives and dates attended the game that night in the UNI-Dome. Following the game was a post-party at the Delta Chi house. Those attending were: Donn Schafer '69, Jim Audelhelm '70, Dick Daniels '70, Jim Bruns '72, Jim Winfrey '72, John Wessels '73, Steve Ober '75, John Mauch '73, Stu Sampson '75, Charlie Morse '76, John Buck '77, Bob Murphy '77, Brian Will '78, Bruce Bascom '78, Randy Arneson '80, Ralph Dinnes '80, Ron Abraham Faculty '74, Dan Kester '80, Kevin Culp '81, Bob Lenz '79, and the active chapter plus wives and dates.

The Northern Iowa chapter would like to express our sincere thanks to six alumni, Ron Abraham, Stu Sampson, Scott Klinefelter '76, Jim Bruns, John Buck, and Bob Murphy for the special effort they have given to our chapter in various ways.

Dan Stanislav "E"

Northwest Missouri

During the past summer at Northwest Missouri, the Delta Chis were able to remain active with their two annual work weekends. These weekends consisted of members and alumni working together on house improvements. Some of the projects that were completed include the reconstruction of the front porch and the refinishing of the chapter room floor.

In starting the 1980-81 school year our main concern was rush. Rush was terrific again this semester. We are proud to say that we have pledged 27 of the most outstanding men on the Northwest campus, and are looking forward to accepting them as brothers in the Bond.

This year marks the 75th anniversary of Northwest Missouri State University. This year's Homecoming was a very successful one for everyone. It was very organized due to the hard work of Britt Davis '81 and Amanda Needham, a Chi Delphia. These two were the Homecoming co-chairmen for the entire campus Homecoming festivities. The Delta Chis showed the Homecoming spirit by winning first place in the variety show competition and second place in the float competition for the second year in a row.

Brother Dave Mincer '82, showed his strength as a long distance runner by taking 4th place in the intramural cross country competition. Our intramural football team won the All-Greek Championship by defeating arch rivals, Phi Sigma Epsilon in a semi-final overtime game and Tau Kappa Epsilon in the finals. This was a first for us and cause for chapter pride.

Don Hobbs "E"

Oklahoma State

The fall semester at Oklahoma State University began with the pledging of 25 men and the initiation of our six spring pledges. To our Parents' Club we owe a special thanks for providing us with new living room furniture and we also received new carpeting in the television room and several other rooms. With the help of Ross Shoemaker '80, we won a new color television and a stereo by collecting the most pounds of aluminum cans. On our annual Parents' Day we raised several hundred dollars by raffling our old television set. We are using the money to purchase new tables and chairs for the dining room.

As tradition has it, the Delta Chis have always been very active on the campus-wide executive Homecoming committees. This year has been no exception with Dee Daniel '81, serving on the executive steering committee. Other committee chairmen were Jay Bruce '83, Bill Carter '83, Terry Waller '83, and Tommy Winfrey '81. Kyle Thompson '81, has been appointed president of the Business Student Council, elected secretary of Blue Key and was selected to serve on the Student Advisory Council to the vice president of the University. Scott Thompson '81, and Robbie Brown '81, were elected student government senators and will represent the student council of the College of Engineering. Allen Ripley '82, was elected secretary of College Republicans.

Jon M. Lockwood "E"

Oregon State

We were very proud to begin the 50th anniversary of our chapter by receiving the Award of Excellence from National.

We are especially proud of our 12 new associate members who, we feel, have much potential and will be a great benefit to us and the house in the future.

This year we have added a coed and a men's volleyball team into the intramural program. For the first time in quite awhile, our football team is undefeated in league play and on their way to the league playoffs.

This fall we are preparing for our annual service project which will consist of clearing brush and felling some trees at a Camp Fire Girls' Camp near Sandy, Oregon.

Finally, we would like to give a special thanks to Ray Galbreth, Executive Director, who came down and visited our chapter. We appreciated the enthusiasm and advice that he afforded us.

Don Domeyer "E"

Penn State

Fall is always a busy time for the brotherhood at Penn State, and 1980 has been no exception. Homecoming has just passed, and many hard weeks of work were spent with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority in preparing our float for the annual parade. It was a very rewarding and enjoyable experience for everyone.

The chapter has also been fortunate enough to host two alumni gatherings this fall. In September, a "Fabulous Fifties" get together was held in honor of the chapter's brotherhood from that decade. More recently, our annual homecoming for alumni was held October 19-21. Events for this weekend included a banquet at the chapter house, followed by a meeting of the Alumni Association, with a special presentation by Marsh W. White, "AA" Emeritus, who is also secretary-treasurer of the association. Thanks to our alumni, we are now able to completely refurbish our dining room.

The brotherhood of the Penn State Chapter was most honored to host the Region VII conference this fall, with Robert LaBouy, "AA," in attendance. Numerous chapters and colonies from the Northeast participated and the spirit of the Bond was shared by all.

Intramurals are going very well for us at Penn State this fall. As we approach the end of the term, our football, handball, and golf teams have made the playoffs, while our volleyball team, an annual favorite, is still unbeaten.

Dave Campbell "E"

Purdue

Finally, after two or three slim years, a properly designed budget and enthusiasm have led to a most successful and enjoyable fall semester here at Purdue. Our fall rush produced 16 new associate members with great spirit and at the same time we pledged 21 little sisters into Chi Delphia. With all our new members, you can be sure that our time here at Delta Chi is quite active.

Many campus and house activities have also kept the brothers, as well as pledges, extremely busy. Our annual Beef Roast provided the people with plenty of food as well as a lot of outdoor activity. Homecoming saw many returning alumni and with our football victory over Minnesota, I'm sure the alumni weren't at all disappointed.

Other campus activities have involved our brothers. Steve Collins '82, has most recently been elected president of the Purdue Tae Kwon Doe Club and Steve Garrison '80, has been enjoying the activities of the campus Hang-Gliding Club. This fall we even have a few "athletic supporters" in the house. A. E. Skoog '82, is a starting back for the Purdue Rugby Team and Pete Dickason '83, is now warming up for another season with the Purdue LaCrosse Team.

Thomas G. Weikart "E"

San Diego

The fall semester for Delta Chi got off to a fantastic start with the pledging of 16 great young men and 17 new members of Chi Delphia.

On October 11, we had our annual Founders' Day celebration with over 65 Delta Chis attending. The day was highlighted by the annual alumni vs. active softball game, with the alumni coming out on top.

We, here at the San Diego Chapter, are attempting to start an alumni association. The purpose of this is to get the alumni in the San Diego area more involved with the house. All interested alumni are requested to contact the chapter house for all the information.

The rest of the semester is expected to be just as good as the start. We will be having our annual Thanksgiving Dinner and initiating 16 men into the Bond.

Vinnie Pena "E"

Southeast Missouri

The fall semester at Southeast Chapter was marked by several important accomplishments. By far the most important was the pinning of 19 fine men. At Greek games, Delta Chi won the "mystery event" which was a six legged race. Dave Greaves '80, placed second in the eating contest with a valiant effort. Intramurals this semester included fleetball and basketball. As always, we were again contenders for the basketball championship.

The little sisters aided us in a successful Parents' Day reception at the house. This semester nine little sisters were activated.

Homecoming Activities

The Delta Chi-Delta Gamma float with a theme of We Win? was a winner at Denison's Homecoming festivities.

Eastern Illinois house decorations provided the perfect background for the gathering of friends.

The fall social calendar was highlighted by the annual Christmas formal which was held December 5 at a local convention center. Many theme parties were held this semester. Those that were very special were a Hawaiian Luau, complete with roasted pig, and an Election party.

In campus activities this semester, Ken Stilson '83, secured a major part in the all-school play Death of a Salesman and Mike Garrity '84, was elected to the student activities council.

Randy Loftis "E"

Southern California

This past semester, the number one goal in the minds of the brothers of the Southern California Chapter has been "Spirit and Brotherhood." This was greatly enhanced by the announcement of our chapter being named "Most Improved Chapter." Our major projects this semester have been: 1. Rush, where we gained eight new associate members 2. an improved Chi Delphia program 3. the formation of a "Master Plan Committee on House Improvements" and most importantly 4. better alumni relations.

In keeping with the idea of Spirit and Brotherhood, we enlarged our social calendar and have had the June 21, Longest-Day-of-the-Year-Party, the Infamous Harbour Cruise, the "Apocalypse Now" party and our first annual Winter Formal.

The Chapter has also done well in intramural sports by being among the top five teams in football, volleyball, wrestling, and handball. We have also been supporting our USC Trojan football team by following the team on its road trips to Stanford, Oregon, and the University of Arizona. A few of the brothers are also planning to visit our chapter in Hawaii in December.

And lastly, working on alumni relations, the chapter sent 15 members to the Southern California Alumni Association's Annual Banquet, this past October, where they were able to meet some distinguished alumni from not only our chapter but from the other area chapters as well. We have also started an alumni newsletter which we will publish quarterly and distribute to the members of the Alumni Association.

Joseph M. Paris "E"

Southern Illinois

The fall semester at Southern Illinois started out busy with rush. Andy Leach '83, our rush chairman, had such well planned and organized ideas that we ended up with a record-breaking 20 man pledge class. Our summer rush program played a large part in acquiring so many associate members.

Social functions have not suffered from such devotion to rush. Our numerous social events have included our first annual Delta Chi and Alpha Gamma Delta pig roast, and our second annual Room Hop party.

Steve Bone "E"

Tri-State

Fall quarter started with the activation of nine men into the Bond and two new girls into Chi Delphia. Scholastically we placed first out of all fraternities and as for Greek Week we placed an overall second with a first in the bike race.

Our service projects have consisted in helping clean the streets of Angola, holding a room in the Haunted House, donating trophies to the Special Olympics, and helping to gather votes in this year's Presidential Election.

House improvements are seeing the installation of a new rest room in our Annex and repairs being done on its front porch.

We were pleased to have Professor Tierney speak to the brothers at this year's Founders Day Banquet. During Fall Carnival we hosted the Little Sisters of the Ball State Chapter to a hay ride and the closing of the quarter saw us all together at our annual Thanksgiving dinner.

Roger Greasor "E"

Troy State

We began the fall quarter at Troy State with an extraordinary rush week. We pledged 32 men to Delta Chi. These associate members are currently enjoying a very productive pledge quarter. We elected Tina Stephenson Delta Chi Sweetheart 1980, and sang to seven new White Carnation Girls. Five brothers were elected to the Student Government Association and David Campbell '82, was elected senate floor leader for 1980. We are enjoying a successful intramural football season. We are currently in second place. We won the Annual Angel Flight Bed Race, which is a fund raiser for the Heart Fund. We enjoyed a great Homecoming during which we entertained approximately 200 alumni. We are currently making numerous improvements to our chapter house including paneling the bedrooms and redecorating our party room.

Jud Corley "E"

Washington

Seattle's College Club was the setting of a night filled with inspiration, as Senator Henry Jackson '34, spoke for his fellow brothers and our 25 new associate members — in a Founders' Day banquet topped off with the presentation of the President's Cup to all our chapter brothers by Robert LaBouy, "AA".

Activities within the chapter contained the same fervor, as Ray Galbreth, Executive Director, awarded the Cup to our undergraduate brothers. The chapter itself sports a newly repainted exterior, a refinished dining room floor, and a remodeled living room — all readied for our Homecoming activities, and our second alumni function of the quarter. All of us also look forward, as do the girls on campus, to the distribution of our second annual Delta Chi Fashion Calendar, and to the beginning of our new Chi Delphia program.

The chapter is also active on campus with 19 brothers competing in Husky athletics — covering seven different fields. House intramural teams compete in 80% of all sports offered, with 75% of our brothers actively competing — and all three of our football teams are playoff-bound. Our chapter also has the distinction of holding the offices of president, treasurer, program director, publicity director, and activities chairman of the University's Marketing Club — which maintains the largest club membership on campus. One brother plays professional soccer for the Seattle Sounders, while another brother dances for a university choreography company. Two brothers write for the campus newspaper — and one of our brothers has just been elected president of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Thus far it has been an active and exciting quarter, and all of us here at Washington look forward to our coming year and continued growth.

Scott Greer "E"

Windsor

Things are beginning to roll at our small but enthusiastic chapter. Three new men were initiated into the bond of brotherhood and we are making preparations for a strong January rush. We are commencing our Chi Delphia rush in December.

Although ours is the only fraternity on campus, we have increased our image with several successful events. Our annual Halloween Party was an incredible smash as was our Orientation Week steak bar-b-que. In conjunction with the Nursing Society we participated in their annual Shinerama which raises money for Cystic Fibrosis research. In addition the brothers assisted in various Orientation Week activities including hosting the SAC volunteer party.

With winter coming we have embarked on a series of house renovation projects. These include "winterizing" the house as well as remodeling the basement and kitchen areas.

Hard work and good study habits have resulted in an overall house academic average of "B+."

Finally we would like to thank all Windsor Chapter's alumni for their support and help during the past year.

T. Craig Harris "E"

Louisville Colony

The University of Louisville Colony of Delta Chi got off to a great start this fall semester. With only two months under our belts, we have already pledged 23 outstanding men.

November 7 we traveled to the Indiana University Chapter to be initiated into the Bond. We would like to thank the I.U. Chapter for the meaningful experience.

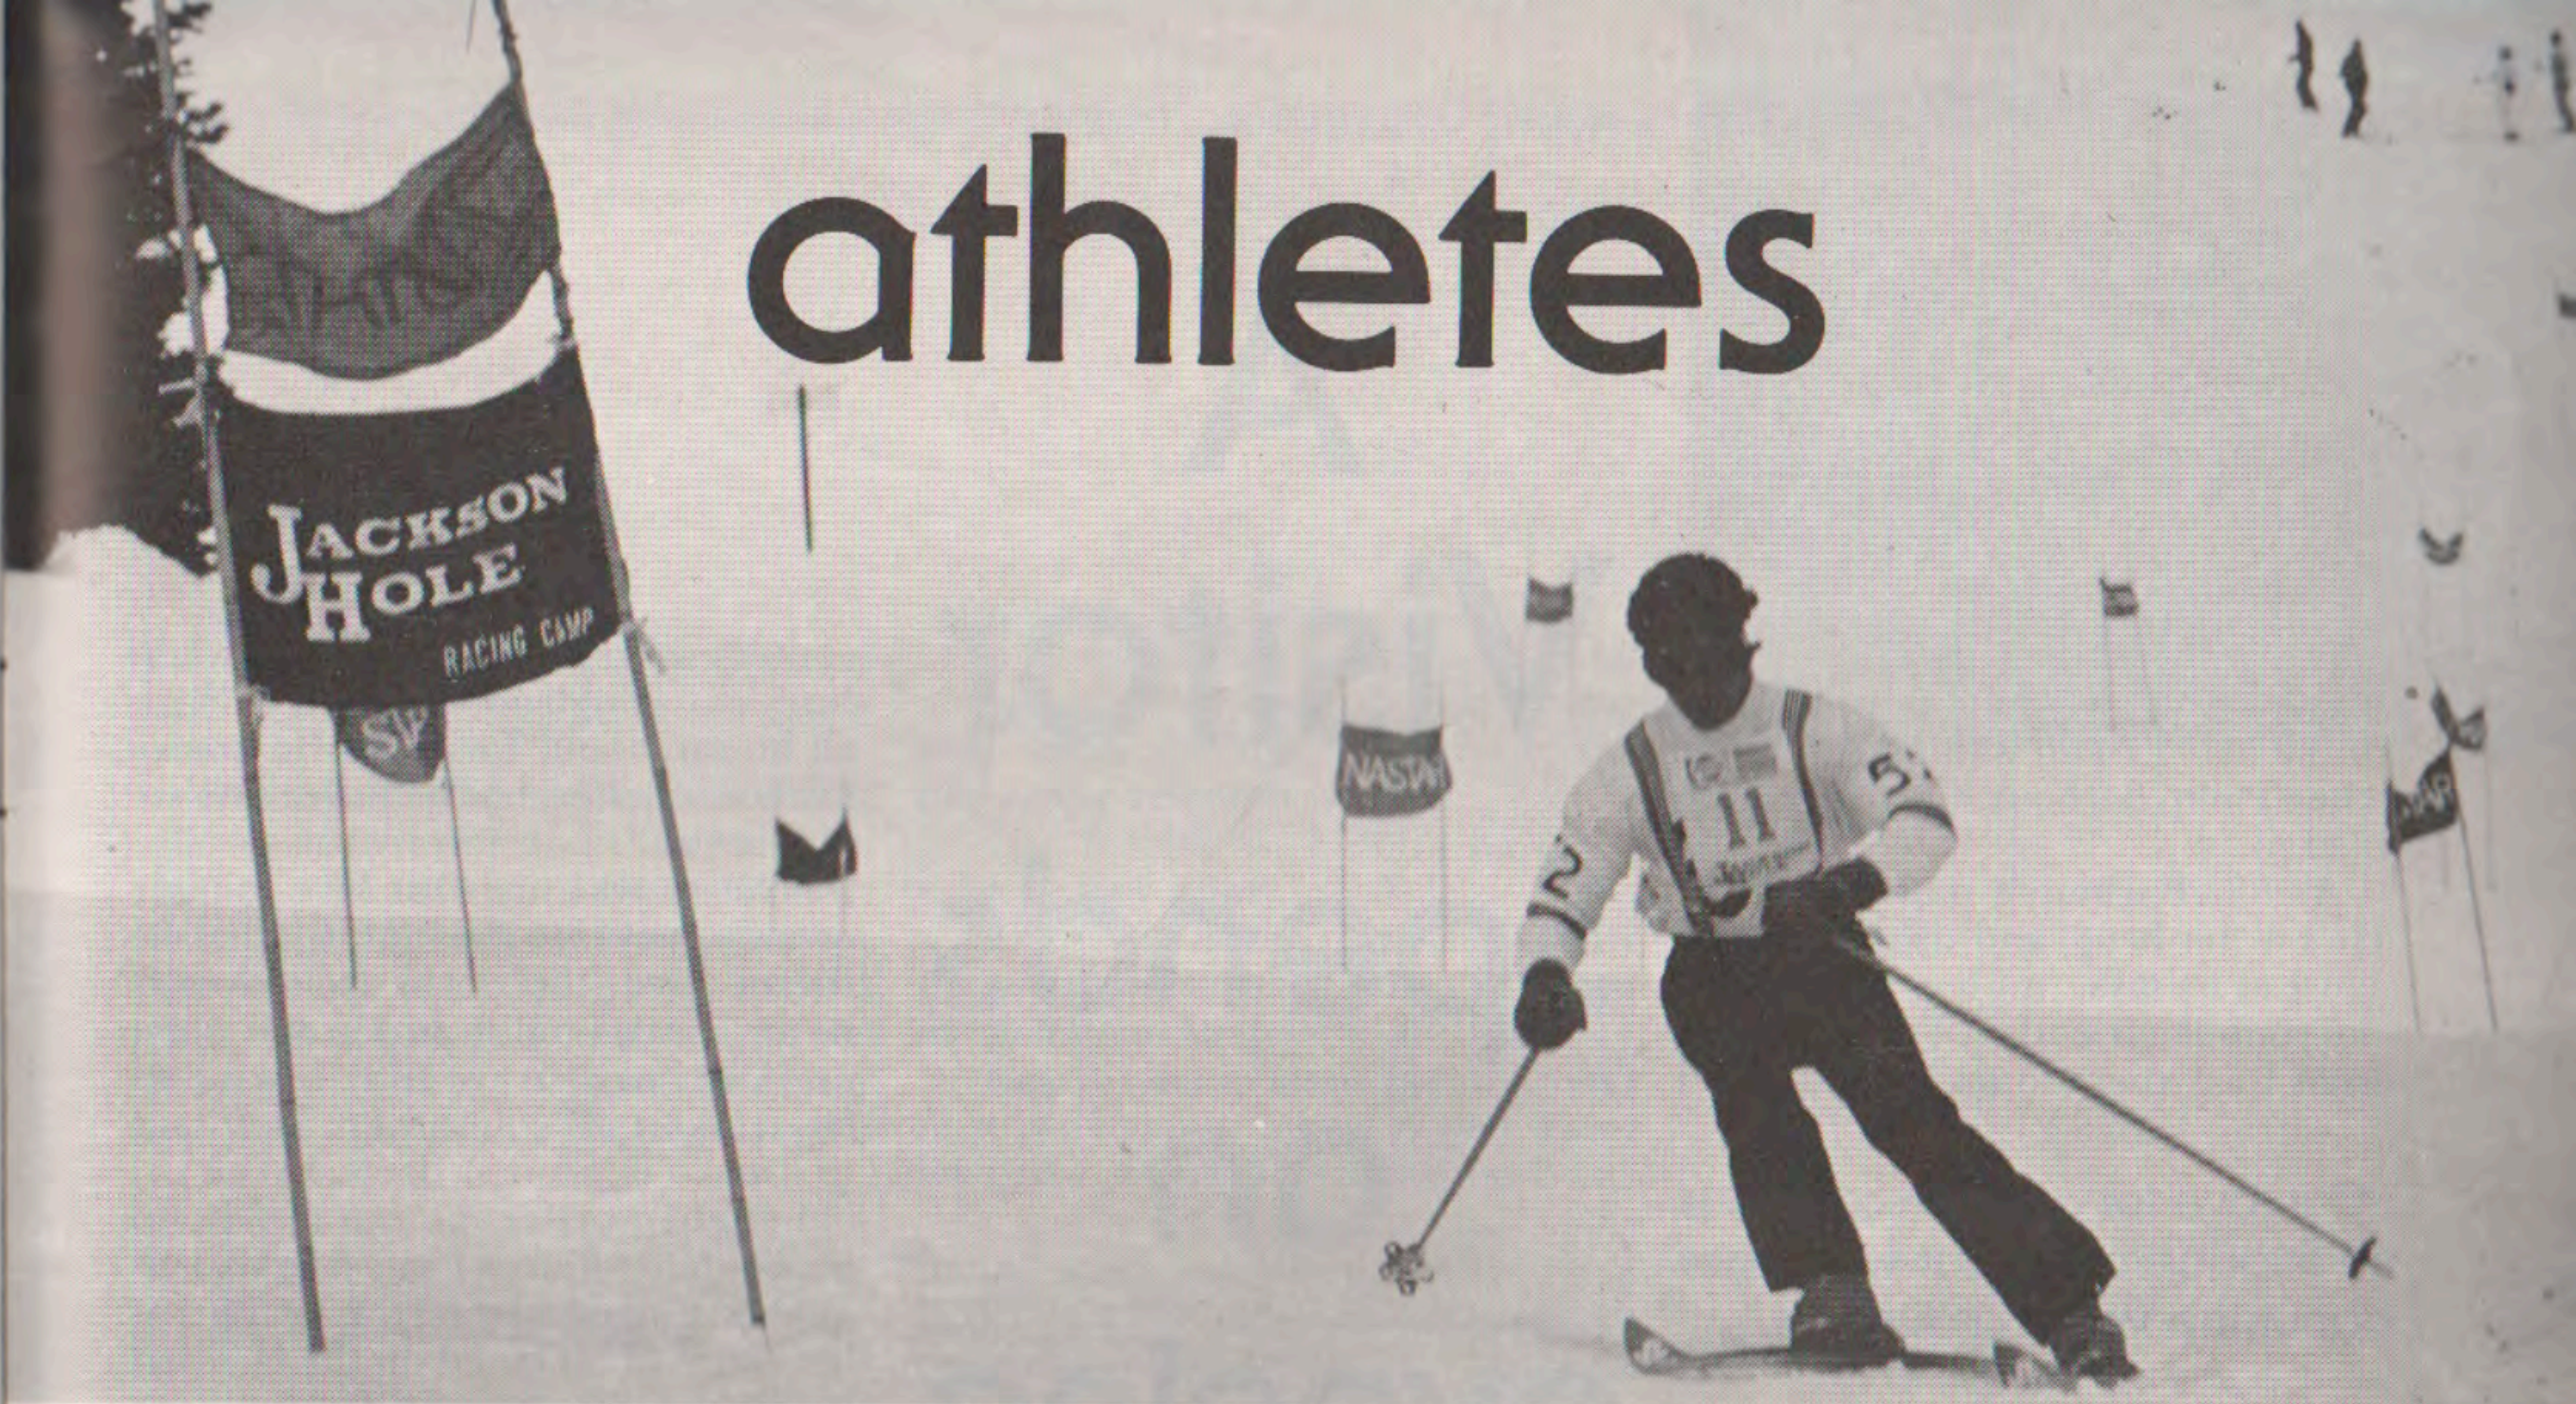

On the sports scene, intramurals are going well with fine individual performances in the horseshoe, golf, and tennis competition and a strong team showing in the annual canoe regatta. We also fared well in the Homecoming Greek Games.

We would like to express a special appreciation to our "BB", David Peterson, S.I.U. '63, and Tom Collins, S.I.U. '64, for their cooperation and support; and to Jeff Topley, Penn St. '80, for his invaluable guidance at our inception.

Hard work, grueling weeks pay off for Delta Chi athletes

Scott Carter Washington '81, stroked his way not only to a position with the varsity lightweight crew, but also to the elite United States National Rowing Team. Reflecting on his experiences of the past season, Scott said, "After our undefeated season and second consecutive Pac-10 championship, Brother Mark Peterson and I ventured to the East Coast to try out for the National Lightweight Squad. After a grueling week in hot and humid Princeton, I was fortunate enough to be selected to the team of 16 — out of the 67 elite oarsmen present. The team trained for the next month at Yale and Cornell Universities. When I first arrived at Cornell, I took the opportunity to visit our founding chapter. After a brief visit, we packed up for Belgium and the World Lightweight Championships. Those two August weeks in Europe left me with the experience of international racing at its highest level." Scott is presently back for his fourth year of Husky Crew, and remarks that, "Fall workouts have concentrated on the

A Visitor Spends an evening at IOWA

Philip Barbour
at 82 speaks and young men listen.

It was a typical scene. There were a few Iowa chapter members lounging in the living room waiting for dinner when Philip Barbour, Cornell '20, ambled in.

At 82, Barbour's gait isn't brisk. He's a "bit bent" and uses a cane because as he says, "my legs are a bit like my younger friends . . . they don't do what I ask them to do."

"Our love for our own country is so exaggerated that we forget about the world around us."

Sinking into one of the sofas, it wasn't long until the white-haired gentleman was surrounded by the curious young wondering, just who was this old man?

Philip Barbour's career began in free-lance writing in 1916 and turned to banking in 1920, to business in Mexico in '22, to radio broadcasting (making the first broadcast from Marconi's yacht Electra in 1930) and continuing in international broadcasting until 1941, to the U.S. Army from 1942-'46, where he went from private to captain and served in Army Intelligence under Eisenhower, to one of the founders and directors of educational programs for Radio Free Europe from 1949-'52, to retirement in 1953 to devote full time to writing (author of numerous books, the latest being The Complete Works of Captain John Smith) and to currently working under a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to submit a completed report on a feasibility study of the works of Samuel Purchas.

Not cognizant of his many achievements, the young men were nevertheless drawn to him like a magnet. They quickly discovered that if they wanted to know this man they had to ask the questions.

Barbour believes the ability to listen is as important as the ability to talk. As an illustration he says, "Take the Frenchman. He knows there is no country as great as France. But when he goes to England, he wants to learn all he can about England. He knows France is better, but he never says so. He listens."

"Not so with us. Our love for our own country is so exaggerated that we forget about the world around us. I never speak English in Europe when an American is around. I want to learn about the country I'm in. I want to listen," explained Barbour.

Language, Barbour notes, is no problem for him as he speaks six languages fluently. In fact, he says that his entire life is based on the fact that he spoke German and French before the age of seven. "The more versatile one is, the more readily doors open. My ability to speak Portuguese and Spanish while I was at NBC enabled me to accompany the Toscanini Orchestra as PR director on their South American tour."

Reverting to his thoughts on America, Barbour said, "We are not an island on the planet Mars. We don't own the world. Are we ever going to learn we are a part of the world and only a small insignificant part of it, at that?"

"I think we knew what we wanted. We were set in our goals. I find you young people in college too indecisive."

Their curiosity whetted by his remarks, the young men were anxious to know if he was a teacher.

"When I was young, I was offered a job at Columbia, but I wasn't interested. I don't tell people how they should do a thing. I could never be a teacher. I'd rather tell stories of people in similar situations and have you draw your own conclusions."

The men looked at one another and back to Barbour. This was going to be an evening to experience.

Seeking a way to capture some of this knowledge within their own frame of reference, the question was asked, "What was college/fraternity life like back then?"

Peering over his black framed half glasses at first one and then another, as if to appraise their astuteness, Barbour said, "I think we knew what we wanted. We were set in our goals. I find you young people in college too indecisive." Then pausing he reprimanded them with, "the young seem to be totally unorganized."

Side stepping Barbour's admonition, an invitation was issued for him to attend the house meeting and dinner.

When the house meeting was finished, Barbour's face broke into a big grin and he laughed as he said, "Lord, they haven't changed. The same stuff goes on even today! The only difference is yours are weekly and ours were monthly."

During the course of dinner the young men continued to be amazed at their guest. When was he ever going to slow down? He was up at 6 A.M. and at work by 7 and did his writing until noon and spent the rest of the day doing research work.

"The trouble is, I don't have the time to slow down."

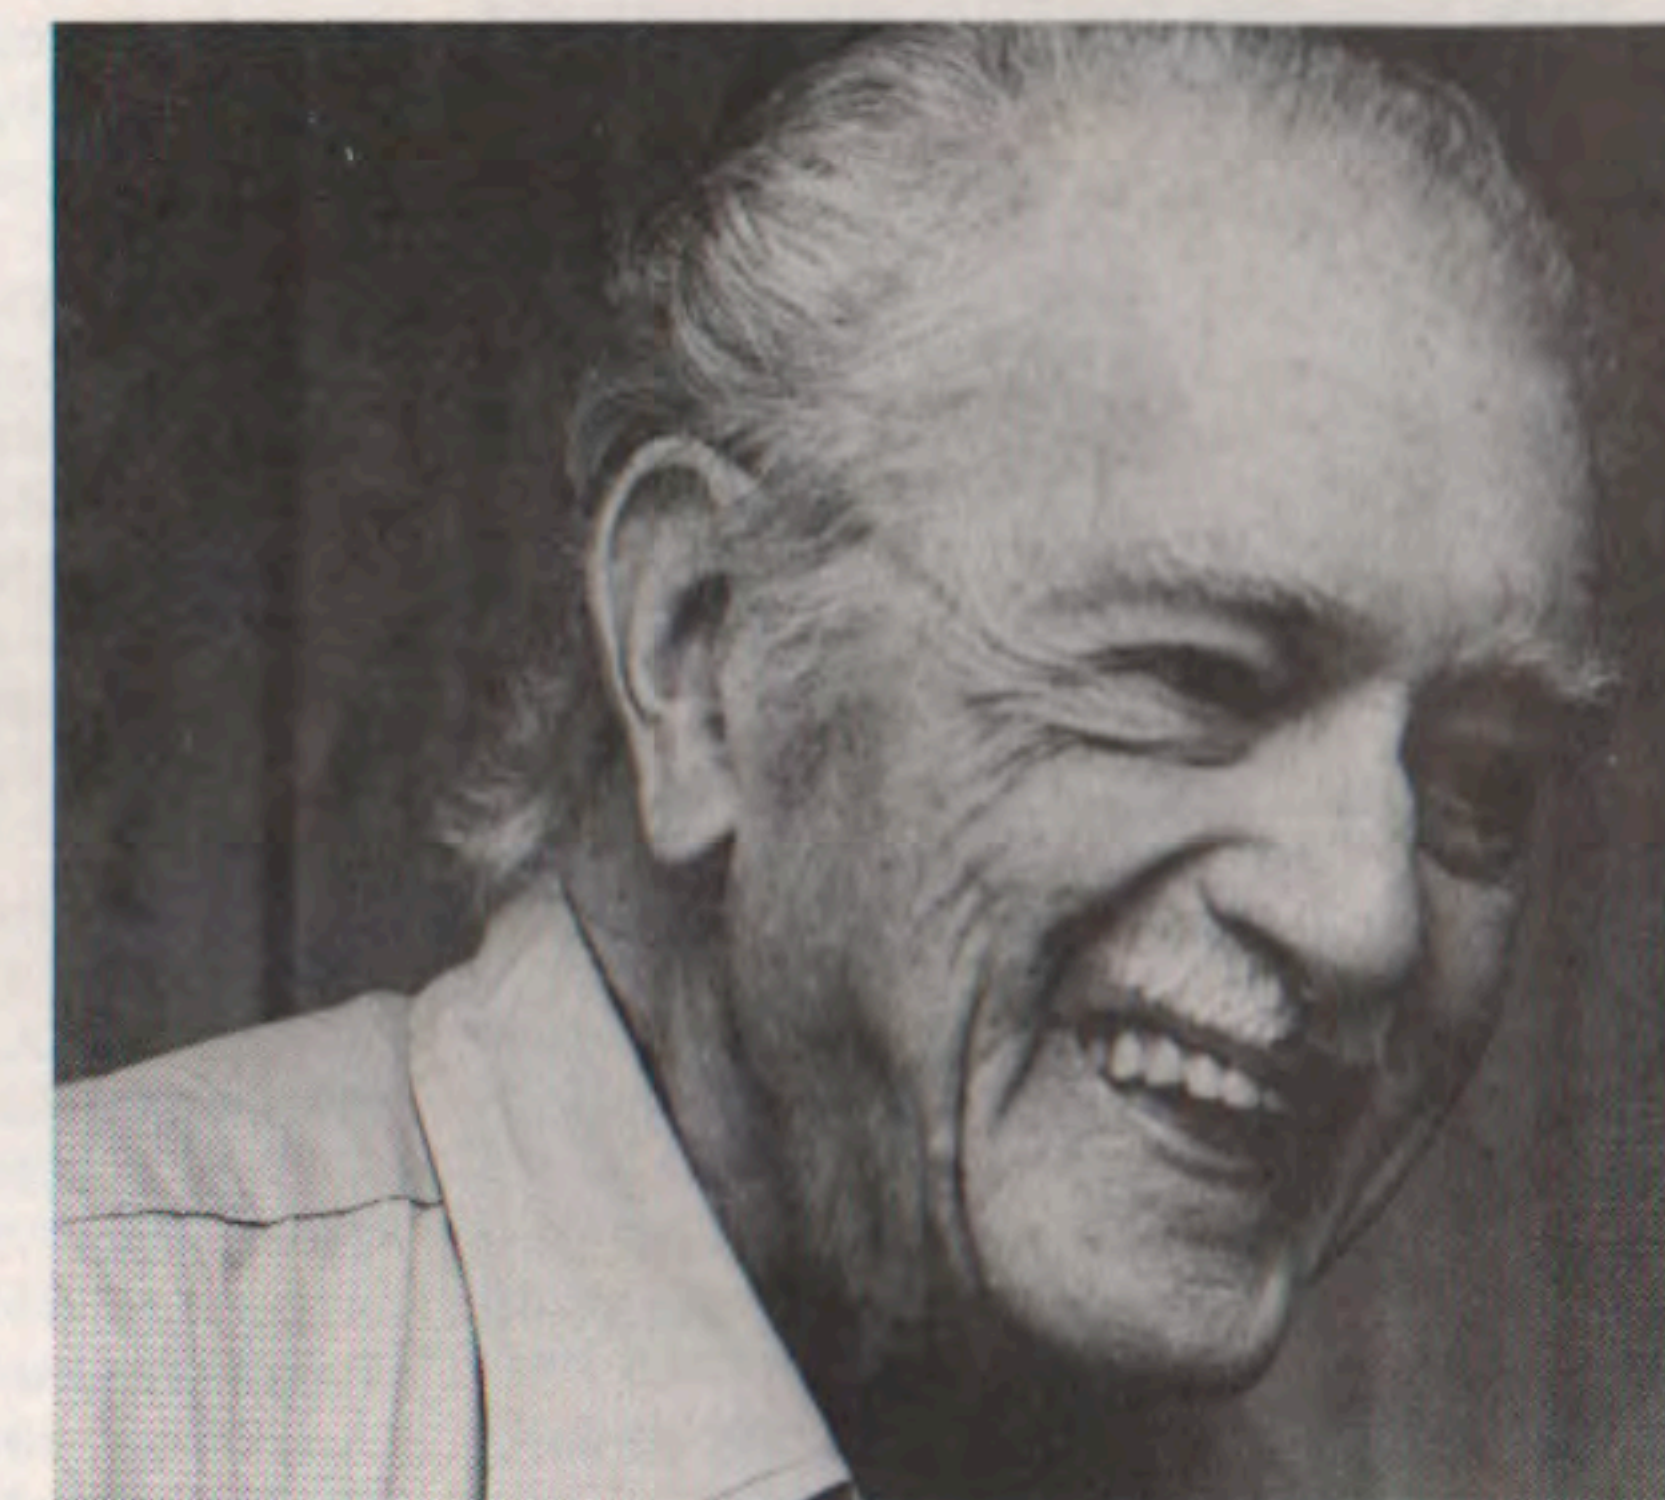

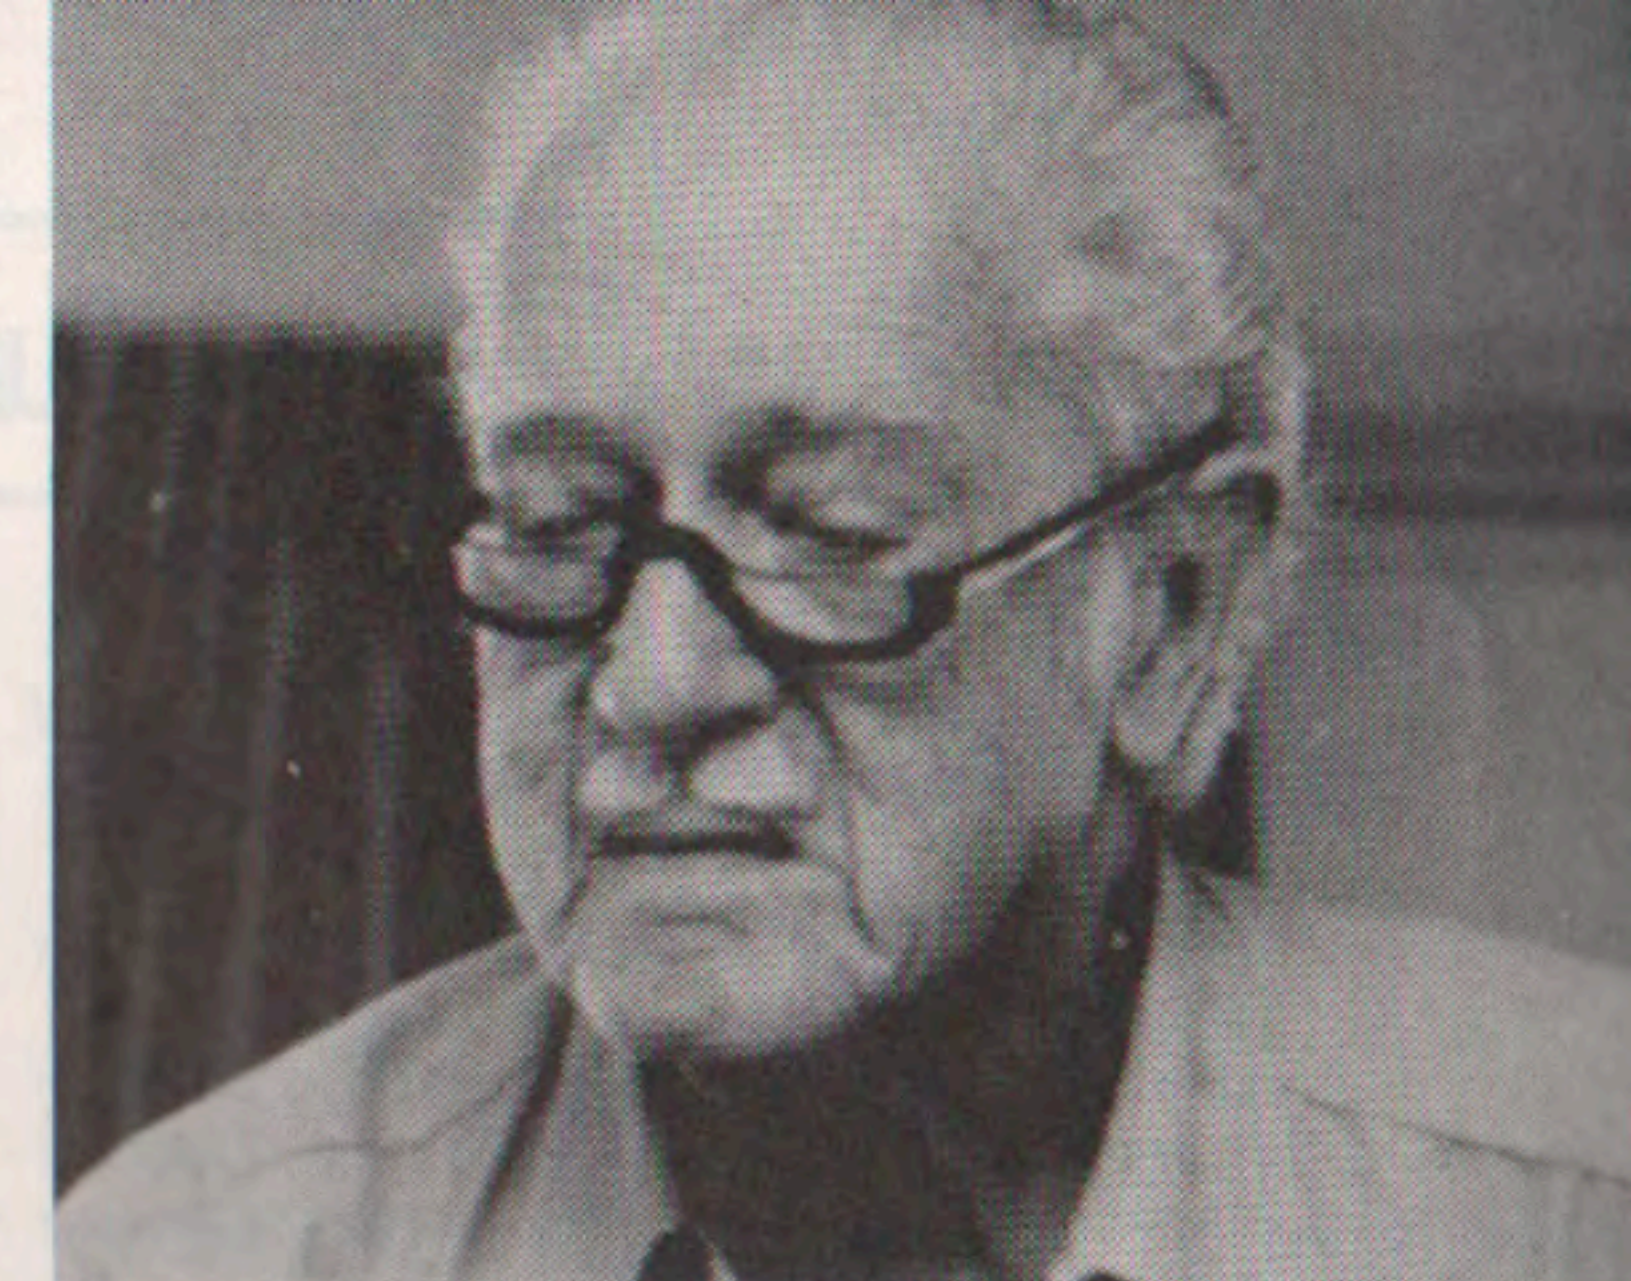

Hoping for a clue to all this vitality the young men asked how he stayed in such good shape and health.

"I never take medicine. Haven't seen a doctor in 50 years and never take care of myself," scoffed Barbour.

Dispersed among his salty comments were scholarly observations based on a lifetime of traveling and an overwhelming desire to "know as much as I can about everything."

The evening ended when Barbour winked and said, "I'm an ornery person. But what do you want me to do? Ride a wheelchair and shut my mouth? I won't do that!"

Not one of those young men from the Iowa chapter, who had spent an enlightened evening with Philip Barbour, would ever expect that.

"I'm an ornery person. But what do you want me to do? Ride a wheelchair and shut my mouth? I won't do that!"

*Sweetheart of Delta Chi
May 1938*

When Dean Thompson visited the 20th Century Fox studios on his tour of the western chapters, he met Shirley Temple whose brother Jack was an active member of the Stanford Chapter. The "AA" asked Shirley to become the sweetheart of Delta Chi, which invitation she accepted with the comment, "It would make me very proud and happy to be the Sweetheart of Delta Chi, and may I thank you for the honor in asking me."

All alumni should have received a request for the essential information required to assure complete data in the new alumni directory tentatively scheduled for release in the summer. We sincerely hope that everyone has replied.

Publication of the directory will be handled by Bernard C. Harris Publishing Company, Inc., of White Plains, New York. This company is the sole authorized agent for the production and marketing of the directory, and assumes all financial obligation, including the compilation, editing, billing, and distribution of the volume and will cover its costs through the sale of individual book sales to alumni only. This plan will assure the publication of a professionally compiled volume.

During the next several months all alumni will be contacted by telephone for verification of the information to be printed in the directory. At that time, and at that time only, they will be asked if they wish to purchase a copy. The number of directories printed will be based on the number of advance orders received via the phone calls.

Alumni who have not returned their questionnaires and are not reached by telephone by the Harris firm will be listed in the directory with whatever information is currently held on alumni records. If you have not received your questionnaire or you do not wish to appear in the directory, please notify Delta Chi Headquarters immediately.
