Today's Men Need Delta Chi More Than Ever

When Delta Chi was founded at Cornell University, males made up 90% of the student body. Today, the number of men going to college has reached an all-time low of 40% nationally, and only 59% of men who start at a four-year university receive a diploma. As we mark our 132-year history, the Fraternity experience matters more than ever and research shows just how important we are to collegiate men.

Over the last three years, more than 20 organizations—from Gallup to Pew—have conducted research on fraternity life. These reports reveal the positive impact of today's fraternity experience in the lives of college students and alumni—long after they graduate. Here are three key takeaways:

Fraternity members experience stronger mental health

Fraternities empower students to create a strong support system. Research shows that the connection men find in fraternities can create a strong sense of belonging and lead members to have more positive mental health than other students. The higher sense of support men receive in fraternities has been tied to lower anxiety and depression levels.

Fraternities are an accelerator for success in college and beyond

Students spend 90% of their time outside the classroom. Fraternities capitalize on those hours by preparing men for success in college and in their future far beyond what their peers experience. Because of higher expectations, as well as the support and network fraternities provide, members experience greater gains in learning and graduate at higher rates than their peers.

Fraternity members also report higher levels of interaction with people different from themselves, leading to them being better prepared than their peers to join a diverse workforce and community.

Fraternities create a lifelong connection to campus, community, and friends

Research shows fraternity membership connects men to the university in a way non-members simply don't experience. They're more satisfied as students, and they are more likely to recommend and give back to their alma mater as alumni.

Fraternity men are more engaged inside and outside of the classroom than their non-member peers. They're also more connected to their local communities, with research showing they spend significantly more time volunteering than non-affiliated students.

While collegiate men face strong headwinds overall, the research clearly demonstrates the positive impact of today's fraternity experience. Now, it's up to us to share this good news with our friends and family so they can see the positive impact Delta Chi is having in the lives of our members.

I believe brotherhood is a two-way street. If we accept the advantages of our shared fraternity experience, we must also live up to the obligations. I have accepted the advantages that our great fraternity has to offer and I feel an obligation to give back. I hope you will join me in sharing your time, talent, and resources so that we may continue to make a difference in the lives of our members and beyond!

62nd THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

DELTA CHI
62nd INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

GATEWAY TO GROWTH • ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

Delta Chi's 62nd International Convention kicked off on the evening of Wednesday, July 27, 2022 at the Hyatt Regency – St. Louis at the Arch Hotel in St. Louis, Missouri. With staff on-hand to assist arriving guests with registration, brothers and guests from across the world were able to gather before the start of scheduled events and enjoy fellowship and fun. 53rd International President and current Retiring “AA” Aaron Otto hosted an early session that served as Convention orientation, which allowed first-time attendees to learn more about Convention and the upcoming schedule of events. Convention officially kicked off in the Grand Ballroom with dinner, introductions of honorable attendees, roll call, a presentation of a check to the V Foundation for Cancer Research, and the announcement of several award-winners, which included composite awards for chapters, officer awards, and alumni recognition.

Following the completion of awards, Otto presented a video about meeting the granddaughters of founder Myron McKee Crandall and accruing an original desk belonging to Crandall, which is now displayed at the International Headquarters Museum in Indianapolis, Indiana. Upon the conclusion of business, ComedySportz, an all-ages improv comedy group, closed out the day with a performance.

Thursday, July 28, 2022 signaled the official start of Delta Chi business. Following regional caucuses, in which attendees learned more about the state of each region, delegates and attendees gathered in the Grand Ballroom to discuss pending legislation and conduct business of the Fraternity. Following the official Convention photograph at the Arch and a working lunch, candidates running for positions on the Executive Committee were able to participate in candidate caucuses, where attendees could meet with the candidates and get their perspectives on how they would lead the Fraternity. After voting, results were announced in the evening. Delta Chi is excited to share that Patrick Alderdice, Ball State '92, was elected the 54th International President, Matthew Gorney, Kansas State '06, was elected the 44th International Secretary, and Mark Sexton, Missouri '92, was elected the 48th International Treasurer. Upon the completion of a full day of business, members gathered for ritual exemplification to further explore the meaning of Delta Chi's ritual among hundreds of brothers.

While heavy rainfall drenched the St. Louis-area and forced the cancellation of the Kimball Golf Classic, there was still much excitement about the slate of activities taking place Friday, July 29, 2022. Special guests Dr. Matthew Richardson, Duquesne '09, TJ Burch, Kansas State '22, and Kim Burch were on-hand for an emotional presentation of the documentary Breathe, Nolan, Breathe, followed by a Q&A session. Retired Major General Troy Kok, Central Missouri '87, led a leadership luncheon which was followed by a unique opportunity for collegiate members to receive career coaching and take part in educational breakout sessions. At the conclusion of business, Delta Chi members took over Busch Stadium for a private event hosted at the home of the St. Louis Cardinals. Convention attendees and guests were able to enjoy food and drinks on the field, as well as opportunities to pitch in the bullpen and hit in the batting cages. The night concluded with receptions for the first-ever Delta Chi Pride legacy group and the Delta Chi Military Alliance legacy group.

Casey Cornelius, the Founder and President of ForCollegeForLife, kicked off the final day with “Be the Man,” the final program in Delta Chi's three-part keynote speaker series. A day loaded with educational breakout sessions had an awards-based luncheon intermission, eventually leading to the closing banquet on Saturday night. Additional awards were presented, including the Delta Chi of the Year, the Chicago Cup, and the President's Cup, and the new Executive Council was sworn into office. Attendees were shown a preview for the 2024 Convention location and, at long last, members closed out the Gateway to Growth by singing the Bond Song. 🏆

New Founders of Delta Chi

At the 62nd International Convention, the Delta Chi Fraternity and the Educational Foundation were proud to recognize five New Founders of Delta Chi, two of whom were named posthumously for their contributions. New Founders are recognized donors who achieve a specific lifetime giving level to Delta Chi. In recognition of their contributions, three identical charcoal portraits will be commissioned, with one portrait presented to the donor's family, one to the donor's chapter, and the final displayed at the International Headquarters. Each New Founder is presented with a key-shaped lapel pin that can be worn at any time and a New Founder's Medallion, to be worn at International Conventions and other formal affairs. The medallion is the same as the international officers ("AA", "CC", or "DD") and Order of the White Carnation, but is displayed with a purple ribbon.

The Order of the White Carnation was created by a unanimous vote at the 1975 Convention to recognize members of Delta Chi who give meritorious and inconspicuous service to the Fraternity. It is of the highest honors a member can receive. Of the 130,000 members in the history of Delta Chi, only 44 have been inducted into the Order.

Speaking at the 62nd International Convention on behalf of the Order was Brother John Mica, Florida '67, a U.S. Representative who served Florida's 7th Congressional District from 1993 to 2017. Brother Mica was also recognized as the Delta Chi of the Year in 2005. He was inducted into the Order of the White Carnation in 2010.

Of the 20 living members of the Order of the White Carnation, 18 were in attendance for the Gateway to Growth. Brother Mica recognized three members of the Order who passed away since the 2018 Convention, which included brothers Ham Henderson, Northwest Missouri '82, Patrick Phelan, Embry-Riddle '72, and Ken Shepard, Long Beach '77. They were honored with a moment of silence.

To be inducted into the Order of the White Carnation, the members of the Order must meet prior to Convention and collectively decide on who is a deserving recipient. The Order presented four members for consideration, which included

Bill Tallman, Embry-Riddle '95, Rusty Yull III, Whitewater '82, David Edwards, Georgia Southern '86, and Jim Marascio, Bryant '93. All members were confirmed by a unanimous standing ovation.

"Thank you so much," Brother Tallman said upon his recognition. "I'm so proud to be here and be in the company of these men. Thank you for this honor and I'm going to continue to earn it every day."

"This is what being in a fraternity is all about," Yull said. "It's about the good times, it's about the bad times, it's about the sad times that you spend with your brothers. It is a true brotherhood of a lifetime."

"I'm overwhelmed to be standing up here with gentlemen like this," Brother Edwards said. "I encourage you to seek this same opportunity by being an excellent brother in the Delta Chi Fraternity."

"Wow," Brother Marascio exclaimed. "I had guys in my chapter that encouraged me to be involved. When I graduated, I had alumni that encouraged me to be involved. I just kept doing what people asked me to do. If you encourage the others in the room, or the other guys in your chapter, you never know. They may be up here with us some day."

THE DESK OF MYRON

Born 27 August 1867 in East Winfield, New York. As a youth, he attended the public schools of West Winfield, Cooperstown High School, and finally the Utica Free Academy.

Crandall died 25 August 1931, two days before his sixty-fourth birthday, in West Winfield. He was buried in the East Winfield cemetery located approximately 2 miles east of West Winfield.

Presented for the first time at the 62nd International Convention, Retiring "AA" Aaron Otto, Kansas State '98, previewed a video that told a unique and captivating story to Convention attendees regarding the acquisition of a piece of Delta Chi history. What began as a series of chance events in 2007 led to establishing crucial relationships that would eventually lead to opportunities otherwise thought improbable.

In 2007, Otto traveled to Ithaca, New York to take part in the rededication of the Cornell Chapter house following massive renovations. The trip posed a unique opportunity for Otto to not just take part in a celebration with the founding chapter of Delta Chi, but to also search for the gravesites of the 11 founders of the Fraternity. It was discovered through the process that the Fraternity was aware of most, but not all, of the gravesites. Among the missing was Myron McKee Crandall who, along with Monroe Marsh Sweetland, claims credit for the name "Delta Chi" and the creation of the Fraternity's badge.

In gathering information, Otto knew that Crandall was buried in a city named East Winfield, New York. The problem was that East Winfield is no longer a city – it doesn't exist anymore – making it extremely difficult to know where Crandall was actually laid to rest. After contacting a city official from West Winfield, Otto received an unexpected phone call from a lady name Judy Armstrong.

"As I remember that phone call going, (Judy Armstrong) said 'I understand you're looking for Myron McKee Crandall,'" Otto recalled from the conversation. "I said, 'Yes I am, can you help me with that?' She said, 'Yes I can, I'm his granddaughter.'"

After establishing the connection, Otto later made a trip in October 2007 to meet not one, but two of Crandall's granddaughters; the other being Joan Evans.

"I know when I got the call, I just couldn't believe it," Evans recalls. "The more (Otto) talked and the more we found out about Grandpa Crandall, we were just very excited."

In exchanging information, it was discovered that, considerably later in life, Crandall went into business with a lawyer named Fred Cronmiller. Cronmiller worked with a young, newly-established lawyer, Lee, who turned out to be the husband of Armstrong; a lucky connection that benefitted the family. Upon retiring, Cronmiller revealed that he had in his possession all of the furniture originally belonging to Crandall. This information was kept in mind until the relocation of the Delta Chi International Headquarters in 2019, which opened up a considerable amount of space for the Fraternity to consider the acquisition of additional historical items.

In a collaborative effort between Otto and former "DD" Ron Martin, New Haven '87, arrangements were made to acquire a desk and chair originally belonging to Crandall and have it shipped to the new International Headquarters. Two pieces that had shown a considerable amount of age and degradation from the years, Otto and Martin were surprised to find that special arrangements had been made prior to the items being shipped.

"I had a friend, his name was Gary Griffith," Armstrong said. "He does a wonderful job, so ... he did it."

What Armstrong was referring to was the full restoration of both the chair and desk. Two items that were riddled with wear and tear were restored to their former glory. It was far more than Otto and Martin could ask for, yet a demonstration that values and a dedication to service ran in the family.

Again, to their surprise, additional items were provided with the desk, which included a portrait of Crandall, an original schedule of fees from 1928 belonging to Crandall for attorney expenses, and rate sheets, which outlined the cost of legal expenses such as having a will or a deed published.

"That all sits in a large corner of our museum at our headquarters in Indianapolis," Otto said. "We're very grateful for the desk, the restoration was wonderful, we raised a little bit of money to get it to Indianapolis ... it's a real treat."

Befitting of the story, the family, and the generosity in donating the items, Crandall was also the featured founder on the official Convention coin in 2022; a fitting tribute. The desk is just one way that the Fraternity can maintain a sense of connectedness to those that established Delta Chi and celebrate their legacies and the undeniable impact and resonance they've had on the lives of so many. If you're in Indianapolis, stop in and see the desk, as well as many other historical items, at the International Headquarters Museum.

Each year, Delta Chi recognizes its collegiate chapters, alumni chapters, members, volunteers, and campus professionals for the amazing things they do on campus, in the Fraternity, in their careers, and in society at large. It is the Fraternity's goal to promote these achievements and the awards and recognition program affords recipients the opportunity to showcase their outstanding performances over the past academic year.

The Delta Chi Fraternity and its staff are beyond proud of the way our members and friends of the Fraternity have continued to live our values, uphold our Basic Expectations, and consistently set the bar for a better tomorrow. This year marked the first time in four years that awards were presented at Convention, a welcome return following the cancellation of Convention in 2020.

President's Cup

Delta Chi's most coveted and prestigious award is the President's Cup. Each year, Delta Chi recognizes the top-four chapters in both the red and buff divisions. The President's Cup winners have demonstrated superior excellence in operational performance, while promoting a strong values-based fraternal experience and creating a measurable impact for their members, campuses, and communities.

Red Division

Cal Poly California Polytechnic State University

The Cal Poly Chapter exemplified and upheld the values of Delta Chi, winning the Chapter of the Year award for Region II at the Regional Leadership Conference. As an organization, the Chapter put an emphasis on involvement in the campus community. The Chapter raised nearly $3,000 for RISE SLO, an organization that supports survivors of sexual assault, sexual violence, and domestic abuse. Additionally, the Chapter hosted three philanthropic events – Carving for Cancer, March Madness Bracket Challenge, and the Jimmy V – raising over $5,000 in support of the V Foundation for Cancer Research.

Georgia Tech Georgia Institute of Technology

During the 2021-2022 academic year, the Georgia Tech Chapter demonstrated excellence in membership, servant leadership, and community engagement despite the ongoing challenges with returning to in-person operations. The Chapter is the top-ranked Greek organization on campus with a combined 3.68 GPA average. Every member of the Chapter is involved in at least two other on-campus organizations and collectively created strong connections that allowed them to amplify their involvement in other areas. This includes sexual violence prevention education, an initiative aiding the Greek community on campus as whole.

Kansas State Kansas State University

The Kansas State Chapter strives to advance Delta Chi's four core values to a level beyond standard expectations. The Chapter logged over 1,200 hours of community service during the 2021-2022 academic year, which averaged out to 11.29 hours per member. Community service events included highway cleanups, serving breakfast to youths as "Santa's helpers," shoveling snow from driveways and sidewalks, and spending time with Habitat for Humanity. The Chapter raised nearly $4,500 for charity with $2,500 going to the V Foundation for Cancer Research, Delta Chi's international philanthropic partner.

Virginia Tech Virginia Polytechnic Institute & State University

The Virginia Tech Chapter continues to commit to their founding principle of, “Doing Fraternity Right,” holding values above all else to create a positive impact on campus and with the Blacksburg community. Their 365-recruitment approach led to the recruitment of 34 men from diverse backgrounds during the 2021-2022 academic year. Through tabling and maintaining an innovative and interactive approach to philanthropy, the Chapter raised $12,000 for the V Foundation for Cancer Research. The members logged 1,676 hours of community service, averaging 21 hours per member. This included a joint service event with a service sorority in support of the Blacksburg Interfaith Food Pantry, where members went door-to-door to collect canned goods and non-perishables. The end result was over 300 pounds of food to help combat food insecurity in their community.

Omaha University of Nebraska-Omaha

The Omaha Chapter is comprised of men of action that seek self-improvement and actively benefit the community. The Chapter completed 876.5 total service hours and partnered with the Ronald McDonald House to raise $1,724 to assist children needing shelter when seeking treatment at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. They raised an additional $3,436 as part of the Dance Marathon, benefitting the local children’s hospital. In benefit of the V Foundation for Cancer Research, the Chapter raised $2,248 through the Delta Chi Bracket Challenge and a local Red Bull paper airplane contest. The Chapter maintains a 3.33 average member GPA.

Tri-State Trine University

The Tri-State Chapter worked meticulously with university and community officials to bring back safe and successful events to campus. In addition to serving over 120 pounds of free chicken wings to students in the University Commons, the Chapter hosted numerous free community events at their chapter facility, which included a faculty-focused social event to connect students and professors. The Chapter created opportunities for community involvement and co-hosted events with the Christian Campus House and the newly founded Genders and Sexuality Alliance Network.

Truman State Truman State University

The Truman State Chapter has been consistently recognized for academic excellence and had the highest overall GPA of all IFC fraternities with a 3.60 and a new member GPA of 3.50, compared to the 3.26 campus average. The group raised $600 from calendar sales that benefitted the V Foundation for Cancer Research, $1,300 for the Kirksville Forest Lake Area Trail System through “Shave-a-DChi,” and $500 for RAINN, a non-profit that is the nation’s largest anti-sexual violence organization. The members of the Truman State Chapter also put together over 1,000 hours of community service. The Chapter’s membership was well above its 24-man average, with 44 active members.

Whitewater University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

The Whitewater Chapter was awarded the Outstanding Chapter Excellence Award by the University, the only recipient out of 21 Greek organizations on campus. The award evaluates community service, membership affiliation, academic achievement, chapter operations, campus involvement, and alumni relations. They collected over 1,800 hours of community service, requiring each member to complete at least 15 hours. They raised over $7,000 for the V Foundation for Cancer Research through a semesterly golf outing and the Bracket Challenge. In spring 2022, the chapter hosted an alumni rededication ceremony with 14 members participating.

The Delta Chi of the Year recognizes alumni who have distinguished themselves in such a manner that their peers recognize them across the United States, Canada and/or the world. Their contributions to Delta Chi are not a criterion of this award.

Brother Ryan graduated from Miami University with a bachelor's degree in business. He also earned a master's degree, with distinction, in business administration with a concentration in marketing from DePaul University in Chicago.

In 1999, he was awarded the Distinguished MBA Alumni Award by DePaul University, and the Illinois Institute of Technology recognized him as the 2006 Outstanding Leader in Industry.

Shortly after his graduation, Brother Ryan started working at W. W. Grainger. He served Grainger in increasingly responsible roles since 1980, including Executive Vice President, Marketing, Sales and Service. In that post, he was responsible for driving growth and providing industry-leading service across all of the Grainger-branded business channels. He also has held various positions in product management and has served as President, Grainger Parts, and President, Grainger.com.

In addition to his professional work, Brother Ryan is the Vice Chair of the Board of Trustees of DePaul University, serves on the Board of Trustees of the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry and is a Business Advisory Council member for the Farmer School of Business at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. He is also a member of the Civic Committee of the Commercial Club of Chicago, the Economic Club of Chicago and the National Association of Wholesaler-Distributors.

John J. Kuhn Award

The John J. Kuhn Award is designed to recognize individuals who have dedicated their lives to the betterment of the fraternity community.

TJ Burch Kansas State '22
& Kim Burch

T.J. and Kimberly Burch are the founders of the NMB Foundation, which was established to honor their son, Nolan, who died as a result of hazing. The Foundation seeks to ensure this kind of tragedy never happens again. Their mission is to assist young adults in recognizing and preventing the dangers associated with hazing. They utilize local schools and organizations through education and awareness to promote a full and honest conversation, providing solutions that help young adults combat hazing.

Their most notable tool in combating hazing is the documentary Breathe, Nolan, Breathe, an emotionally charged Emmy-award winning documentary that follows the events that unfolded when their son Nolan overdosed on alcohol and details the lack of urgency and care shown by fraternity members. In fighting through the pain of losing their son, T.J. and Kim are devoted to sharing Nolan's story and have created an interactive learning experience like no other. Their educational program has been part of the curriculum at schools and universities and they're partnered with at least six high schools, nine universities, and multiple Greek organizations, including Delta Chi. They continue to lobby to senators and house representatives to pass legislation that defines and criminalizes hazing and provides transparency from universities and Greek organizations.

Promote Friendship • Develop Character • Advance Justice • Assist in the Acquisition of a Sound Education

Within each standard, chapters are recognized in three differing operational levels: achievement, excellence, or excellence with distinction. Those that receive the achievement award are recognized for their significant improvements and are approaching standards in fraternity operations. Chapters that receive the excellence award are recognized for meeting the Fraternity's standards of operational excellence. Chapters that receive the excellence with distinction award are recognized for exceeding standards and demonstrating mastery of the Fraternity's standards of operational excellence.

PROPOSED

Changes to Delta Chi Law

While Convention is an excellent place for brotherhood, friendship, and camaraderie, it is, above all else, the supreme legislative body of the Fraternity. In addition to elections, the most important order of business is reviewing and voting on changes to Delta Chi Law. Due to the postponement of the International Convention in 2020, there were several key items that have been pending for a significant amount of time. This was a unique chance for collegiate and alumni members to shape the future of Delta Chi, which included utilizing an all-new electronic voting method. Below are the approved changes to Delta Chi Law following the 62nd International Convention. The changes, as provided below, are unofficial summaries and do not reflect the exact changes as written in Delta Chi Law.

PROPOSAL "A"

Clarifies that members and chapters cannot legally bind the International Fraternity to contracts and are not agents of the Fraternity.

PROPOSAL "B"

Changes items in Delta Chi Law that use the phrase "required" to "expected."

PROPOSAL "C"

Increases the fine for unauthorized initiations from $50 per unauthorized initiate to $100 on second violations within the same academic term.

PROPOSAL "D"

Adds a new section to charge membership dues for Associate Members who aren't initiated within four months (same academic term).

PROPOSAL "F"

The fee structure for dues for provisional chapters was reduced from three years to two years. The change reflects the propensity for most provisional chapters to charter within two years.

PROPOSAL "G"

Provides more flexibility to the Risk Management Commission by adding a new step and more options for corrective action before closing a chapter and sets up a procedure for new and additional opportunities for a chapter that is being proposed for suspension to demonstrate why they should be allowed to continue to operate. Final action to close a chapter will now require an affirmative action by the Board of Regents and raises the bar for votes needed to a four-fifths vote.

PROPOSAL "H"

Eliminates conservatorship and allows for interim suspension of a chapter following an incident.

PROPOSAL "I"

Changes the use of the word and designation "colony" and "colonies" to "provisional chapter(s)". Also changes "colonization" to "expansion."

PROPOSAL "K"

The Executive Director shall be the chief executive officer of the Fraternity, changed from chief administrative officer. This change reflects current practice within the fraternal industry and there is no change in responsibility or assignments as outlined.

PROPOSAL "L"

In all instances in Delta Chi Law, the phrase "Legal Advisor" is replaced with "General Counsel." The update is to reflect current practices within the fraternal industry. There is no change in responsibility or assignments.

PROPOSAL "N"

Places into Delta Chi Law the expectation that each Convention and Regional Leadership Conference will include a ritual exemplification.

PROPOSAL "O"

Each Region of Delta Chi is allowed to establish one virtual chapter which allows the participation of alumni who are not close to a population center. These virtual alumni chapters do not get a vote at Convention, as motioned by the floor in St. Louis.

DE&I STANDING COMMITTEE

The Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee is established as a standing committee of the Fraternity. It was previously an ad hoc committee.

ENCOURAGE CHAPTER GROWTH

Amendment adding a new subsection which allows the Board to waive provisions for membership or association membership on a case-by-case basis in regards to attendance at host institutions or registration at host institutions. The individual must be a registered student at an accredited institution. Simplified, it allows the potential for students at junior or community colleges to potentially join established Delta Chi chapters.

SCHEDULE OF DUES

Membership dues increase from $68 to $78 per member per semester. Initiation dues increase from $205 to $225 per semester. Chapter assessment increases from $850 to $950 per semester. Change in schedule of dues is delayed until January 1, 2023, as motioned by the floor in St. Louis.

Founders' Day Message 2022

I've always appreciated that we celebrate Founder's Day on October 13th. It is my favorite time of year, as autumn begins to show its full effects. As an undergraduate, I remember the fall semester being full of positive activity, from football games to social events, firepits, campouts, intramurals, seasonal celebrations, and more. October has it all.

In recent years, I still have a lot to look forward to in October. These days, the campouts are more likely with my three sons and their Boy Scout troop. My seats at football games typically have better sight lines. And if I'm at a fraternity event, odds are high that I'm there to coach on all aspects of fraternity rush (still the better word, but I'll not digress here). A different kind of positive stimulus, but still having a great time.

I imagine that our founders were in a similar state of mind as they took the initiative to start a secret society during that brisk New York October in 1890. It involved risk (discovery of such activity could have seen them all expelled from the University at the time), trust (in themselves and in each other), commitment (in time and the perseverance required to see their endeavor through), and most importantly, the belief and inspiration that they were doing something very positive. It must have felt exciting; it must have been fun.

We enjoy a similar sense within our fraternity right now. The opportunity for involvement has never been so open for undergrads and alumni alike. Fresh leadership and a successful Convention emanate the feeling that bright days are ahead and our next climb within the ranks of the fraternity world is at-hand. We commence, onward and upward.

I hope you will take the initiative during October to find your place to be involved and perhaps offer cheerful service within the Brotherhood of a Lifetime. Be it at your own chapter, a chapter near your current home, one of the many flourishing alumni chapters, or with the Educational Foundation, there are opportunities to participate, share knowledge and experiences, and have fun - for heaven's sake. On a large scale, or within your limited schedule, we welcome you. The red and buff carpet is rolled out. Won't you join us?

In the Bond,

Rod Arnold
